NEW REPUBLIC OF SPAIN WILL ASSUME DEBTS

Obligations of Monarchy to Be Carried Out by Successors.

BANKS UNDER GUARD; BARCELONA IS QUIET

(Associated Press.)

Official announcement in Barcelona that the Catalonian republic will come into the Spanish Republican Federation and cease to exist as a separate republic was the outstanding development in the Spanish political situation yesterday.

Other important developments were:

Alfonso and Victoria remained in seclusion in their exile hotel in Paris most of the day, postponing decision of future plans. The king visited friends during the evening, but retired early.

Spain was reported tranquil, although earlier in the day noisy crowds had released all prisoners in the jails of Barcelona.

France and several smaller republics recognized the new government headed by Niceto Alcala Zamora in Madrid.

The provisional government announced it would recognize all debts of the monarchy. This resulted in strengthening of stocks and securities on the exchange.

Victoria Kent, 35-year-old woman lawyer, was appointed supervisor of prisons and will inaugurate modern systems in the jails.

Marie, dowager Queen of Roumania, arrived in Paris to extend sympathy to the dethroned Spanish queen.

Will Recognize Debts.

Madrid, April 17 (A.P.).—The provisional government of Spain announced tonight that it would recognize all debts of the monarchy. The immediate result was the strengthening of stocks and securities on the exchange.

The announcement caused a feeling of optimism in the business and banking worlds and stimulated more confidence generally in the economic future of the country. Most of Spain's outstanding obligations are domestic bond issues. It is understood the $60,000,000 credit issue arranged by the former government through the J. P. Morgan interests in New York has not yet been drawn on.

Every bank in the city was guarded by several policemen today—outside and inside—but the precaution was unnecessary. There have been no bank runs or anything to suggest a tendency toward looting. The people continue calm and restrained and are attending to the normal affairs.

Barcelona Reported Quiet.

Barcelona was reported to have quieted down after short disorders this morning in which all prisoners were released from jails. The public was awaiting the results of negotiations between representatives of the Madrid government and the Catalonian republic regarding their future relationship.

Cabinet members here discounted the possibility of serious disaffection between the two republics. The Madrid delegation is attempting to persuade their confreres to accept what amounts to State autonomy within the Spanish republic, it was said, at least until both governments get on their feet and show they can really function.

The Spanish ministry so far is pursuing a careful policy of prudence and trying to tread on as few toes as possible. This is contributing to an

Woman Lawyer Made Spanish Prison Ruler

Plans to Change Almost Medieval Jails Into Modern Cells.

VICTORIA KENT.

Madrid, April 17 (A. P.)—A young woman lawyer, Victoria Kent, first of her sex to practice in the Spanish courts, is preparing today to play an important role in the new government of Spain and to introduce into the country's almost medieval prison system the most modern notions in jails.

The 35-year-old attorney, one of Spain's foremost feminists and the first woman to hold an official position under the new republic, has been appointed supervisor of prisons.

Her appointment was received by her with happiness, not unmingled with awe at the responsibility. She has always had an intense interest in prison reforms, especially in the welfare of women prisoners and juvenile delinquents.

"We have the republic at last," she said today, "and I hope that we will be able to make it worth while. I know we will."

She was born at Malaga. Her grandfather was English. She was educated at the University of Madrid and became one of the first woman lawyers in Spanish history.

She is not married and lives in a small apartment with a widowed friend. She was one of the organizers of the Lyceum Club, the first and only active feminist group in Madrid. At the time the club was organized some of the members wished to invite the Queen mother of King Alfonso, who was then alive, to be a member. But Miss Kent turned thumbs down on royalty. "No queen mother," she said, and she had her way.

She has never compromised with her republicanism.

The first case she ever defended, that of a chauffeur charged with violating traffic laws, marked the first appearance of any woman in a Spanish law court. She won the case. Recently she defended Alvaro Albornoz, now minister of public works, when he was tried with several others by a courtmartial recently for his participation in the December revolution.

Miss Kent is a firm advocate of legal divorce, which has never existed in Spain. She plans an effort

FLAG ENVOYS TO BE CHOSEN IN TEST TODAY

TWO WILL RECEIVE CROSSES OF HONOR

Capacity Crowd Expected to Witness Awards by Dr. Reichelderfer.

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, will present the Cross of Honor of the United States Flag Association to the boy and girl who are named today as "Envoys of Friendship" for the good-will trip to Europe in the essay contest conducted by the United States Flag Association, with the cooperation of The Washington Post. The finals in the contest will be held at 11 o'clock this morning in the auditorium of Central High School, Thirteenth and Clifton streets northwest, and will be open to the public.

William Tyler Page, author of "The American's Creed," will present the Patriotic Service Medals, the second highest honor of the Flag Association, to the ten students, boys and girls, who qualified for the finals, but failed to win appointment as envoys. The Old Glory Medal, awarded to the other 48 of the 60 students who qualified for the preliminary test, will be presented by Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of the Washington public schools.

With the exception of a few seats reserved for guests of honor, all of the auditorium will be thrown open to the public for the ceremonies, the best seats, of course, being available to those who come first. No reserved seats will be held after 11 o'clock, the time when the exercises start.

Army Band to Give Concert.

A feature of the awarding of these honors to the school children of Washington today will be a concert by the United States Army Band, and a specially selected orchestra from the Army Band also will play this afternoon at the broadcasting ceremonies, when the two prize winners will read their essays over WRC at 3 o'clock. At this time a short talk on rational patriotism will be made by Col. James A. Moss, president general of the United States Flag Association.

The six boys and six girls who face the final test today have been selected from thousands of their fellow students. The first contest, the writing of an essay on "The Typical American Boy," by the boys, and on "The Typical American Girl," by the girls, narrowed the field down to 60 contestants, chosen on the worth of their essays, school citizenship, general intelligence, apparent health, presonality and qualities of leadership. These sixty students, all representatives of Washington public or private high schools, then took a preliminary test in which they underwent a written examination and an oral quiz, six boys and six girls being named for the final test today. This test will consist of reciting their essays and a short oral quiz, four questions in all, designed to test the general intelligence of the contestant.

In conducting the oral quiz the jury of selection will withdraw to a private room and question each boy and girl separately. While this is being done William R. Schmucker, noted song leader, will lead the audience in singing patriotic and other songs. Mr. Schmucker also will lead in group singing at the opening of the ceremonies, in connection with the Army Band concert.

Patroness Will Attend.

Mrs. Jacob Leander Loose, patroness for the boy and girl "envoys" representing the Washington schools on the good-will trip, will be guest of honor at the finals this morning and will see the boy and girl she is sending to Europe picked by the jury of selection. Mrs. Loose is paying all expenses of the two students to be named today, and it was at her request that they were selected by the United States Flag Association, with the cooperation of The Washington Post, in the contest which is just ending.

Because of the wide attention attracted by this contest and the importance of the mission upon which the children are to embark, carrying a message of goodwill to the children of France and England, it is expected that Central High audi-

QUIT NICARAGUA NOW OR STAY AT OWN RISK, STIMSON TELLS CITIZENS MENACED BY REBELS

Refugees Say Bandits Concentrate Drive on Americans.

SANDINO AID DENIES WARRING ON CIVILIANS

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, April 17 (A.P.).—R. J. Salassi, local manager of the Standard Fruit Co. here, tonight reported that all Americans in this district were evacuating their homes and businesses in consequence of Secretary of State Stimson's warning the American Government could not undertake their general protection.

Salassi said he had received the following telegram from Alvin T. Rowe, American consul at Bluefields:

"Advise Americans this Government can not undertake their general protection in Nicaragua with American forces. The State Department recommends that Americans who feel insecure withdraw from the country or seek protection in coast towns, where they may be evacuated if necessary. Americans remain in Nicaragua at their own risk and must not expect protection from American forces."

Complications Are Feared.

The consul asked that this be given widest circulation.

Salassi said there were British subjects and other foreigners still in the region and that this might cause grave complications.

Refugees from outside the town said the outlaws appeared particularly interested in killing Americans and Jamaicans and destroying American property.

All was quiet in Puerto Cabezas today, and it was believed no attack would be made as long as naval protection was in port here. Fear was expressed, however, that as soon as the naval protection was withdrawn the outlaws and their sympathizers would attempt to overwhelm the local Nicaraguan National Guard force, kill Americans and destroy all American property.

Denies War on Civilians.

Mexico City, April 17 (A.P.).—Pedro Jose Zepeda, representative here of Augusto Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent leader, today said that if any civilians were killed in fighting in northeastern Nicaragua it was accidental and not deliberate.

Zepeda said Sandino's troops had orders never to kill civilians but they could not be responsible for the safety of civilians accidentally caught in areas where fighting was in progress and some civilians might have been killed in cross-fire. He insisted that missing civilians were merely prisoners of the Sandinistas and would not be molested or killed.

"We are not fighting civilians and have no complaint against them as long as they abide by the laws and do not molest us by calling for marine or National Guard protection," Zepeda said. "When they do that we capture them and hold them our prisoners, but they are not endangered."

He said the Logtown affair was caused when Sandino troops entered the town to get supplies and the residents there sent a hurry call for protection. On the arrival of a National Guard force, a fight followed.

Zepeda said Sandino now was in the Province of Segovia and had ordered attacks on Logtown, Cabo Gracias and Rama because there were National Guard and Marine forces in those areas.

Rochester Speeds to Bluefields.

Balboa, Canal Zone, April 17 (A.P.).—The U. S. S. Rochester, which is on special service in Central American waters, arrived here today from Corinto to take on supplies. She will leave tomorrow for Bluefields, Nicaragua.

The arrival of the Rochester at Bluefields will make four cruisers standing by the Nicaraguan coast for the protection of lives. The Sacramento, which left Cristobal Thursday, arrived at Bluefields early today, the Memphis is at Puerto Cabezas and the Asheville left Puerto Cabezas today for Cape Gracias a Dios.

The Rochester will swell the American-armed force in Nicaraguan waters. There are 174 Marines and 1,180 sailors on the four cruisers.

Rear Admiral Arthur St. Claire Smith, squadron commander, said

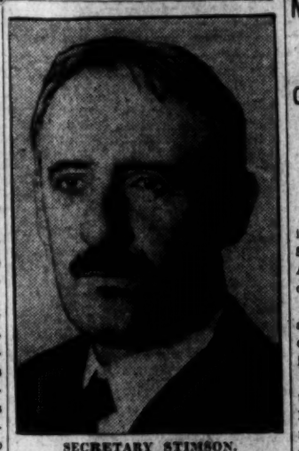
Stand on Nicaragua Outlined by Stimson

Says Government Can Not Use Forces to Insure General Safety.



SECRETARY STIMSON.

The message of Secretary of State Stimson warning Americans to get out of the interior of bandit-infested Nicaragua was sent to the American Legation at Managua and to the American consul at Bluefields.

The message, drafted by Secretary Stimson after he had talked to President Hoover late Thursday, follows:

"In view of outbreak of banditry in portions of Nicaragua hitherto free from such violence you will advise American citizens that this Government can not undertake general protection of Americans throughout that country with American forces. To do so would lead to difficulties and commitments which this Government does not propose to undertake. Therefore, the department recommends to all Americans who do not feel secure under the protection afforded them by the Nicaraguan government through the Nicaraguan National Guard to withdraw from the country, or at least to the coast towns whence they can be protected or evacuated in case of necessity. Those who remain, do so at their own risk and must not expect American forces to be sent inland to their aid."

Secretary Warns Troops Will Not Penetrate Into Interior.

NAVY TOLD TO GUARD SHORE TOWNS ONLY

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

With murderous bandit gangs moving across the country, Secretary of State Stimson yesterday warned Americans to get out of the interior of Nicaragua.

"Those who remain," he said, "do so at their own risk and must not expect American forces to be sent inland to their aid."

The Americans were told to go to the towns on the east coast of Nicaragua, where they will find Marines ready to protect them and warships ready to take them away. The Navy has two gunboats and a cruiser at Nicaragua, and another cruiser—the Rochester—has been ordered to join them.

Use of Necessary Force Ordered.

The orders sent the Rochester at Balboa yesterday by Rear Admiral Arthur St. C. Smith, commander of the special service squadron, sum up the immediate American policy in Nicaragua.

Admiral Smith told Capt. L. P. Treadwell, skipper of the Rochester, to offer the cruiser as an asylum for Americans; to use "all force in protection of life and property if the places you are guarding are attacked," but not to extend operations into the interior or beyond the limits of the towns which the cruiser is assigned to guard.

In his warning to Americans to get out of the interior, Secretary Stimson said that for the United States to try and give general protection to Americans in all parts of Nicaragua "would lead to difficulties and commitments which this Government does not propose to undertake."

Nicaraguan Policy Changed.

It was made known several days ago that the administration, while anxious to protect American lives, has no intention of protecting American property to the extent that other administrations have protected it.

The bandits—there appear to be about four bands of them—were described yesterday by a high administration official as "organized assassins," whose methods of warfare would shame even the Iroquois Indians of old.

Augusto Sandino, the bandit leader, was compared to an American gangster. Whereas he has been hailed as a patriot in some Latin-American countries, it was said, he is anything but that, a fact he demonstrated when he took advantage of the recent Nicaraguan earthquake to go on the warpath.

In traversing the dense jungle of interior Nicaragua, the bandits use canoes, according to Secretary Stimson. In attacking settlements and logging camps along the rivers, he said, they frequently carry away prisoners and then kill them in cold blood.

14 Slain by Bandits.

Altogether fourteen persons now have been killed by the bandits—eight United States civilians, one Marine captain, three citizens of other nations, and two Nicaraguan civilians.

In the last five years 109 Americans, including 40 Marines, have been slain in Nicaragua.

The task of combatting the bandits so long as they are in the interior now remains one for the Guardia, or native constabulary, to carry out.

The Guardia, which is being trained and built up by American Marine officers, has a strength of 1,400 men, while 500 more are being recruited.

As this force is whipped into shape, the American Marines in Nicaragua will be withdrawn. By June 3, all except 500 Marines will be out of Nicaragua, and these 500, who will remain to train the Guardia, will be brought back next January.

Stimson Adheres to Program.

This gradual evacuation will be in accordance with a plan which the State Department made public two months ago. For a time, it was thought that, because of the Managua earthquake and the bandit outbreaks, it might have to be abandoned, but

CATALONIA TO STAND AS STATE OF SPAIN

Conference With Republic's Representatives Results in Full Accord.

Barcelona, Spain, April 17 (A.P.).—Catalonia will remain part of the Spanish Republic until Parliament decides on a future government, it was officially announced tonight.

Col. Francisco Macia, provisional president of Catalonia, was reported by reliable sources as having agreed to accept the proposals of the three cabinet ministers who came here by airplane today. These included the suspension of Catalonian independence until a duly elected Parliament can determine her permanent status.

The Madrid delegates told their confreres there was no quarrel between Spain and Catalonia, and the Spanish Republic could give Catalonians the kind of government they wanted. They quoted Foreign Minister Alejandro Lerroux as saying in Madrid:

"Catalonia and Spain are not going to spilt. Of that you may be sure."

It was indicated later that Provisional President Niceto Alcala Zamora's representatives had offered Catalonia the most liberal form of self government, permitting them to adopt their own laws and approving virtually self rule.

As evidence that a concord had been effected, the Barcelona government issued a manifesto late today annulling many provincial appointments newly made by Col. Macia. This was interpreted as meaning the central authority will be given the opportunity to fill these posts when the conference is terminated.

The negotiations continued at a late hour since there were many details still to be agreed on. Short-lived disorders early in the day subsided when news of the conference became known. The people remained quiet in anticipation of the decision on the interrelations between the two newly-born republics.

RHEEM FIRM HELD 'ONE-MAN CONCERN'

The bankrupt Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. yesterday was pictured as a "one-man concern," with other officials acting as rubber stamps for 39-year-old Edmund D. Rheem, executive vice president.

Testifying before the referee in bankruptcy yesterday, John H. Holmead, treasurer, and George F. Hunt, secretary, asserted they were officials "in name only," and knew little or nothing of transactions engineered by the youthful executive.

Holmead told the referee he did not even prepare the treasurer's reports signed in his name; that he never recalled participating in a directors' meeting, and that he had no idea what was done with proceeds from the sale of the Shoreham Building.

Hunt said he never considered himself an official; that he never had any say in executive matters; that he didn't know where the company derived all of its earnings, and that he never saw any of the papers relating to the Shoreham Building transaction.

"You were a rubber stamp, then," said George E. Sullivan, attorney for some of the creditors.

"Yes, sir," Hunt replied.

"Mr. Brewer, Mr. Holmead and myself were merely clerks with titles," Hunt replied. "Mr. Swartzell didn't take an active part."

He referred to J. Newton Brewer, second vice president, and Luther A. Swartzell, president. Mr. Brewer could not be reached when creditors asked to examine officers yesterday. Mr. Swartzell was reported at Homeopathic Hospital. Referee Eden, before adjourning the examination until 1:30 Tuesday, said officers will

MIDSHIPMEN PARADE BEFORE ROYAL PAIR

Annapolis, Md., April 17 (A.P.).—The boys in blue, who some day will command American warships, paraded today for a pair of royal honeymooners, Prince and Princess Takamatsu, of Japan.

The prince, in the uniform of a senior lieutenant of the Japanese Navy, and his bride bowed and smiled their way about the academy for more than four hours, while cannon boomed the presidential salute of 21 guns, and the midshipmen and officers wore their dressiest attire for the visitors.

The prince, brother of the Emperor of Japan, made history for the Navy by obtaining amnesty for all midshipmen punishable during the day.

Capt. C. P. Snyder, acting superintendent, granted the prince's request for the amnesty order, a custom followed in the Far East by royalty upon visiting military establishments. It was the first time such a request had been made in the American Navy, academy officials said.

The royal pair arrived here in a motorcade of six automobiles from Washington shortly before noon, inspected most of the better known buildings during the middies' study hour, reviewed the parade, and then had luncheon at the home of Capt. Snyder, where the seven ranking officers of the academy also were guests.

The motorcade, bearing also representatives of the Japanese Embassy and of the American State Department, was met at the city limits by Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt, and a squad of Annapolis police. On the trip here from Washington the roads were cleared by State motorcycle police.

As the visitors stepped from their car within the academy grounds, to

DISTRICT TO FIGHT COAL PRICE-FIXERS

Weights Chief Says Some Dealers Charge More Than Year Ago.

A threat to take vigorous action against coal dealers, found guilty of price-fixing, was hurled last night by George M. Roberts, District superintendent of weights, measures and markets, coincident with his disclosure that prevailing coal prices here, instead of being lower, actually in some instances are higher than last year.

His announcement, made in a printed statement, was the first sweeping blast by him since the recent authorization by the District Commissioners for him to "conduct an investigation of the sale, distribution and prices of coal in the District."

"As early as possible, it is my intention to explore the ramifications of the admitted system of price-fixing being operated by at least one of the large wholesale coal dealers in this city," he declared. "I intend also, if possible, to ascertain whether there is a general system of price-fixing in existence here."

"The impression that there has been a reduction of coal prices all along the line in Washington as well as a reduction in the weight of the ton by coal dealers, does not appear to stand up under scrutiny, and in some instances, at least, there has been an advance in price. It is not fair to compare the prices for April this year with the high prices prevailing in winter. Prices are always lower in the spring. The fair way is to compare present prices with prices last spring.

"I have examined some bills rendered by dealers to consumers. In one case a consumer bought last May, seven long tons of coal which is widely advertised by name, and paid for same $99.75, which is at the rate of $6.36 per 1,000 pounds. The same coal in the present month was priced

Calvin Coolidge Says:

A member of Congress has suggested the possibility of going outside the membership of the House in electing a Speaker. Probably such action would be legal. Knowing the resourcefulness of representatives, it would be hazardous to say such action has not been before considered. If so, it was rejected.

Every one with any information on national political affairs knows that there are many men in the House qualified to discharge the great office of Speaker. No one without actual experience on the floor and intimate knowledge of the traditions of procedure could hope for success in the chair. Besides, the Speaker has always exercised legislative functions in connection with his office. That seems necessary if he is to have any power beyond that of a moderator. Custom and usage are so important in guiding human action that much would be lost and little could be gained if a Speaker were not also a representative. But if the House should look with any favor upon this sugestion, there are two men excellently qualified and available. One is the former Speaker, Frederick H. Gillett, and the other is Judge Finis J. Garrett, who was floor leader of the Democratic party before he went on the bench.

Party Issues Outlined By Jahncke, Shouse

Prohibition, Tammany and Local Economic Relief May Be Used by Republicans While Democrats Campaign on Employment Plank.

(United Press.)

From the two sides of the continent Democratic and Republican orators yesterday outlined party claims and promises which are likely to crystalize in leading issues in the presidential campaign of next year.

Ernest Lee Jahncke, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, speaking here over the Columbia Dixie network, continued the Republican effort to sell the high protective tariff theory to the South by stressing its alleged material advantages to that section and appealing for the establishment of a two-party system in States which have been Democratic since reconstruction days. Many of Mr. Jahncke's arguments were similar to those advanced two weeks ago by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee.

In Portland, Oreg., Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, told a party luncheon that Democrats propose to enact legislation during the next Congress "calculated to bring back to work the 6,000,000 Americans who are walking the streets looking for jobs after a year and a half of feeble trifling by the administration with their problems."

In yesterday's pronouncements, coupled with other recent declarations by leaders of the two parties, there is an outline of the anticipated strategy of the coming campaign, with Democrats basing their hopes on industrial communities where unemployment is widespread and in the West where dissatisfaction is rife over the agricultural situation, while the Republicans endeavor to offset losses in the territories mentioned by lining up Southern support on prohibition, Tammany and local economic issues.

Jahncke argued to his Southern listeners that their economic interests lie with the Republican protective tariff. He cited protective rates on Southern products written into tariff bills by Republican administrations and the anxiety of Southern legislators to obtain protection for their States even when elected on tariff-for-revenue-only platforms.

"Imagine, if you can," Jahncke

Richmond Police Hold Two in Jaynes Killing

Those held are Charles Crew, 20 years old, and John Kelly, 20 years old. They were picked up on suspicion by Richmond police and they are said by police to be unable to account for their possession of a car.

Detective Sergt. Robert Barrett, of the Detective Bureau, obtained pictures of the pair and showed them to witnesses of the hold-up in an attempt to have them identified.

If any of the witnesses are able to identify either of the pair Sert. Barrett will leave for Richmond today to interrogate the suspects.

Explosion on Private Yacht Is Fatal to One

Miami, Fla., April 17 (A.P.).—Harry Moore, 27, of Milton, Mass., was killed in an explosion aboard the yacht Kaiolan in the Miami River late today. The other men on the craft at the time escaped uninjured.

Capt. N. Armeda, master of the craft, and C. M. Russell, oil company representative, who were on the yacht, reported that Moore had gone to the engine room to obtain some keys when the explosion occurred. A portion of the deck was blown away and a hole torn in the hull.

Secretary Stimson announced Thursday that it would be carried out regardless.

No matter what step administration does in Nicaragua, it is going to draw criticism from Capitol Hill, it appeared yesterday. There is one faction that would go the limit in protecting Americans; there is another that feels that the United States has no right in Nicaragua now and never did have any right there.

In any event, there are plenty of precedents for the warning which Secretary Stimson issued yesterday to Americans in the interior of Nicaragua. In 1914, when Gen. Huerta refused to salute the American flag after his forces had arrested and insulted American sailors, the President advised Americans to withdraw from Mexico until order had been restored. In 1916 when Mexico again was in turmoil, Americans were twice ordered to move to the coast or to the border.

Fish Attacks Policy.

Representative Hamilton Fish (Republican), of New York, yesterday attacked the administration for conducting a "hit-and-run" policy in Nicaragua. He recalled the time when Ion Perdicaris, an American citizen, was captured in Morocco by the bandit Raisuli. This was in 1904, when Roosevelt was President. At the end of weary weeks of negotiations, President Roosevelt finally had his Secretary of State, John Hay, send the sultan a crisp message stating that the United States wanted "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking Democrat on the Senate foreign affairs committee, declared that the administration would be derelict in its duty if it failed to protect American citizens and property anywhere in the world.

Senator Brookhart (Republican), of Iowa, and Senator King (Democrat), Utah, again demanded that the Marines be withdrawn from Nicaragua.

Dispatch of Marines Held Mistake.

"It was a mistake to send the Marines to Nicaragua," said Senator King, "and it is a mistake to keep them there."

Representative Britten (Republican), of Illinois, chairman of the House naval affairs committee, had this to say: "I am not entirely familiar with the situation down there, and there may be local conditions to justify the State Department's attitude. But rather than show the white flag, I would send every Marine down there necessary to protect American lives and property."

More Raids of Bandits Feared by Fruit Head

New Orleans, April 17 (A.P.).—John J. Brownson, an official of the Standard Fruit & Steamship Co., said today Secretary Stimson's announcement that the United States would not guarantee general protection of Americans against bandit raids in Nicaragua would encourage the outlaws to further depredations.

The Secretary's statement, he said, was a disappointment to his company and to other firms operating in Nicaragua. He described the National Guard of Nicaragua as incapable of coping with the bandits and said foreigners in the interior would be at the mercy of the outlaws.

Mr. Brownson disclosed that messages had been received from Nicaragua at the company's offices here today, saying employes and National Guardsmen were reconnoitering along the company's railroad, scene of bandit operations recently, in efforts to recover bodies of Americans reported slain and also to determine the outlaws' strength.

Cuba May Recognize New Spanish Republic

Havana, April 17 (A.P.).—Dr. Jose Clemente Vivanco, secretary of the interior and ad interim secretary of state, today asked the Spanish Ambassador, Don Santiago Mendez de Vigo, for full information concerning the new Spanish republic, with a view to extending Cuba's recognition to it.

Such action probably would be taken, Vivanco said, early next week.

Spanish Fugitive Guest Of Portuguese Premier

Fleeing Duchess Held Until She Leaves Cash

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, April 17 (A.P.).—The Duchess of Alba, who was leaving Spain with about $65,000 in Spanish currency, was stopped today at Irun, on the frontier, and obliged to deposit the money there in accordance with an order from Madrid.

She then was permitted to proceed to Paris to join her husband, who had arrived there yesterday.

Three Brothers Drown When Boat Capsizes

Steubenville, Ohio, April 17 (A.P.). Three brothers drowned today in the Ohio River when their rowboat struck a dike in the back channel at Castonia, near here, and capsized.

Wife Spanking Called No Crime in Nebraska

Omaha, Nebr., April 17 (A.P.).—A husband may not indulge in wife beating, but an old-fashiontd spanking is another matter in police court here.

Mrs. John Kuttler came into court demanding a jail sentence—and a long one—for her husband. She said he beat her.

Kuttler, 25, said it was no beating at all, but a spanking, with a mother-of-pearl inland hairbrush.

The court advised them to go home and make up. They went home and packed up—to go separate ways.

SHAM IS ATTACKED AT EDITORS' SESSION

Politicians, Senate and Court Injunctions Criticized by Speakers.

Politicians, the Senate, and court injunctions against labor came in for scathing criticism at the hands of speakers addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors in the second day's session of their convention here yesterday at the National Press Club.

Headlining the day's program were Frank R. Kent, of the Baltimore Sun; Richard V. Oulahan, head of the Washington bureau of the New York Times, and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"What every public man here, from the President in the White House down to the most obscure member of the House of Representatives, wants is publicity," declared Mr. Kent. "There is not much use being here if he doesn't get it. Publicity is the life-blood of politics. Without it the game just can't be played.

Favorable Publicity Sought.

"Now, it isn't just publicity the politician wants—t's favorable publicity. The old adage that 'it is better to be roasted than ignored' is amusing but not true. There isn't a public man anywhere who in his heart subscribes to it. There isn't one anywhere who doesn't wince from newspaper criticism. And the higher they climb the more they wince.

"The truth is most of the politicians in this place are badly spoiled by favorable publicity. Nearly all of them are astute and assiduous seekers after it. They give out interviews and statements, make speeches, hold press conferences and make more or less a business of propaganda. What they want is to be taken by the newspapermen as seriously as they take themselves, and in the main they are.

"What they don't want is to have a newspaperman go behind the front and tell what sort of a man he really is without his false whiskers; what sort of a game he is really playing and why. This they resent. But what they resent more than anything else is humor. Make a little fun of one of them, and he goes all to pieces. Kid him a little and he goes crazy. I have actually had them cry about that.

Looking Down Urged.

"The thing that always irritates me about newspapermen is the unconscious habit so many have formed of looking up to these politicians who get into high or low office instead of looking down on them as they have every right to do.

"You know as well as I know that there is more bluff and sham, false pretense, faking, cheap posturing, posing and futility here than anywhere else, and the bulk of the birds who fly about Washington are not nearly so beautiful or good as they pretend, or as the newspapers, for one reason or another, picture them.

"It would be better for them, for the Government and for the country if the Washington correspondents were permitted to be a little more critical, given a freer hand to express their feelings about the humbugs, fakers, frauds and fools with which the Capitol is thickly cluttered."

Senate Aids Publicity.

Mr. Oulahan contended that the Senate had become the greatest news source in Washington, even exceeding the White House, with the result that newspapermen "feed that august body with the meat of publicity which enhances its sense of power and importance.

"And this is so in the face of the fact that the Senate has fallen into low estate before the none too critical or observing or interested eye of public opinion," he added. "The Senate realizes that state of affairs and wonders at it, but so long as an indignant public opinion is not directed through tthe ballot box at any considerable number of individuals in its personnel, it goes serenely on in the same old way, conscious of a belief in its power and pride of that belief."

In pointing out that as a rule Washington correspondents are honest and conscientious, he said judgment "of the Senate en masse has been formed through its own deductions based on the more or less unprejudiced press reports of the Senate's activities and those of individual members."

Green Hits Injunctions.

Mr. Green, in his talk on "Labor and the Press," said that organized labor believed in freedom of the press to which was closely linked labor's campaign against misuse of court injunctions in labor disputes.

"There is no movement established within our national and political life which defends more stanchly and uncompromisingly the principle of the freedom of the press than does the organized labor movement," Mr. Green asserted. "It regards this vital principle as a sacred heritage which it should and must defend at any cost. Figuratively speaking, organized labor may not agree with all that is printed and published, but it will fight for the exercise of the right of the press to enjoy the right to publish it. Organized labor will never compromise upon this principle.

"Labor is encouraged and heartened by the fact that more and more it becomes evident that those who control the press of the Nation are being influenced by the spirit of altruism and consideration for the rights of those who toil and serve so faithfully in industry."

Wisconsin Man Is Freed When Police Tighten Net Around Captors.

Monroe, Wis., April 17 (A.P.).—Fred J. Blumer, head of a beverage manufacturing company, was safe at home with his family tonight while the kidnapers who held him for a week were in hiding without the $150,000 ransom they demanded for his release.

Blumer, president of the Blumer Products Co. and director of the First National Bank of Monroe, was found unharmed in a Decatur, Ill., hotel early today.

The kidnapers, apparently fearing capture, authorities said, released Blumer on a Decatur street last night. He was given $20 of the money previously taken from him, his watch and diamond ring.

AREA NEAR CAPITOL FOUND VICE-RIDDEN

Social Hygiene Association Survey Suggests Plans for Improvement.

The worst vice conditions in Washington are to be found in the shadow of the Capitol—in the section south of Pennsylvania avenue, according to the social hygiene survey of the city conducted by the American Social Hygiene Association for the health committee of the Washington Council of Social Agencies.

Conditions need improvement in Washington, but on the whole the city is more free from vice than most American cities, the survey found. To correct conditions it recommended that agencies detailed to the situation cooperate more fully.

Police methods are fairly adequate in dealing with conditions except in regard to colored prostitution, the report stated. Officials agreed, it said, that the laws were inadequate and the courts congested, and that many prostitutes avail themselves of this state to secure delays or to forfeit the small amount of collateral they are permitted to post, and thus avoid trial and punishment.

Number of Convictions Small.

The net result of arrests under the various charges used in dealing with the situation showed that only 14 out of 87 cases made resulted in conviction, or 16.09 per cent of the total cases, the report revealed.

The survey recommended passage by Congress of laws eliminating fines in prostitution cases and providing for indeterminate sentences to institutions where such person may be kept long enough to provide an opportunity for rehabilitation.

It also urged a wayward minor act providing for young people between 17 and 21 years of age to the same or similar supervisory care of the courts, probation officers and training schools as provided for juveniles, delinquents, and apart from adults.

Facilities for caring for children infected with social diseases were held inadequate in Washington clinics, hospitals, and public schools and children's institutions. More beds should be made available for uncomplicated cases so that such cases could be hospitilized, the report recommended. More social case work is an obvious need, it declared.

Policewomen Are Lauded.

Washington has the best organized and administered policewoman's bureau in the country, according to the survey. Its records and reports of complaints received and dispositions of cases handled appears to be more complete and detailed than the general reports and records of the Police Department, and presents a clearer picture of the activities of the bureau than other branches of the Police Department, according to the survey.

The work of the bureau might be even more valuable if a greater degree of cooperation with local private agencies were secured, the survey declared. It also found that the bureau is understaffed.

It recommended that Congress pass the bill recently introduced increasing the number of policewomen and giving the bureau permanent legislative status.

Foreign Office Accepts Resignation of Padilla

(Associated Press.)

Ambassador Padilla, of Spain, yesterday received from Foreign Minister Lerroux formal acceptance of the ambassador's resignation and notice that Count De Montefuerte was in charge of the embassy here.

The ambassador plans to go to New York the first of May and remain until May 15, when he will sail for Santander.

SNELL STATEMENT JOY TO DEMOCRATS

Declared Confession That G. O. P. High Tariff Has Failed.

(Associated Press.)

The statement of Chairman Snell of the House rules committee in New York Thursday night that tariff protection has "gone the limit" was hailed by Democrats yesterday as an admission of their charges that the Hawley-Smoot act contributed to the economic depression.

Senator Hull, of Tennessee, in a statement through the Democratic national committee, said, "When a rabid high tariff standpatter such as Representative Snell confesses that high tariff protection has 'gone the limit,' this is proof positive that typical skyhigh Republican tariff polices have reacted to a most damaging and destructive extent."

"The Democratic party, in my opinion," he added, "should view the Snell confession as a sharp reminder to Democrats everywhere that the Democratic party could scarcely serve the general public more wisely and effectively than by waging with renewed vigor a Nation-wide movement for tariff readjustment downward and for a more liberal commercial policy that would, as in the past, fundamentally differentiate in both theory and practice the two political parties."

Representative Ayers (Democrat), Kansas, said, "I am glad to hear such a statement coming from a prospective Speaker of the House. Mr. Snell has evidently been hearing from his constituents at home."

Low Pipe Bidder Threatens Action

New York Firm Wants to Use French Goods; May Appeal to Stimson.

The battle of water pipe contractors over bids to furnish the District water department 230 tons of cast iron pipe fittings waged more furiously yesterday as a representative of the low bidder threatened to carry the matter to the State Department, if his client's bid has rejected because the products would come from France.

C. V. Maudlin, representing the Herbert Kennedy Co., Inc., of New York City, stated in a letter to the District Commissioners that it was obligatory upon them to award the contract to the lowest bidder as the specifications did not call for products made in the United States. Several protests against this award have been filed previously.

Meanwhile the purchasing officer has asked the Bureau of Standards for information regarding the respective quality of the American and French pipe fittings.

2 Men Kill Each Other In Fight Over Tin Cans

Versailles, Ind., April 17 (A.P.).—Orville Chamberlain, 35, Norwood, Ohio, and Jess Rodgers, 70, shot and killed each other in a pistol battle late today. Chamberlain's mother was wounded when she attempted to act as peacemaker.

Coroner J. F. Burst, who conducted an inquest, said Chamberlain and Rodgers had quarrelled about tin cans thrown over a fence by Rodgers onto the property of Chamberlain's mother, Mrs. Mary Lamberkin.

Features in Tomorrow's Post

Not any old Spanish customs are the current events making history in Spain. David Rankin Barbee in an article in The Washington Post tomorrow interprets the series of incidents leading up to the toppling of Alphonso from his throne and similar crashes of other royal dynasties of the past.

Out from the land of tinkling temple bells and acres of rich rice fields, doffing their titles and prerogatives to travel incognito merely as a tourist couple bent on "seeing America first," the King and Queen of Siam are to be feted here. Interesting sidelights into the life of the oriental monarchs are pictured also in the tabloid magazine.

"Slave Trading in the Old South" is the sketch of an institution fast fading as a memory. Out of a wealth of valuable data, a Washington historian and another authority on the subject turn back the years momentarily to throw new light on the issue that once turned the Nation topsy-turvy.

In "Montparnasse, the Hill of Madness," another article of real merit, the world's art center, is bared for a glimpse of a life to be found nowhere else on the globe.

In addition, The Post tomorrow offers exceptional coverage on the news events of the moment and provides a wealth of features and other absorbing reading.

said, "the political contradiction of the Southern Democrat who, elected to Congress after he has shouted at the hustings his advocacy of a tariff for revenue only, regularly comes before a Republican administration a mendicant in support of protective tariffs for the products of his home State."

Such a Democrat, Jahncke said, "is blood brother in politics to the insurgent Republicans," whom he described as exponents of a "political individualism" which "threatens more danger to the American system of government than does any third party movement which conceivably could be launched."

The break in the solid South in 1928, according to Jahncke, was caused by "the appeal to reason which lies in every private and public act of President Hoover," and he recommended establishment of the two-party system in the South by doing away with "those queer and un-American statutes upon which Democratic factionalism depends."

Shouse declared the Democrats "constitute the one united, coherent force for legislation" in the next Congress and added:

"Our efforts, I can promise after innumerable conferences with our leaders in the House of Representatives and in the Senate, will be constructive."

"No measure so subversive to the public good, so harmful to our business world, so much responsible for the continuance of the present era of commercial and industrial depression as the Hoover-Grundy tariff will have a chance to get through the Congress that assembles next December," Shouse declared.

Shouse attacked the farm relief legislation and the activities of the Farm Board, saying they represented a failure of the Hoover administration to redeem its pledge to put agriculture on an economic parity with other industries.

Communists Threaten Trouble.

However, such a program serves only to irritate the Communists, already enemies of the republic and they continually threaten to start trouble in such cities as Barcelona, Bilbao and Seville.

American Ambassador Irwin B. Laughlin visited Provisional President Niceto Alcala Zamora today to arrange with the proper authorities the exchange of business between the two nations. Senor Alcala received him cordially and asked him to continue handling all matters with the foreign office.

The visit implied neither a friendly nor unfriendly attitude on the part of the United States nor did it signify recognition or nonrecognition of the Spanish republic. However, the Madrid Press, without any authority from the ambassador, attached favorable significance to the meeting and considered it friendly.

VESSELS MAY SHELL REBELS IN AZORES

Ultimatum to Insurgents Threatens Revolters With Bombardment.

Lisbon, April 17 (A. P.)—It was officially announced tonight that military operations were started against the rebels, who revolted against the Lisbon government in the Azores, and that the garrisons on the two islands, Graciosa and Sao Jorge, had surrendered.

The statement said government troops from the cruiser Carvalho Araujo and the destroyer Damao, who had ben sent from here to put down the uprising, had occupied the islands and arrested the ring-leaders of the insurgents. The naval vessels made a demonstration at the islands before the forces were landed.

The Carvalho Araujo later this evening joined forces with the cruiser Vasco da Gama and moved to Horta, where preparations were made for an attack on the Island of Terceira, where the revolt also broke out. The rebellion originated in the Madeira Islands ten days ago and spread to the Azores.

Bombardment Is Threatened

Following unsuccessful attempts to induce the rebels of Terceira to surrender after leaflets had been dropped there from a seaplane, an ultimatum was sent to the insurgents that unless they surrendered the cruisers would bombard the Island. The population was given notice to leave the city of Angra do Heroismo.

Three former sailors aboard the steamer Guine, here from Madeira, told today of having carried from Funchal, Madeira, where vessels are in control, eleven mysterious passengers with suitcases bursting with bank notes.

The steamer fell nito the hands of the rebels at Funchal. The sailors said they had been recruited for service by the rebel junta and sent to the fortress of San Laurenco. At midnight they were led aboard the Guine under an armed escort and told to take charge of the regular ship's crew, who were kept under control at the point of revolvers.

Police Seek Men and Loot.

With all lights out, the vessel steamed slowly out of the bay and zigzagged about to escape the gunboats Ibo and Zaire, which were blockading the port. After a five days' voyage the Guine reached Muzeta, on the lonely coast of Algarve Province, in South Portugal, where the eleven passengers disembarked.

The sailors, who were placed under arrest here, said they believed the men were carrying bank notes taken from the Bank of Portugal in Funchal. Police were sent to Algarve to search for the men.

A wireless message apparently emanating from the steamer General Artegas was picked up saying Funchal was bombarded yesterday by the cruiser Vasco da Gama. Truth of the message was denied in official quarters in Lisbon.

Man Who Made Fortune As Ticket Broker Dies

Religious Educator Elect Dr. Findley

Atlanta, Ga., April 17 (A.P.).—Dr. John H. Findley, associate editor of the New York Times and former commissioner of education of New York, today was elected president of the Religious Education Association, succeeding William Adams Brown, of the Union Theological Seminary, New York.

Dr. Charles A. Elwood, professor of sociology at Duke University, spoke for the Protestant faith, criticizing speculation and exploitation. Rabbi Edward L. Israel, Baltimore, chairman of the commission on social justice of the Central Conference of Rabbis, told the association the Jewish ethical philosophy "abominates charity and desires justice."

The Rev. R. A. McGowan, Washington, said the Catholic Church favored a middle ground between the Communistic submersion of the individual in society and the complete individualism that is the basis of capitalism.

Campbell Soup Head Leaves $114,850,733

be greeted by Capt. Snyder, a band struck up the strange strains of the Japanese national anthem and the prince snapped to attention before shaking hands.

Wearing his uniform for the first time since he arrived in this country, the prince was patently uncomfortable. The princess, however, seemed to enjoy the occasion to the fullest, flashing perfect teeth that captivated the crowd that followed them on their tour of inspection. She smiled broadly when an American officer, bowing, tripped on his own sword.

(Associated Press.)

Prince and Princess Takamatsu, of Japan, dined privately last night with Ambassador and Mme. Debuchi and members of the Japanese Embassy staff.

Considerably fatigued by the past two days, they rested briefly after returning to Washington from Annapolis, where they spent the entire day inspecting the Naval Academy and reviewing the cadets.

Upon his return, the prince, the imperial family's representative in the Japanese navy, expressed "great admiration of the discipline" at the academy.

Free of an official program, the prince and princess will devote today to sightseeing at leisure. They will call in the afternoon upon Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who last year visited Japan.

France Offers Plan For Business Union

Organizing Europe on Trade Intended Offset to Austro-German Pact.

Paris, April 17 (A.P.).—An active policy toward establishing a European economic union was decided upon today at a meeting of government officials called by Premier Pierre Laval.

It was announced the meeting was called to consider the situation created by the proposed Austro-German customs treaty and to determine the best means of bringing about a European union. In addition to M. Laval, those at the meeting included Aristide Briand, foreign minister; Andre Tardieu, the ministers of finance, agriculture and commerce and several representatives of the Senate and House of Deputies.

The officials agreed it was an immediate necessity to relieve the wheat countries of eastern Europe. The French government today raised the amount of foreign wheat permitted to be brought into France from 15 to 20 per cent of the total amount used in making bread.

Davis Appointed Insurance Head

Succeeds T. M. Baldwin, Jr., as Superintendent for District.

Herbert L. Davis, of 1241 Girard street northwest, was yesterday named District superintendent of insurance to succeed Thomas M. Baldwin, jr., who recently resigned. The appointment becomes effective May 1.

Formerly referee and auditor of the District Supreme Court, Mr. Davis is a lawyer and a lecturer at the National University Law School. He is counsel for New York City on Federal matters and is a member of the advisory council of Riggs National Bank.

During the Spanish-American War he was legal adviser to the chief of Army Engineers. He also holds patents for perforated music rolls.

Employe of Air Field Is Sued for Divorce

Z. McClennan Brown, an employe of Bolling Field, was named defendant in a suit for absolute divorce yesterday by his wife, Mrs. A. May Brown, who charges him with intimacy with another woman.

Mrs. Brown states that her husband deserted her for the other woman, whom she names. She also claims that her husband is suing her for a limited divorce in Virginia, where he is now living.

Catholic Population Gain Shown.

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—The Catholic population of the United States for 1930 was 20,091,993, an increase of 13,391 over the preceding year, the official Catholic directory for 1931, son to be issued, reveals. The number of converts to Catholicism, according to the directory, was 39,528, representing a gain of 1,296.

Boy, 9, Injured by Auto.

Argument Blamed For Murder Rumor

Police Solve Mystery of Screams in Car Near Baker Death Spot.

Occupants of the automobile from which it was reported shots and the screams of a woman were heard, causing a radio broadcast early Thursday night calling Washington police to the vicinity of the Highway Bridge, are known, Arlington County police declare.

It was revealed that no shots were fired, but that the woman did scream during an argument with a male companion who was asking her home.

The report, coming from the vicinity in which the body of Mary Baker was found a little more than a year ago, caused much activity by both Washington and Arlington County police.

HOSPITAL MANAGERS ADJUST COMPLAINTS

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria, 523.

The board of lady managers of the Alexandria Hospital has announced that a thorough investigation has been made of recent complaints against the hospital and adjustments have been made as far as possible, considering the overcrowded conditions and lack of funds for the hospital work.

It was decided that an official register of nurses would be established and maintained by the nurses' alumnae outside of the hospital and the superintendent and board of lady managers will cooperate as far as possible in making it a success.

Mrs. Cooper Dawson, president of the board of lady managers, has issued an appeal to the friends of the hospital stressing the needs of a larger building and more adequate facilities.

The statement calls attention to the overcrowded conditions, and states that the hospital staff is composed of faithful women, doing the best in their power for the greatest number of people. The hospital, Mrs. Dawson says, is always well rated by the American Hospital Association, the nursing force is closely inspected by the Virginia Nurses' Association and the board of managers makes regular inspections to see that the patients' needs are cared for. The free work last year, she says, amounted to $12,858, and after deducting this from the receipts there was nothing left with which to purchase additional needed equipment.

The board believes that from $1,500 to $2,000 per room will be required for the new addition to the hospital for which the board has been planning, and not less than 50 rooms, in addition to service rooms, are needed. The needs are stated to be a children's ward, a separate branch for maternity work, a large and sunny nursery for the babies, private rooms, medium-sized, that can be moderately priced, and large, well-equipped service rooms.

The question of inaugurating a drive for funds has been discussed several times in the last few years, but has been postponed on account of the fact that it is not believed the time is propitious. Alexandria citizens have always responded liberally to calls, and the greater part of the money expended on the present hospital and equipment came from contributions.

The Blue Ridge Manufacturing Co., whose establishment for manufacturing work shirts is located at the corner of Columbus and Wilkes streets, and which has been closed down for the last two months, plans to resume operations shortly, and the manager will hold a conference with former employes at 9 o'clock this morning. As soon as the plant reopens between 75 and 90 women will be given employment. All former employes have been requested to attend the conference.

Notice has been received by Lieut. W. Milton Glasgow, in charge of the quota for the Citizens Military Training Camps, to the effect that Alexandria City and Arlington County, which comprise Lieut. Glasgow's territory, were the first city and the first county in this area to complete their quotas.

Henry Glover and Angelo Somers, Negroes living on Potomac street, are in the Alexandria Hospital seriously ill, Somers being totally blind and Glover partially so. The police suspect that the men had been drinking either denatured or wood alcohol. Police Capt. W. W. Campbell is making an investigation, and has requested garage owners and filling stations not to sel denatured alcohol to persons calling for it with jugs.

Two Negro women, who lived in the immediate neighborhod of the homes of these men, died in the hospital shortly after being taken from their homes a few days ago, and their deaths are being investigated. The contents of the stomach of one was sent to Washington for analysis, the police thinking it probable that they also had been drinking denatured alcohol.

The Alexandria Fire Department executive committee has voted the sum of $200 to Potomac Company No. 2 and Resquad No. 1 of that company, for their ambulance fund, the money to come from the proceds of the carnival which is to be held next week. Members of the Potomac Company will take tickets at the carnival.

Mrs. Flora Kreglow Ashton, wife of Trueman T. Ashton, of Portland, Oreg., died yesterday morning in the Alexandria Hospital after a short illness, and the body will be taken this evening to her former home in Arapahoe, Nebr., for burial. She is survived by two sisters living in Nebraska, and a sister and brother in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashton arrived in this city last week from their home in Portland to visit his father, Horace D. Ashton, and his brother, Dr. John T. Ashton, for several weks, and a few days ago Mrs. Ashton was taken ill and carried to the hospital for treatment.

WOMEN WIN PRIZES IN ZAIN AD CONTEST

Feminine Writers Lead Men in Compilation of First Week.

Are women better ad writers than men?

We didn't believe so, but facts are facts, and a check-up on prize winners in the first week of the Post-Zain Amateur Ad-Writing Contest shows that women who won prizes led men 97 to 79.

We haven't called in a psychologist or vocational expert to explain the phenomenon, but we believe it's because women probably read ads more closely than men, and so are better informed when it comes to writing them.

But the second week of the contest, now well under way, may prove our theory entirely wrong. Privately we hope it will. There's no reason why ad writing like ad reading shouldn't be a sort of a fifty-fifty proposition.

Most Professionals Are Men.

But you men will have to get busy to make it so. Come on, all of you. Just try writing an ad for the fun of it. Remember most of the professional ad writers are drawn from your ranks.

The contest is yet in its early stages, and if you haven't written an ad you have just as much chance in the next six weeks as you had in the first. Each week a first prize of $100 cash will be awarded, and 175 prizes in merchandise. And at the a grand prize of $1,000. It is not too close of the contest, there will be late to come in on any of these. And if you've won a prize, there's no limit to the additional prizes you might win.

The Post-Zain contest staff was busy all day yesterday sending out prizes won in the first week of the contest. They will be busy all day today, but expect to have the last one in the mails tonight.

Deadline Is Next Wednesday.

If you haven't entered the contest, read the rules published elsewhere in this paper, and consult the list of 35 advertisers cooperating with us in the competition.

Pick your firm, then write its name in the upper left-hand corner of a piece of paper about twice the size of a post card. Then write your ad on the paper. Really, it's awfully easy. On the reverse side of the paper write your name, address and phone number. You can write as many ads as you like about as many firms as you want to.

Noon, Wednesday, April 22, is the deadline for amateur ads submitted in the second week of the contest. Get yours in before that time.

Bank Head Is Inventor.

Here are a few more ad suggestions. Why not try to write one on the Federal American National Bank & Trust Co., at Fourteenth and G streets northwest. Here, and at its four branches, you will find the very last word in bank equipment, security and service. It was at this bank that the "cageless counter" was first instilled by John Poole, its inventor, president of the bank.

"Ask your dealer" about National Pale Dry Ginger Ale, a home-town product, that has all of the sparkle and rare flavor of more expensive brands. He will give you some pointers for an ad on National Pale Dry Ginger Ale and the Guggenheim Co. that should win you a prize.

Here Are Other Suggestions.

And there is the Westinghouse Refrigerator, sold by the Edgar Morris Sales Co., to write about. Drop around to see Mr. Morris at 736 Thirteenth street northwest, and let him tell you about his product. Or perhaps you know enough about the Edgar Morris Sales Co. and its products to write an ad on your own.

And while we are on the subject of things electrical, there is Barber & Ross, Inc., now featuring sales of the A B C Washer and the Gondon Ironer. There's hardly anything in the hardware line that you can't get at Barber & Ross, so there should be plenty of material for an ad here.

If you haven't tried an ad on Starlight Dry Cleaners, you will find in this firm, with its eight convenient branches, good advertising copy. They stress service, flawless work, and convenience. There's probably a Starlight cleaner in your neighborhood.

$100 PAID FOR ADVERTISEMENT

WAGE CUT ADVOCACY IS DENIED BY BARNES

Staggering of Employment Is Aid to Workers, He Asserts.

Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, yesterday issued the following statement:

"A newspaper story published this morning makes the statement that I have advocated wage cuts. Nothing could be farther from the truth. I have not advocated wage cuts.

"What I have advocated is that industry, in times of depression, keep the greatest possible number of persons employed by staggering employment.

"This depression, like all previous ones, is a pause in business progress. Necessarily business receipts and the total amount available to pay out for salaries and wages and for materials all shrink with a smaller volume of trade. To my mind, it is better to have the fullest number of persons employed, if necessary at shorter hours, than to have the fewer number living under the fear of possible unemployment held before their eyes by those out of work. That does not mean a cutting of wage scales or rates. It does mean a more general spreading temporarily of total earnings. Wouldn't any man rather work temporarily on shorter hours than to take a cut in his wage scale, if on the return of full time employment his wages automatically are restored to their former basis?

"After all, those who are directing business, with lower earnings or none at all, are trying primarily to keep business going for those employed, as well as trying to reabsorb the unemployed as fast as possible.

"Many enlightened leaders think that can best be done by preserving wage scales wherever the circumstances of individual businesses permit, and that policy is generally pursued."

Vicar From New York Preacher at Epiphany

Dr. Francis S. Fleming, Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish, New York City, will preach at the Church of the Epiphany tomorrow evening. At this service the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Washington will have their united thank offering, to be presented at the triennial convention of the Episcopal Church in Denver next September.

Dr. Z. E. B. Phillips, rector of the Epiphany, has returned from his Easter vacation and will be in his pulpit tomorrow morning.

CIVIC ASSOCIATIONS PLAN CLEAN-UP AID

Colored Population Sends Message to Campaign Committee.

A pledge of full cooperation by Washington's colored population in the 1931 clean-up campaign was received today at the headquarters of the Washington clean-up campaign committee, of which Frederic A. Delano is chairman.

The pledge was transmitted by the District Commissioners, who received it from the Federation of Civic Associations, a colored organization similar to the Federation of Citizens Associations. The Federation of Civic Associations is composed of 95 delegates representing 19 member associations. Dr. George H. Richardson is president.

Woolsey W. Hall, corresponding secretary of the federation, signed the message. The clean-up committee immediately advised him of the manner in which the federation and its member associations could cooperate best, urging that each of the latter conduct a separate campaign in its own neighborhood.

This is the same suggestion made earlier in the week to the Federation of Citizens Associations. The suggestions urge surveys of association neighborhoods and bringing pressure to bear on negligent or indifferent landlords.

The campaign will begin Monday and will end May 18. Before it concludes the committee hopes to have stimulated business, increased employment and beautified Washington for 1932, the bicentennial year.

DISTRICT TO FIGHT COAL PRICE-FIXER

to the same customer by the short ton, or so-called 2,000 pound unit, at $12.75, which is at the rate of $6.37½ per 1,000 pounds, a slight advance instead of a reduction.

"Examination of bills rendered to a substantial business concern discloses that in March, this year, it paid $6.80 per long ton for a certain grade of soft coal. In the present month of April the same concern was charged for the same grade of coal by the same dealer $6.35 per short ton, or so-called 2,000-pound unit, which is an advance in price. The manager of the concern purchasing this coal informs me that the advance in price will amount to between $35.00 and $40.00 per month on the quantity it customarily uses.

"Another consumer has brought to me bills showing a slight advance this month over last month on the same kind of coal purchased by him.

"In March of this year a dealer, who is sending out large numbers of circulars in regard to low prices of coal in April, sold to a customer who is poor and therefore buys a low grade of coal in small quantities, half of a long ton, 1,120 pounds, for $4.75, including storing. In April the same dealer sold the same customer half of a short ton, or 1,000 pounds, for which he charged $4.25, and the purchaser stored it himself. Deducting 40 cents from the March bill for storing, which is the advertised price for storing half a ton, this consumer's bill indicates that he was charged only 10 cents less money and was sent 120 pounds less coal.

"The only place, except in weight, I have found a substantial reduction is the wage they propose to allow the colored man who stores the coal by heaving it in on his back."

RULES FOR CONTEST

1—$10,000 in prizes to be distributed over seven weeks of amateur ad writing.

2—$1,000 in cash will be given for the best ad written by an amateur during the entire Post-Zain ad-writing campaign. To compete for this prize it will be necessary for contestants to write at least one ad about each of the 35 firms participating in the ad contest.

3—Grand weekly award of $100 will be given each week for the best ads during six periods of the ad-writing contest.

4—Five merchandise prizes for each of the 35 concerns will be given weekly during six weeks of the campaign.

5—Ads for the second week of the Post-Zain ad-writing campaign must be received prior to noon, Wednesday, April 22.

6—Ads submitted in competition for the grand award of $1,000 must be received prior to midnight, May 27.

7—Any one anywhere may compete for the prizes with the exception of newspaper employes and members of the advertising profession.

8—There are no obligations. No coupons to clip, no entrance fees to pay, no subscriptions to buy. One person may submit as many ads as he chooses. The more ads you write, the more prizes you may receive. The Post-Zain ad-writing contest may be entered at any time. Ads may be written about one or all concerns.

9—Write your ideas on one side only of a sheet of paper at least twice the size of a postcard. Place the name of the concern about which you are writing in the upper left-hand corner of the page. Place your own name and address, also telephone number, on the reverse of the advertisement and the envelope. Your contribution may be a slogan, a poem, a regular advertisement, a letter of testimonial, or an essay.

10—Winning advertisements will be selected by a committee of advertising experts. In the event of a tie, awards will be made to both.

11—All advertisements received become the property of the concerns about which they are written.

Ad-Writing Suggestions.

Prizes are given for ideas, not for grammar, spelling, punctuation, art work or layout.

Your ideas are likely to be new and original; your idea may win one or more prizes.

If you are not familiar with the advertisers about whom you are asked to write ads, study their service and merchandise; visit their shops, ask questions, and then jot down your ideas simply. Be brief and to the point.

If you can write a letter, you can write an ad. Get members of your family and your friends interested. Encourage them to write winning ads.

U. S. PRIZE BEAUTY WILL LEAD REVIVAL

Girl Who Abandoned Hollywood for Religious Work Here Tomorrow.

Great interest is already manifested in the coming of a new entrant in the field of evangelism—Edith Mae Pennington—the former national prize winner, who will make her first appearance in the East tomorrow night at the Gospel Tabernacle, North Capitol and K streets.

Beginning her life as an educational instructor in her native State of Arkansas, she suddenly found herself famous by winning the title, "The Most Beautiful Girl in the United States," with a prize of $3,500 in gold, against several thousand contestants. Her name and photograph were entered by her aunt while she was away from home.

Her surprise was beyond expression when notified of winning sectional honors and requested to come to St. Louis, Mo., for the final award. Instantly letters poured in from the United States and Europe offering all kinds of careers for her. Then followed a reception from the entire city of Pine Bluff, Ark., where she lived.

Shortly after she decided to make a tour through the South and West, appearing in many theaters, and was feted by the mayors and civic organizations of many cities. Arriving at Hollywood she had offers in motion-picture work and began screen work.

While engaged in stage work, she began to feel a strong urge toward spiritual things, and passing a small church in a Western city, was strongly impressed to enter, when she was converted in a manner that seemed miraculous. Feeling the divine call had been given she immediately left "footlights for the light of the Cross." She returned to her home town and began religious work there, finally founding a new church.

Calls for the evangelistic work came in, and she accepted several engagements in cities nearby with signal success. This is her first trip into the Eastern States, and she will be the guest of the National Capital for the next month. She will preach nightly, except Saturday, at 7:45.

RHEEM OFFICERS SAY THEY LACKED POWER

hereafter be required to attend all of the hearings.

Cross-examined by Attorneys Sullivan and William E. Richardson, Holmead testified that he was away on vacation when the deeds of trust on the Shoreham Building were released, and on his return was asked to sign second trust notes on the property as a matter of formality.

"I don't know what was done with the proceeds from the sale," he said. "I didn't inquire. I supposed it was properly credited on the books here."

Asked why he didn't make it his business, as treasurer, to find out what became of the money, Holmead replied:

"I had no authority. This was a one-man concern. Mr. Rheem attended to everything. I presume he attended to the treasurer's books."

Rheem Is Not Questioned.

Holmead frequently was advised by his attorney, George P. Hoover, who sat beside him. Rheem, who also sat nearby, was not questioned yesterday and took no part in the proceedings.

Hoover objected when Sullivan asked Holmead if he was willing to go through the customers' cards and ascertain which of those holding notes on the Shoreham Building had been paid. The referee sustained him.

"It would be a lifetime job," was Holmead's comment.

The company's "treasurer" testified he did not know Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey was in financial difficulties until the first of the year.

"I knew things were bad, of course," he said.

"What do you mean, you knew things were bad?" asked Sullivan.

"I knew that business generally was bad, that real estate was in a bad way, and that we were not making many loans," said Holmead.

Previously Hunt had testified that he did not know the company was in straits until two days before the bankruptcy petition was filed. He said he had been away from the office because of illness. The Saturday before the petition was filed he said one of the clerks stopped at his home and told him "something was about to happen." He was called to the office Monday and asked to sign his name to the petition for bankruptcy, Hunt said.

Two Men Explain Duties.

Hunt stated he was mostly concerned with the rental department, but occasionally signed papers he was instructed to sign. Holmead said he waited on the customers, performed clerical duties and kept the earnings account. The former official has been with the company 30 years, the latter 26.

Holmead was shown two letters by Sullivan, said to have been written to some of the creditors, advising them that the first trust on the Shoreham Building was going to be taken up and asking for authority to reinvest the funds. He said he had no part in sending out the letters.

Hunt, in the course of his testimony, disclosed that title to a number of the company's properties had been taken out in his name, but he did not know how many. He said he was willing at any time to transfer title to these back to the trustees.

Dr. Sizoo to Talk on Holland.

Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, minister of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, will deliver a stereopticon lecture on "Holland, the Land of the Dykes," Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. This lecture is under the auspices of the Westminster Guild and the Tuxis Club of his church. Dr. Sizoo is a native of Holland.

Rev. R. L. Wood Preaches Tomorrow.

After a rather severe illness, which kept him out of his pulpit last Sunday, the Rev. Robert Louis Wood, pastor of Petworth Methodist Church, has sufficiently recovered to preach tomorrow.

Dr. Darby Ingram Preacher.

Dr. W. L. Darby, executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, will preach Sunday morning and night in Ingram Congregational Church, Tenth and Massachusetts avenue northeast.

Preacher to Speak on "Fear."

Dr. Ernest F. Sappington will speak on "Fear" at tomorrow morning's services at the Church of the Brethren, starting at 11 o'clock. Dr. F. F. Holsopple is pastor of the congregation.

Church Federation Meets Wednesday

Rev. R. J. Clinchy to Address Annual Session in Calvary Baptist.

The annual meeting of the Washington Federation of Churches is to be held in Woodward Hall of Calvary Baptist Church on Wednesday, at 8 o'clock. The chairman will be Dr. A. R. Bird, pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims, who has served as president during the past year. After an appropriate devotional service, he will bring a brief message. Reports will be given concerning the activities of the Woman's Council, through its president, Mrs. Harvey S. Irwin, and other leaders.

An address will follow, the speaker being Rev. Russell J. Clinchy, pastor of Mount Pleasant Congregational Church; his theme will be "The Fiery Rains of Life." Reports will then be given by the executive secretary, Dr. W. L. Darby; the treasurer, James C. Dulin, jr.; and such chairmen of standing committees as are able to be present. Mrs. Elizabeth W. Murray will tell of the service which she has been rendering as hospital worker.

The officers for the ensuing year and other members of the executive committee will be elected.

Church Will Install Boy Scout Troop

Tomorrow evening at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, the Boy Scouts of America, with the executive officers will be the guests of the church and assist in the installation of Troop No. 21, recently formed from the ranks of the boys of the Metropolitan Church. Pastor John Compton Ball will be in charge of the ceremonies.

Pledge of allegiance will be led by Douglas D. Withers, assistant Scout executive. The investiture ceremony will be conducted by J. P. Hovey, field executive, assisted by Scoutmasters C. C. Mullady, Virgil Howard, Worth E. Shoults and Thomas Underwood.

G. W. U. Glee Clubs To Sing in Petworth

A joint concert of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of George Washington University will be given next Friday, 8:15 p. m., at the Petworth Baptist Church. Among the numbers sung will be, by the Women's Club, "The Lost Chord," "Lullaby" from Jocelyn Massenet's "Elegie"; by the Men's Club, "Suabian Folk Song," "Feasting I Watch," "Alma Mater."

Red Caps Group to Be Guests.

Members of the Red Caps Association will be special guests at the Second Baptist Church tomorrow evening, at which time the pastor, the Rev. J. L. S. Holloman, will preach on "The Negro and the Labor Question."

SERVICE TO HONOR DEAD MISSIONARY

Rev. E. H. Ballou Will Preach at First Congregational on Rev. E. F. Parsons.

There will be a Memorial service for the late Rev. Edward Field Parsons at First Congregational Church, tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock.

Dr. Parsons and his wife, Marian Tucker Parsons, were commissioned to a life of service as missionaries in China on Sunday, February 1, 1925, at First Church. Dr. Parsons was then a young medical student 27 years of age.

The occasion was the more outstanding because of the fact that thousands of Congregationalists were in the city in attendance upon the National Council of the American Board of commissioners for foreign missions. Hundreds of missionaires from all over the world, united with the President of the United States and Mrs. Coolidge in this unique service.

No one who was present can ever forget the impressive sight of the President and Mrs. Coolidge escorting the newly commissioned missionaries from the church, and surely no one at that time would have believed it possible that 6 years of service would end the career of Dr. Parsons.

Tomorrow there will be another service in old First Church quite different in character from that of 6 years ago—Dr. Parsons' work is finished and loving memorial will be held for the man who has done such splendid work in China and who was beloved by all with whom he came in contact. A noble character who "Though being dead yet speaketh."

"In our local paper, I read of the death of Dr. Parsons with deep sympathy for the little wife with her three small children. I have always felt a keen interest in their work, a personal interest, because I saw them go out, so young and inexperienced, so filled with enthusiasm for the work upon which they were entering. Were it possible, I assure you that I should be with you at the service to be held in his memory."

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, the minister of First Church, will preside and introduce as speaker, the Rev. Earle H. Ballou who is one of the missionaries of the American Board in North China. He will give the Memorial address.

Indianapolis Pastor In National Christian

The pulpit of the National City Christian Church on Thomas Circle will be filled tomorrow at both services by Dr. H. H. Harmon of Indianapolis.

Dr. Harmon is secretary of endowments for the National Board of Education of the Disciples of Christ, and is also director of the National City Christian Church Crusade.

McCartney Will Preach On St. Paul in Spain

Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney, minister of the Covenant-First Presbyterian Church, will use the abdication of King Alfonso of Spain for the suggestion of his sermon theme tomorrow morning. The subject is "Castles in Spain," which also is the title of a rather noted piece of literature done by an American writer.

Alfonso's passing brings into focus a thousand years of the history of Spain, filled as it is with romance and poetry. But the great event in Spain's history is the missionary adventure which St. Paul made there, and this journey will be traced by the minister in his discourse.

Common Man Clinchy Subject.

The common man will have his day in the church tomorrow morning, for the Rev. Russell J. Clinchy, pastor of Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, has chosen to preach a sermon on his usefulness. His idea is this: "The common man is the one on whom the final result of mankind's endeavor depends."

ARLINGTON CHURCH WILL BE DEDICATED

Dr. McAfee Will Preach in New Presbyterian Pulpit Tomorrow.

Dr. Cleland B. McAfee will preach tomorrow morning at the new Arlington Presbyterian Church, which he will also dedicate. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Walter Wolf, was a student of Dr. McAfee's at McCormick Theological Seminary. At the present time Dr. McAfee is secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of his church, with headquarters in New York City.

Mr. Wolf is a newcomer to this general community, but not altogether a stranger. For two summers he supplied the pulpit of the Arlington Church, and then, after his ordination by the Washington Presbytery, he accepted a call to be minister there a year ago. Under his ministry the new church has been erected. At the recent meeting of presbytery he preached the annual sermon.

At the evening session the Rev. J. R. Duffield will preach, and Monday afternoon the church will be open for inspection from 3 to 5 o'clock. Tuesday evening at 7:30 the Arlington community will unite in a fellowship service at this church, at which the Rev. Edward Latch, pastor of the Methodist Church, will speak.

The week's celebration will close with Holy Communion and the reception of new members Sunday morning, April 26.

Tomorrow Announced As Humane Sunday

Miss Virginia W. Sargent, president of the Church Humane Education League, announces that tomorrow is National Humane Sunday, followed by Be Kind to Animals Anniversary week. The observance of this kindness festival is increasing rapidly all over the country and the world, and Miss Sargent urges leaders of all religious faiths to do their share on Humane Sunday for a fitting observance in the National Capital.

Among the features for the special week will be a poster display and announcement in all the public schools, signs on street cars, displays in store windows and the Public Library and its eleven branches, radio and press publicity and Band of Mercy and other meetings.

Prof. Farley to Talk On St. Paul's Message

The Rev. Richard F. Farley, Professor in Bible at the Washington Missionary College, will lecture at the Mount Pleasant Auditorium, 1813 Columbia road, tomorrow, 7:30 p. m. His subject will be "St. Paul's Message to the Washington Churches."

Dr. Edna Patterson, of the Washington Sanitarium will give a health talk on "The Best Foods, the Beast's Foods and the Beast Food" at 7:15 p. m. Song service will precede the evening lecture. Special vocal and instrumental solos will be rendered.

DR. GREENE ADDED 4,000 TO CHURCH

Record for Membership Is Thought Held by Calvary Baptist Pastor.

A statement made on the Church Page last week, to the effect that Dr. John Compton Ball, pastor of Metropolitan Baptist Church, had hung up a record in taking in 2,300 members during one pastorate of some 25 years, has been severely challenged by a layman, who submerges his identity for obvious reasons. "I have no desire to get into print," he writes.

Omitting his name, which belongs to a very good man, who came from a very good town in a very good State, we will present his letter, with one personal reference to the Editor of the Church Page, who also has no desire to get into print, especially in a controversial matter, omitted.

"All honor and praise to Dr. Ball," says this letter writer; "he has done and is doing a fine, noble, outstanding work at Metropolitan Church. No one would say a word to mar it. However, 2,300 additions during the pastorate is not the record for Washington churches.

Nearly 50 Years With Church.

"Dr. Joseph Kelly has been with the Fourth Presbyterian Church nearly half a century (Dr. Miers is now the active minister), and it is possible something of a record might be found there.

"The late Dr. C. C. Meador (father-in-law of the late Hon. J. J. Darlington), founder of the Fifth Baptist Church (Dr. Briggs now pastor), and pastor thereof for over 40 years, probably received more than 2,300 during his pastorate.

"But the late Dr. Samuel Harrison Greene, nearly 41 years pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, probably holds the record, at least among the white churches of Washington, more than 4,000 members having been added during his pastorate. This is perhaps the most notable, all things considered, in all the church history of Washington.

"It is thought probable that the Nineteenth Baptist Church, colored, of which Dr. Brooks has long been the notable pastor, will top all records for additions."

Exact Figures Hard to Get.

These figures are impressive, and so are the "probables" that run through this letter. It is possible to get exact figures on the receptions of new members in all the churches in any pastorate, for a long experience with such things has acquainted the church editor with one fact: Churches and ministers keep two rolls and watch both very closely, one of new members coming in and of old members going out, and the other of who pays and how much.

This interesting letter opens up field of inquiry that is worth while. Let Dr. Miers and Dr. Briggs and the other dominies mentioned in it furnish the figures, and we will gladly print them. Dr. Ball hung his up for the world to shoot at. D. R. B.

Potomac Presbytery Meets in Baltimore

The Presbytery of Potomac, of the Southern Presbyterian Church, will meet in Baltimore in the Kenwood Presbyterian Church. The representatives from the Central Presbyterian Church will be the pastor, Dr. James H. Taylor, and Elders R. P. Clarke, principal, and James Trimble, alternate. At this meeting the reports of the work of all the churches in Potomac Presbytery will be submitted. The most important reports will be the report on home missions and the report on the benevolences of the church. During the past year, on account of the drought throughout the southern part of our country, the church benevolences have been cut to a very great degree.

The Central Presbyterian Church will make one of the best financial reports in many years to the Presbytery, having contributed to the benevolences of the church more than in any other one year in the history of this church since its organization in 1868.

Holy Land Scenes Given in Service

The Institutional Union Mission, whose purpose is to present the scenes of the Holy Land and the sacred word by means of the eye, will hold special services, known as "Charles Datcher Night," F. A. $25,000 Is Needed For Baptist Home Campaign Planned to Finish Structure, Devoted to Boys.

At a meeting of the executive board of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, W. W. Everett, vice moderator presiding, special consideration was given to the needs of the Baptist Home for Children.

C. Clinton James, secretary and treasurer, read a financial report showing that $25,000 was needed to finish the boys' building. Mr. James stated when the girls' and boys' buildings are completed, the property would be worth $250,000, and only $25,000 would have to be raised to complete the building enterprise. E. Hilton Jackson, president of the board of trustees, outlined the needs of the home and Dr. W. S. Abernethy, pastor of Calvary Church, suggested the churches put on a campaign to raise the $25,000 needed, on Mother's Day, the second Sunday in May.

This suggestion was unanimously adopted and committees will be formed in the various churches to carry on the campaign by the individual churches.

Officers Are Named By C. E. Union Board

The monthly meeting of the D. C. C. E. Union Board was held on Friday night in District headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. Building. The president appointed a representative from each denominational society represented in the union, to serve on the nominating committee for the election of new officers which will take place in June.

Mr. Laurence Morlan, of Friends Church, was appointed chairman of the committee. The auditing committee for the auditing of the union treasurer's books was appointed as follows: Junior Crowle, Ninth Street Christian Church; Conrad Willard, Keller Lutheran Church, and Bob McPherson, Wallace Memorial Presbyterian.

$336,364 Is Given To Church Fund

African M. E. Finance Board Has Annual Session in Capital.

The General Board of Finance of the A. M. E. Church met in annual session at the office of the financial secretary Wednesday.

Bishop A. L. Gaines, of Baltimore, presided. Visiting bishops were W. A. Fountain, of Georgia; Reverdy C. Ransom, of South Carolina and Louisiana; John A. Gregg, of Kansas, and M. H. Davis, of Kentucky and West Africa, and the regular representatives from the districts of the connection.

The report of the financial secretary, John R. Hawkins, showed that the total amount reported for the year ended March 31, 1931, was $336,364.03. The amount reported for the bureau of pensions was $137,362.72. The amount paid to pensioners, $108,819.00. The number of claimants listed in the bureau of pensions: Superannuated ministers, 422; widows, 1,530; orphans, 364.

3 Score and 10 Club Planned for Capital

Formation of a chapter of "The 3-Score and 10 Club" will be sought at a meeting called for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. by the Rev. Edward Fells, retired Congregational minister of Hartford, Conn. He explained that the organization, formed two years ago in Miami, Fla., and now numbering 1,200 members, set for its objective good fellowship among elderly persons, particularly those in their seventieth year and over. Persons 60 years and over are admitted to associate membership.

Clubs now exist in Miami and Homestead, Fla., and another is being formed in Havana, Cuba. The Rev. Mr. Fells said he intended to start the club here and continue a tour of organization in the eastern section.

Sentence Sermons

By DR. CARL C. RASMUSSEN
(Pastor of Luther Place Memorial Church).

The Presence of God

IT has been said that man is incurably religious.

He is likewise incurably theological. Every one speculates about his relation to existence. Hence every one has his own body of belief, his creed.

Without creed there could be no religion. There is in man's life nothing that can properly be called religion until he can say "I believe in God."

But religion is more than a body of belief. "The demons also believe—and tremble!" says the Epistle of James. Belief in God does not become religion until it ripens into relationship with God.

When man's soul awakes and finds that, though one be in the unlikeliest setting, even there the angels of God ascend and descend, even there is a gateway to heaven, then he becomes aware that life is vibrant with God. "The Lord is in this place."

The sense of the presence of God has been the common factor which has crowned and energized the diversified beliefs that have been held by the spiritual giants of every age.

When the feeling of His unfailing presence becomes true for us, our faith, too, becomes potent. When we have "tasted of the Lord" the great spiritual affirmations of the past cease to be only quotations. They become the language of direct and authoritative experience.

"In Him we live and move and have our being.
The Lord of hosts is with us."

CATHOLIC SOCIETY MEETS TOMORROW

Saint Vincent de Paul, of City, to Attend Service at Holy Trinity.

The quarterly meeting of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Washington which takes place tomorrow will probably be the largest this society has had since it was organized away back in 1857.

This meeting takes place at Holy Trinity Church, which is in all probability the oldest of all St. Vincent de Paul Societies. It will open with a mass at 8 o'clock at which the Rev. Henry P. White, S. J., the spiritual director of the local parish, will officiate, and in all probability there will be delegates from 37 parishes.

Immediately following the service in the church breakfast will be served to the delegates and friends, as it is expected many of the welfare workers of the Bureau of Catholic Charities will be present.

The meeting of the conferences will follow in the new auditorium of the school building at which George Cleary, of Holy Name Parish, and the president of the Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will have charge. Reports will be presented from the conferences in relation to charity dispensed, evangelical work at the jail and reformatories, and also from the committee on unemployment.

The principal address of the meeting will be delivered by the Rev. J. Coleman Nevills, president of Georgetown University, and also by the Rev. Joseph A. McEneany, rector of Holy Trinity; Dr. John O'Grady, head of Bureau of Catholic Charities, and Rear Admiral W. S. Benson, U. S. N., chairman of the National Catholic Charities.

Visitation Monastery.

The Visitation Monastery at Bethesda, Md., inaugurated Friday a novena in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, with a sermon on "The Power of Prayer," by the Rev. John Delaunay, and vocal solos by Mary Helen Howe and Delphine Barr Walsh. Others who will deliver sermons during the novena are the Rev. Joseph Nelligan, the Very Rev. Edward G. Fitzgerald, O. P., the Rev. James Smyth, the Rev. George Johnson, the Rev. Joseph A. McEneany, the Rev. James M. Hayes, the Rev. James J. O'Connor and the Rev. Thomas G. Smith. The music for these exercises will be under the direction of Mary Helen Howe, soprano, who will be assisted by Florence Yocum, Mrs. William Walsh, Mrs. Sinnott, Clement Geibel and a pupil of H. LeRoy Lewis. Louise McNearney will preside at the organ. These exercises will take place every Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, closing on June 12, the Feast of the Sacred Heart.

Catholic Radio Hour.

The Very Rev. Raphael M. Burke, prior of St. Dominic's here in the city and a well-known preacher, will deliver the third of his series of four sermons on the Washington Catholic Radio Hour, broadcast every Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, of which the Rev. Francis J. Hurney is pastor, through station WOL. Father Burke's subject is "The Resurrection Unto Life." He will conclude the following Sunday with "The Resurrection Unto Judgment."

Father Hurney will preside at the service, which will have as soloists, Florence Yocum, Mabel Latimer and William Cross, assisted by the Immaculate Conception Choir under the direction of Prof. Harry Wheaton Howard.

Round Table Discussion.

The Aloysian Round Table discussion group will hold the next meeting at the Aloysian Clubhouse, 47 I street northwest, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. This group, besides devoting a portion of the time to the study of the mass, also discuss current events and everyday problems that are met with by the Catholic laity. These meetings are open to the public and anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Boys From McKinley Will Sing in Church

At the Sunday evening service at the Calvary Methodist Church the special musical feature will be two numbers by a male quartet from the McKinley Manual Training High School Glee Club.

The popular service of familiar songs, led by Dr. H. M. Dudley, will again be the opening feature on the program. Those who will assist the Rev. Mr. Depp in the pulpit are C. E. Beckett, who will offer the evening prayer, and A. Stuart Vipond, who will read the Scripture lesson.

Trustees Are Elected By Unitarian Church

The annual meeting of the congregation of All Souls' Unitarian Church was held Wednesday evening. Stimulating and interesting reports were presented by the officers of the church and subsidiary organizations.

Trustees elected for a term of three years were Mrs. John W. Adams, Karl S. Hoffman and W. A. Wheeler. Miss Martha Blossom and Elmer Stewart were reelected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

SERVICE IN WORLD THEME OF BAPTISTS

Columbia Association Will Hold Sessions on Friday of Next Week.

World service will be the theme for the semiannual meeting of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, to be held in Calvary Church, Eighth and H streets, next Friday. Afternoon session will be at 2 o'clock and the evening session at 8 o'clock.

The officers of the association are the Rev. Samuel J. Porter, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, moderator; William V. Everett, vice moderator; George B. Bryan, treasurer; S. G. Nottingham, clerk; E. V. Shaver, assistant clerk; William W. Everett, chairman of the executive committee, and Dr. Henry W. O. Millington, executive secretary.

In China in 1904.

The Rev. Joseph Taylor, one of the speakers, went as a missionary to West China in 1904. In connection with his services as a church organizer, he has established Union University, the only institution of its kind in the three western provinces in West China, with a population equal to that of the United States. This university has had a remarkable growth and has faculties of arts, sciences, education, religion, medicine and dentistry.

Another speaker is the Rev. C. E. Chaney, who is executive secretary of the Burma Baptist Mission, which includes every branch of mission work carried on in that country, where Judson first carried the Christian message more than a century ago. This responsibility extendes to certain phases of work in Judson College, now regarded as the leading educational institution in the Orient, with its 920 affiliating mission schools.

Miss Lucille Adams, one of the leading social workers in America, is at the head of Rankin Social Center, Pittsburgh. This work is carried on under the auspices of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, and through the wise and efficient management of Miss Adams it has become one of the best-known social settlements in the world.

Will Tell of Brazil.

Brazil is at present attracting world-wide interest on account of the disturbed political situation there. The religious claims of that country and the particular work being done there under the care of the Southern Baptist Convention will be presented by the Rev. S. P. Watson, who has lived and worked as a missionary in that country for many years.

There will be a banquet between the afternoon and night sessions, served by women of Calvary Church, and at the banquet an address will be delivered by Theodore Sorg, a leading Baptist layman, of Newark, N. J., and president of the New Jersey Baptist Convention. Miss Lena Parks is preparing a pageant entitled "The Cross Roads," which will be presented at the evening session. This pageant will be the outstanding feature of this semiannual meeting.

Officers Are Elected By First-Covenant

At the annual meeting of the congregation of the Covenant—First Presbyterian Church, the following officers were elected: Trustees: Henry Butler, Clarence A. Aspinwall; Maj. Bruce E. G. W. U. Presbyterians Elect Club Officers

The Presbyterian Club of George Washington University held a meeting last Wednesday evening in Corcoran Hall of the university. Andrew V. Allison was elected president, Miss Dorothy Porterfield, vice president; Miss Myra Dunlap, secretary, and Mr. Wentworth B. Clapham, treasurer. The constitution submitted by Miss Florence Basim, chairman of the committee on organization, was adopted.

V. E. Lowder, religious work director of the University of Maryland, spoke to the group on the subject, "Deepening the Spiritual Life." The committee in charge of the meeting, Miss Dorothy Porterfield, chairman, served refreshments.

Capital C. E. Alumni Have Annual Meeting

The Christian Endeavor Alumni Fellowship of the District of Columbia held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening at the Calvary Baptist Church. Victor Russell, president of the fellowship, told about the work of the alumni during the past year and reviewed the prospects for the ensuing year.

The annual election of officers took place, resulting in the following elections: Miss Monette Hallam, president, Calvary Baptist Church; Mr. Merritt L. Smith, vice president, Sherwood Presbyterian Church; Miss Helen L. Lyon, secretary, Church of the Covenant; Mrs. James M. Pickens, treasurer, Christian Church.

IN NICARAGUA.

An outbreak of banditry on the Atlantic coast of Nicaragua has compelled the United States Government to send warships for the protection of American citizens. Notice is given that the United States will not undertake general protection of Americans throughout that country. Citizens of this country who do not feel safe are advised to go to the coast towns, where they will be protected.

In deciding not to send forces inland to protect Americans this Government is pursuing what long experience has shown to be the only practicable course. In China, Morocco, Persia, Mexico and other disturbed countries it has been found that expeditions of armed forces to rescue Americans are fraught with grave dangers. When President Roosevelt sent his famous message, "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead," he stirred the country, but it would have been another story if he had sent American forces to fight in Morocco. American gunboats go up the Yangtze, but they do not land marines or soldiers to be swallowed up in China. President Wilson made a grandiose raid into Mexico, but found it advisable to withdraw without capturing Villa.

In case of a widespread antiforeign movement imperiling all foreigners the powers concerned are compelled to move in, as they did during the Boxer uprising in Peking. But the government of any country, although it may be harassed by bandits, has a right to protest against the invasion of armed forces sent to protect foreigners. The authority of such a government is weakened when a stronger government interferes with its efforts to maintain order.

The national guard of Nicaragua is capable of maintaining order and protecting foreigners except in remote parts, where the rough country enables bandits to operate with impunity. The duty of protecting American citizens in the interior of Nicaragua falls upon the government of that country. If it is unable to protect them they should withdraw to a safe place. The United States is warranted in demanding that the Nicaraguan government shall exercise its powers to the utmost in protecting American citizens.

The bandit raids along the rivers have brought death to a number of American citizens. This fact does not justify a change of established policy in dealing with such situations. The marines stationed in Nicaragua are to be withdrawn according to schedule. The national guard is becoming more efficient. If the Moncada government should prove unable to cope with Sandino in civil war it will not be the fault of the United States, which has been more than generous in helping to stabilize the government. The United States has no obligation to employ its forces permanently in holding down banditry in Nicaragua. A collapse of government might compel the United States to move in to protect foreigners and restore government, inasmuch as this country will not permit any overseas power to occupy Nicaragua. But there is no indication that affairs in Nicaragua have reached a desperate stage. The bandit forces are small, however ubiquitous and murderous they may be.

LEARNING ABOUT EARTHQUAKES.

The study of earthquakes has reached a stage where the occurrence of earth tremors in a general area have been accurately predicted. Data regarding the frequency of quakes are of value to those who buy as well as those who sell earthquake insurance. The building trade is greatly concerned with the question of what types of construction best withstand such shocks.

Recent disturbances in Japan and Central America have demonstrated that American steel frame buildings have gone through earthquakes unscathed when other forms of construction suffered great damage. Information collected and systematized over sufficient periods gives valuable pointers regarding the motions of earthquakes from their central regions that will prove invaluable to engineers in safeguarding cities. For this work the latest instruments known to seismology are employed, and new uses have been designed for magnetic instruments used in geophysical prospecting.

Science is prying into the tight-locked secrets of earth, air and ocean. From the actions of magnetic waves sent into the bowels of the earth investigators draw pictures of the nether regions, and are becoming expert in detecting oil or mineral there, and whether the rocks may slip and cause an earthquake.

SPAIN'S TEST AT HAND.

A kaleidoscopic change has left Spain in a perilous condition. Two provisional presidents have assumed office. Alfonso announces from his French haven that he is still "king of all Spaniards," and his royalist adherents predict his recall to the throne.

The new government in Madrid begins the eradication of all things monarchical; royal estates are to be confiscated; life senatorships are abolished; princely titles are a thing of the past; church and state are to be divorced. All these decrees are easy to promulgate. They are the destructive acts, the tearing down of established order, the overthrow of ancient power and custom.

Constructive effort requires a vastly different quality of ability from the force that can uproot government an age-old tradition. Will the new governments undertake too much and fall because of failure to do the impossible? Promises come home to plague when power has been achieved. The sobering influence of responsibility settles upon any government, however reckless its beginnings. Once in power, the new leaders are obliged to consider the interests of all, the protection of society in general, to give heed to national credit, to insure income, to avoid riotous extravagance and new schemes, and at the same time inaugurate the sweeping reforms which enthusiastic reformers impatiently await. "The people have won, a republic has been established; give us our rights!"

The farmer wants help, the laborer wants work and more pay—and why not? Has not royalty been abolished? Are not the people in power? Here looms trouble. Proletarians who achieve victory so readily are loath to settle down to long periods of waiting for relief. They want action. They overthrew a powerful monarchy; their own government is in authority; they want to see results. The leaders soon learn the inevitable facts, the inertia that clogs change, but will the people give them time to solve the multitudinous problems connected with keeping the machinery of government going while they endeavor to install all the new reforms that are believed to be improvements?

Many times history has recorded the situation that exists in Spain today. It is unfortunate that the people who overthrow established institutions rarely have either the temper or the knowledge to admit of profiting by the experience of other nations. Hot with victory, they expect instant rewards. The next page of Spanish history will reveal whether Castilian character has the patience and reasonableness necessary to the successful establishment of a republic.

MRS. CATT OUTLAWS WAR.

Men may be ready to go to war, but Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the national committee on the cause and cure of war, has made up her mind that womankind shall live in peace. All wars, she says, are men's wars. Peace has been made by women, but war never. The time has come when women of the world should tell men of the world that they are going to put an end to war, regardless of what the men may do.

In the past men went to war over women. One has only to remember Helen of Sparta, later of Troy. It is not quite certain whether Mrs. Catt's committee would disapprove of that. But in these modern times men go to war over such silly things—commerce, for example, or national honor or freedom from oppression. The peace-loving sex can not tolerate such nonsense. Loyal women must rally around the white flag and save the belligerent sex from the results of their own blundering stupidity and vicious inclinations.

The method by which the millenium will be achieved was not revealed by Mrs. Catt. The national committee on cause and cure discovered 256 causes of war. Perhaps it will invent an equal number of cures. But all of them will doubtless hinge upon women taking their rightful place in the field of world politics. Let the leaders of the feminine peace movement oust the male quacks who are trying to make the world less belligerent through treaties and reduction of arms. Give the women who hate war a chance to heal up the ugly wounds of the world body politic. If a peace sorority of the universe once could get control of affairs in its own hands, the gods of war would be driven to inglorious graves.

Now that Mrs. Catt has mentioned it, the public will be surprised that all this has not been done before. Every one knows that the hand which controls the purse strings rules the world. Why, the women could refuse to pay taxes to support war. They could refuse to let their husbands fight. And if everything else failed, they could stop bearing children, and make war impossible. Mrs. Catt holds many trump cards, and she is not showing them to the inquisitive males who peep over her shoulder.

OFFICIAL LAWLESSNESS.

No portion of the Wickersham Commission's forthcoming report is awaited with greater interest than that which passes under the heading of "Government Lawlessness." Chairman Wickersham's remarks at Cincinnati center attention upon this phase of the investigation. Fortunately this and the other reports are to be issued separately, so that the public will have opportunity to study each problem as it is presented.

Indications are that the commission has found widespread lawlessness in the enforcement of law. "Experience has shown," said Mr. Wickersham, "that those charged with the high function of enforcing the law sometimes stoop to attain their ends by means as illegal as the acts they seek to punish or suppress." He points out that the commission's study of this abuse is "one of the first attempts to put in concrete form for public consideration this ugly side of our officialdom."

Official lawlessness can not be defended. Nevertheless, the public should not be hasty to condemn as criminals all officials who overstep their authority. Officers are frustrated in their efforts to bring criminals to justice by obsolete and complicated laws, inefficient court machinery, lax parole and probation practices and many other deficiencies. Crime keeps up to the minute in its methods, but law enforcement lags behind the times. No doubt a large part of what passes under the name of official lawlessness is only a conscientious effort of enforcement officers to make law effective.

This does not excuse officers for breaking the law, but it condemns Legislatures for not setting up a more workable system under which the public can be protected. Officers should be better trained in their duties, and more effectively disciplined. But the chief cause of wrongful enforcement of law will remain until efficiency is introduced into the system of criminal justice. It is very obvious that the elimination of illegal attempts at enforcement requires better laws as well as better officers.

Now it appears that King Alfonso has just taken a vacation to see if Spain can get along without him.

DISORDERED TRADE

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS,
In a Letter to the New York Times.

It has been demonstrated over and over again that the worst feature of every period of industrial disorganization and depression consists of the remedies offered for it. Surely the limit of confused thinking is reached when the president of a well-known university is moved to add his voice (The Times, April 13) to the miscellaneous outcry that improved methods of industry have caused production to outrun consumption and that the gains of increasing power over the resources of nature must be offset by shortening the hours devoted to production.

You do well to call attention to the fact that poverty and want have not been new in the world since the advent of labor-saving machinery.

Does not every release of labor from a particular task mean a shift of labor to some other task which yields larger benefits to the public? Does not every release of labor from a given task involve a release of corresponding purchasing power in the hands of the public for use in the employment of labor elsewhere?

Is it in order to suggest that our many good citizens who are helplessly deploring the alleged breakdown of the modern industrial system give a little thought to what that system consists of, how much authority it possesses and what its responsibilities really are? The authority of any individual outside of his own business is nil. If he attempts to cooperate with another proprietor in his own kind of business for the regulation of production he runs the risk of being haled into court for conspiring in restraint of trade. If it is a matter of adjusting the cost of product to suit market conditions and accomplish distribution they can do little without the cooperation of the wage worker, whose pay is the largest factor in all costs of production transportation and distribution.

With what justice, then, shall the existing system—as it is called—either as individuals or as a body, be held responsible for disordered trade, which obviously is the cause of unemployment? Clearly, the disorder is not wanted by them. It is ruining thousands of them and inflicting heavy losses upon all of them, but what can they do?

This is not to say that all laws against restraint of trade are wrong or that the employers as a group should have authority to fix the prices of all factors in production. It is simply to say that the modern industrial system is very complicated, a great free and voluntary system, in which every participant, whether his share is in supplying raw materials, labor, transportation or other necessary factors, has a right to bargain over the terms of his contribution and to withhold it as he may be able and disposed to do. Any person is free to enter any honest business and manage it as he sees fit, subject to the laws which compel competition (from which farmers and wage earners are exempt). He must do business under conditions as he finds them, and over most of which he has little control. He must buy materials at market prices, pay going wages for labor, and he can not sell above market prices. The law of supply and demand, the policies of labor unions, the restrictions of the laws against price agreements with competitors, hem him in on all sides; but if despite his most strenuous efforts to carry on he finds himself unable to sell his products, the cry goes up that "the modern industrial system has broken down!"

We live under a regime of liberty. There is no overhead authority to tell any man what work he shall do, what pay he shall have for doing it or what he shall do with his earnings. The alternative to this is the Soviet system. We have no law regulating an individual's spendings, savings or borrowings; no requirement that he shall save something against a rainy day, although what each man does in the management of these private affairs makes the difference between good times and bad times; between the stability which is so much desired and the instability which is so much deplored.

We have our free system of industry because we believe in liberty and distrust the wisdom of rulers. In the past the struggles of mankind have been for liberty—the right of the individual to order his own affairs. It is not many hundreds of years since the common man was attached to the soil and to a lord, his compensation being that he was provided with simple food, rough clothing and rude shelter. There are hazards in freedom. There are complications in a free and highly developed society. There is more risk in traveling at 60 miles an hour than by an ox team, more chance that a complicated organization will go out of order than that a simple organization—like the family—will do so. But 125,000,000 people can not live in this country in the state of comfort to which our people are accustomed without organized industry and an increasing capital investment in equipment.

We have developed a very highly organized and interdependent system of social life. We have all become specialists, exchanging services through the markets and by the means of money. What we call prosperity is a state of balanced relations in quantities and prices which enable all products and services to be readily exchanged. Hard times, as the economist says, result from a disturbance of these relations. Then we see the phenomenon, regarded as so perplexing, of an abundance of everything, but widespread distress. The trouble is not in lack of things, but in disagreement upon the terms of exchange. The fact that producers of different kinds of goods do not trade direct but sell in the market without direct relations with each other, is mainly responsible.

POST HASTE.

Spain's population figures will remain unchanged as soon as the traffic cops at the French border complete the exchange of outgoing Royalists for incoming Republicans.

Do you suppose it is because they can't learn Spanish that there are no Democrats in Spain?

Mr. Babson came down from New England to tell the President that business had turned the corner, and no one at the White House was rude enough to tell him that it was old news.

This little Nicaraguan war must not be allowed to develop into a "peaceful occupation," like that at Vera Cruz.

Barcelona is almost as large as Madrid. President Zamora and President Macia both say "After you" to Alfonso, but nothing to each other.

Republicans and Democrats alike in Congress look with covetous eyes upon Labor's majority of 54 in Parliament. Lloyd George was Liberal.

"Life senatorships abolished in Spain." Handwritings on the wall to be effective over here must be printed in the American language.

Record crowds at the big league games. The baseball bosses decreed a "dead" ball this year, but the fans are very much alive.

The stars wink differently at the lady astrologists. Mary saw yesterday as "a day rich in opportunity," but Genevieve warned against it as "a day of setback, impediment and restlessness."

One hundred years ago 15 per cent of the population of the United States were slaves; now we're all free. What's that you said?

Pretty tough on Ty Cobb when the former batting champion can't even make a hit at home.

In Jouett Shouse's latest California reference to the Administration he merely referred to its evasion, vacillation, subterfuge, double-shuffling, ineptness, cowardice and lack of leadership. He did not criticize Hoover.

Gen. Hines' Warning.

New York Times.

The address of Gen. Hines on veterans' relief, delivered at the annual convention of the Red Cross, should be in the hands of every member of Congress and of every war veteran. The question arises whether relief shall eventually cost the Nation as much as it spent on the World War, which Gen. Hines estimates at approximately $21,850,000,000.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MY DEAR LOUISE:

The night-club scene in the picture we saw yesterday afternoon gave you a wrong impression. The music and the flowers, the white linen and silver and crystal—all these were real enough; but the handsome people who behaved so well and yet were so gay and full of laughter—these were idealized characters in fiction.

Do you know why people patronize night clubs and drink bad gin until the wee small hours? Do you know why certain people keep up a feverish pursuit of pleasure, scarcely taking time to eat and sleep between parties and shows and impromptu sessions of whoopee?

It isn't because they are bad. It is because they are unfortunate. Their environment and their training have made them much like the spoiled infant that howls the moment it is left without an entertainer.

They have no mental or spiritual resources to make life endurable when they are left alone, and they must have constant amusement to escape utter misery.

You might envy them if you saw them in the midst of a gay party, but you wouldn't if you saw them on a rainy day at home. And since they can't spend all of their waking hours in the midst of excitement, they are wretched more often than they are happy and their hours of misery increase with the years.

The basic cause of their trouble is the habit of thinking always in terms of self. They never have outgrown the childish practice of taking all and giving nothing. They have no sense of duty—no feeling of obligation—no experience of self-denial. They simply haven't grown up.

I'm not exaggerating. I am painting the picture as it is because I want you to realize that the pursuit of pleasure usually is a flight from boredom, and those who make it a habit are throwing away their chance of happiness.

There are just two ways to live—to depend on the world for entertainment or to entertain yourself. And those who learn to be independent are the only ones who get much satisfaction out of life.

You are meeting numbers of new people. Observe the well-poised, uncomplaining ones and you will discover that all of them are in pursuit of something more substantial than "whoopee." They are trying to live up to some ideal—developing a taste for things that are fine—cultivating interests that are unselfish and big.

Don't misunderstand me. I want you to frolic with the crowd. But don't get your values mixed. Sugar is a necessary food, but it's a poison diet if you try to live on it alone. Love, DAD.

PRO AND CON

Voltaire and Jim Reed.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Recent visitors to the art museum who have seen the bust of Voltaire lately acquired have been impressed by a certain superficial resemblance that the great French philosopher, as represented by the artist, Jean Baptiste Pigalle, bears to Missouri's elder statesman, former Senator James A. Reed. And the resemblance is not altogether superficial or fanciful. The Pigalle bust, said to be a very close likeness, shows Voltaire more nearly as a student of his work might imagine him to look, gazing out upon life with a mellowed grimness, a look of irony tempered by the supple intelligence of a keen, philosophic mind.

No, Thanks, Mr. France.

Detroit News.

Since former Senator Joseph Irwin France, of Maryland, filed his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President of the United States a week ago, accompanying it with a broadsheet of five columns containing his platform, we have listened for the answering cry of welcome which might have been expected to follow this sacrificial offering. But apparently Mr. France has roared into the wind.

He is undoubtedly sincere, he may be able, but this country has no use for a self-starting presidential candidate. It has had not a few, but their names do not figure on the lists of America's Chief Executives.

Dwight Morrow, V. P.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Political gossip at Washington is grooming Dwight Morrow for second place on the ticket with Mr. Hoover. The horoscope of the Ambassador to Mexico carried a different augury, but as senator from New Jersey, Mr. Morrow, it seems, would fit into the Vice Presidency without a squeak.

Scuttling From Nicaragua.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

President Hoover and Secretary Stimson seem disposed to adopt a more lenient policy as to intervention in Central America. This is an extremely risky attitude to take and will certainly lead to trouble if the word gets around that the United States is not going to act firmly for the protection of American lives and property in these countries. Withdrawal of the threat of intervention would soon make intolerable the position of American residents there.

The decision has been taken to withdraw the Marines from Nicaragua at as early a date as possible. If this is done with the assurance that there will be hesitancy about sending them back in case developments which sent them there are repeated, there can be only one result. The civil conflict, destruction and ruin which shortly followed the withdrawal of the legation guard in August, 1925, will be repeated. Then the Marines will inevitably have to be sent back and the hard lesson of the last five years learned once again.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Democrat Kicks Against Wet-Dry Gabble and Insists Upon Statesmanlike Attack Upon Economic Problem.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Congenital and enthusiastic Democrat that I am, I can see nothing but Republican victory in 1932 if Democracy fails to present a constructive program. I agree with those sober observers, Republican as well as Democrat, whose opinion is that the moneyless masses are just now in a mood to give serious thought to the big problem of business rehabilitation rather than to the threadbare booze riddle.

Only a short time since two groups at odds on the liquor question, the dry and wet dames, met here to present their views to the President. And what did their proceedings amount to? Like politicians of the once stronger sex they claimed everything and conceded nothing, and there is no sign of a clear understanding of actual public needs in them. The preposterous Constitution tinkering proposed by such as these make it plain to thoughtful Democratic leaders that booze is no less a mocker in politics than in the bottle.

Those leaders should likewise be careful how they monkey with the Hoover personality. Hoover the man is admired in many Democratic homes where partisan ill will and unfairness have no place. That he is trusted was demonstrated in the 1928 election. Personal attacks in politics may possibly react disastrously, and at their best, if they have a best, they are generally a sign of weakness.

The Democratic party can make a strong race and perhaps win under statesmanlike leadership, and, for the good of the country, my hope is that the contest between the two great parties in the next Presidential election will be centered on the great economic industrial issues upon whose expeditious settlement depends the renewal of national prosperity. This is a nonpartisan objective, but it is proper for the parties to thrash out plans—and may the best plan win. HICKORY.

More General Observance of Humane Week Throughout the World.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Man's animal friends and helpers are to have their own week again, beginning with Humane Sunday on April 19, followed by "Be Kind to Animals" anniversary, from the 20th to the 25th.

This phase of the humane education movement is being more and more widely observed throughout the nation and the world every year. Many efforts are being made for a fitting observance in the National Capital and suburbs. Among the features of such observance will be press and radio publicity, addresses, announcement and poster displays in public and high schools, church schools and affiliated organizations and parochial schools; in the Public Library and its eleven branches and in the window displays of several large department stores; also in the street car signs. A thousand copies of the national humane poster for 1931 will be used in this way all over the city.

One of the most practical ways of celebrating this occasion has been going on for weeks and will continue as long as necessary, i. e., the humane rescuing and disposal of the scores and scores of cats which have been and will be abandoned in the Government improvement triangle, as different areas are vacated. We are hoping to rescue them all before building razing drives them from their shelters, and to provide for them a happy future.

VIRGINIA W. SARGENT.

George Washington Admonished His Countrymen to Obey the Law.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: One of the finest projects which newspapers and private citizens could undertake would be a campaign in favor of law observance. Some such slogan as "The law, let it be observed," if spread over the country by the newspapers would be of great value.

Law observance is a foundation of good government. If law is not observed the Nation will eventually fall.

Those were wise words of George Washington in his Farewell Address when he said: "The Constitution which at any time exists, 'til changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all * * * The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish government presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the established government."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

LOOKING FORWARD.

Here in this world of pain and strife
And doubt and loss and care,
Something there is that sweetens life
And makes it good to bear.
Laughter and song and memory
Set every balance true,
Man braves the winter just to see
The summer skies of blue.

Man would grow old in spite of care,
And old in spite of pain,
To all the burdens he must bear,
The chilling snows and rain,
He sets his face to hear once more
A gay child's laughter ring
And see beside his cottage door
The tulips blooming.

The bleakness of the cold, gray days
Is not remembered long;
Tomorrow, like his yesterdays,
May bring its share of wrong,
But friends will come, and love will stay
And mirth is sure to be,
And man is glad on earth to stay
Another spring to see.

M'DONALD DECLARES WAR ON NEW PARTY

Victorious Labor Leader Says Group Will Fight Mosley for Seats.

London, April 17 (A.P.).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, fresh from his victory in the House of Commons with a majority of 54 votes on a Conservative motion of censure, today formally declared war on Sir Oswald Mosley and other former Laborites, who have seceded to form a new party of their own.

Invading the heart of the rebels' political territory at West Bromwich, the prime minister said: "Let it be perfectly clear that every one of their seats will be fought. Those seats were won for Socialism and the Labor party, and the Labor party must get them back."

During last night's vote on the Conservative motion of censure against the government for its unemployment policy, the followers of Sir Oswald abstained.

The prime minister, referring to his own career in tonight's speech, recalled the days when he walked the streets of London "envying the very newspaper boys, knowing that however little they might be making," he at least was making less.

Ritchie Signs 200 Bills, But Kills 35 With Veto

Annapolis, Md., April 17 (A.P.).—More than 200 bills approved by the recent Legislature became State law today as they were signed by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, but 35 were given his veto.

Among those approved were measures permitting a referendum in Baltimore on the so-called blue laws, which regulate Sunday sales and amusements. Another taxes billboards.

Banker, 70, Ends His Life With Gun

John Marshall, Baltimore, Found by Clerk Shot to Death.

Baltimore, April 17 (A.P.).—John Wesley Marshall, 70, who retired last December 31 as senior vice president of the Safe Deposit & Trust Co. was found by a clerk shot to death tonight on the mezzanine floor of the bank. He was believed to have been despondent since the death last July of his wife, Edith Cushing Marshall. The coroner gave a verdict of suicide.

Mr. Marshall served the bank for 47 years, beginning as a clerk in 1884. Although not actively engaged in the business, he remained as a director and had an office in the building, acting in an advisory capacity.

The clerk, Russell Wyatt, was finishing his work and about 6 o'clock heard the report of a pistol echo through the deserted building. Going on to the mezzanine floor, he found Mr. Marshall, shot through the left temple. A police surgeon pronounced the banker dead. A daughter survives.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Chief Justice Dinner Host For Hoovers

Representative Capital Group Invited to Meet the President.

THE President and Mrs. Hoover were the guests at dinner last night of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Mrs. Hughes at their house on R street. Contrasting with the preceding dinners of the season given for the President and Mrs. Hoover by members of the Cabinet, the Vice President and the late Speaker of the House and Mrs. Longworth, the guests were bidden from Capital society instead of from metropolitan centers.

The Cabinet was represented by the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, and the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Charles Francis Adams, and Mrs. Adams. Congress found its sole representation in Representative James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania, internationally famous for his scholarly interpretation of the Constitution. Mrs. Beck also was present.

From the Federal service was Mr. Henry P. Fletcher, chief of the United States Tariff Commission, whose name continues, however, to be associated with the Diplomatic Corps in which he served for so long. Mrs. Fletcher was among the guests.

The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William P. MacCracken, jr., the former having been Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation; Maj. Gen. William E. Crozier, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Crozier, Miss Mabel Boardman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren.

President and Mrs. Hoover have issued invitations for a dinner at the White House on April 29.

Representative and Mrs. Fred A. Britten left last evening for Pinehurst, N. C.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Here For Szechenyi Wedding.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, of New York, will be a guest at the Mayflower while in Washington for the wedding today of her granddaughter, Countess Alice Szechenyi. Princess Serge Cantacuzene, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer in Chicago, has arrived in Washington for the wedding, and will be at the Mayflower until tomorrow before going to Philadelphia for a brief visit. The princess, the niece of Prince and Princess Michael Cantacuzene, will return to Chicago for the rest of April and will sail for Europe the early part of May.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Macculloch Miller, of New York, are also staying at the Mayflower while in Washington for the wedding of Countess Alice Szechenyi.

Mrs. Adam M. Wyant has returned to Washington from her home in Greensburg, Pa., and will attend the confirmation of her son at the Cathedral School. While in town Mrs. Wyant will stay at Wardman Park Hotel.

Mrs. Hamilton Wright has come from New York to Washington and is at the Mayflower after spending the winter in the Far East. She will be joined by her daughters, Miss Rosalind Wright and Miss Barbara Wright, who will come from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfons M. Baer gave a dinner last night at Wardman Park Hotel in celebration of Mr. Baer's seventy-fifth birthday. There were fifteen guests.

Mr. Monroe Mather Stearns is spending his holiday with his aunt, Mrs. Valentine Vickery, at 2100 Massachusetts avenue. Mr. Stearns, a graduate of the Friends School in Washington and of Lawrenceville, is a freshman at Harvard, and he flew to Washington with a group of Harvard men who live in Washington.

Lieut. Raymond Crist, U. S. N., and Mrs. Crist who left Washington some time ago for China where the former will be stationed, are now in San Francisco. They are accompanied by Miss Anne Devereux, sister of Mrs. Crist, who will go to Shanghai with them where Lieut. Crist will be stationed. Later Miss Devereux will go to Peiping to join her brother Lieut. James Devereux, U. S. M. C.

Boy Hero of Storm Offered Education

Washington College to Pay All Expenses of Four-Year Course.

Chestertown, Md., April 17 (A.P.).—Bryan Untiedt, 13-year-old hero of the recent Colorado bus disaster, who has been invited to visit President Hoover, was proffered a college education without financial outlay today.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of Washington College, sent a telegram to Bryan informing him that he has been awarded a four-year scholarship, including all fees, room rent, board and tuition, effective upon his graduation from high school.

The award, made in recognition of the boy's bravery and presence of mind in helping to keep alive a number of children stranded in a snowbound motor bus while the driver went for help, was approved by the college board of governors. Untiedt's home is at Towner, Colo., but he has been in a hospital at Lamar recovering from his ordeal. Washington College, a coeducational institution, is supported partly by State appropriations.

Farmers to Be Given Temporary Market

Temporary space for farmers is to be provided in the wharf area recently acquired by the District Commissioners until the second block is also obtained. The block, bounded by E and F and Tenth and Eleventh streets southwest, is to be assigned temporarily to the Terminal Refrigerating & Warehouse Corporation for grading and leveling.

When the second block, extending to G street, is acquired, the whole tract will be transferred to the supervision of the superintendent of weights and measures and markets. The farmers' market on B street, between Seventh and Twelfth streets northwest, will then be moved to the new market site.

Hawes Plans Summer Trip To Philippines

Daughter Foregoes Part in Business to Make Journey.

Senator Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, will leave Washington soon to make a first-hand study of conditions in the Philippines, hoping to ascertain whether the Filipinos are as earnest for immediate independence as their leaders represent.

Senator Hawes plans to leave here about May 15, accompanied by Mrs. Hawes and their daughter, Miss Peyton Hawes, and will sail from San Francisco on May 27. They will be absent until the end of August.

Miss Hawes returned to Washington some time ago from Newark, N. J., where she had launched herself on a business career, but the prospect of a trip to the Philippines proved an attraction greater than the pursuit of business.

A number of other members of the Senate have already sailed for lands afar on Government business. Senator Arthur R. Robinson, who opposes immediate independence for the Philippines, has already sailed for the Far East with Senator Tacker L. Oddie. They are accompanied by Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Oddie and will not return to Washington until Congress convenes.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Senator Key Pittman are also making a visit to the islands.

Atlanta Sportsman Is Sued For $100,000

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 17 (A. P.).—Conky P. Whitehead, millionaire sportsman of Atlanta and Havana, was named defendant in a $100,000 damage suit filed in circuit court here today by Selina R. Miller.

The praecipe was the only paper filed in the case, and E. B. Donnell, the plaintiff's attorney, could not be located for details.

Last year Frances Porter, a show girl, sued Whitehead for $250,000 after a disagreement aboard Whitehead's yacht, the Malvern, in Havana Harbor. Officers here made ineffectual attempts to serve papers on Whitehead in that case.

Mme. Jeritza Dinner Guest Of Prochniks

Ambassadors Among the Guests Who Meet Opera Star.

The Minister of Austria and Mme. Prochnik entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Mme. Maria Jeritza, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and in private life Baroness Popper, and a countrywoman of the minister.

The guests were the German Ambassador and Frau von Prittwitz, the Peruvian Ambassador, Senor Don Manuel de Freyre y Santander; the Roumanian Minister, Mr. Charles A. Davila; the Minister of Denmark and Mme. Wadsted, the Undersecretary of State and Mrs. William R. Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Gist Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre, Mrs. Sydeny Cloman, Miss Bell Gurnee, Mr. Theodore Marriner, the Counselor of the Legation and Baroness Hauenschield, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Spalding, son-in-law and daughter of the Minister and Mme. Commissioners Approve Underpass in Northeast

The District Commissioners yesterday approved the plan for a pedestrian underpass at Twenty-fourth street and Benning road northeast, in connection with the colored school and park development in that area. Authority will be asked in the next appropriation act to utilize a portion of the Benning road paving road fund to build the underpass.

Much of the underground work preparatory to erecting the underpass will be done this summer and fall. Capt. H. C. Whitehurst, chief engineer of the highway department, said. The project will cost about $10,000.

Drawings for Schools Get Official Sanction

The first drawings of schools provided in the 1932 District appropriations bill were approved yesterday by the District Commissioners. They are for the Alexander Shepherd School, to be built at Kalmia road and Fourteenth street northwest, and the four-room addition to the Ben W. Murch School, Thirty-sixth and Ellicott streets northwest.

Estimated cost of the Shepherd School, which is to have four rooms, is $107,875, while that of the Murch addition is $106,525.

Reception at White House Planned for Siamese Ruler

Function Here Will be Only One Participated in by King Coming to United States for Treatment of Eyes; Reaches Vancouver.

Vancouver, British Columbia, April 17 (A.P.).—The King and Queen of Siam arrived here today from the Orient aboard the liner Empress of Japan and spent a quiet day aboard ship preparatory to leaving on a midnight train for the East, where the monarch's eyes will be treated.

Others of the royal party, notably Prince Svasti, father of the queen toured around the city while their majesties spent the day in their suite. Prince Svasti represented the Siamese sovereign at the simple welcoming ceremonies here when Mayor Louis D. Taylor of Vancouver went aboard ship.

The royal train was scheduled to enter the United States at Portal, N. Dak., Sunday night. American officials will replace the Canadian escort at that point.

Stops have been arranged for Monday evening at Minneapolis and Tuesday morning at Chicago. The train is due in Westchester, N. Y., about noon Wednesday.

The king's illness, it was officially announced, made it impossible for him personally to take part in the receptions by Canadian officials. The attack of bronchitis which he suffered en route from Japan has been conquered and no concern was felt for his health.

During his stay on the East Coast of the United States the Siamese monarch will be given a state reception by President Hoover at the White House, but will participate in no other functions.

After an operation for removal of a cataract from his left eye, the prime purpose of the king's visit to America, the royal party will be guests on a Long Island estate. The return trip to Siam, some weeks after recuperation from the operation, will be via eastern and central Canada to the Pacific coast. The king is expected to sail again for Siam from Vancouver in August.

During the voyage, fellow travelers revealed, motion pictures taken by King Prajadhipok during his travels were exhibited. Except for the fact his illness during the latter part of the voyage made a diet of broths and milk dishes necessary, the king and other members of his party ate the same food as other first class passengers.

Queen Rambai Barni captivated official welcomers by her grace and beauty. Described as the "most beautiful woman in Siam" the queen has brought with her many trunksfull of the latest mode in gowns, selected by a Parisian dressmaker resident in Siam, who went especially to Paris to acquire the wardobe for the journey.

The queen's tastes are simple. Last night at the reception in Victoria she was dressed in a cloud gray gown which fell to her ankles. A sable and ermine wrap was about her shoulders. Queen Rambai uses no makeup and her glossy black hair is innocent of curling or marcel irons. A single diamond ring on one finger was her only jewelry.

A PREDICTION that human nature itself would be profoundly altered by new radio devices within twenty years was made by Gen. James G. Harbord, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, in a recent address to the Cleveland Engineering Society.

He pictured the transformations of society as he envisioned them, asserting that the social effects of devices already being developed would "equal the change wrought in the Western world by the printing press, the Reformation and the invention of the steam engine."

Foremost among transformations which he visualized was that of music. He predicted new instruments which would "challenge the talents of countless thousands who no longer attempt the violin and the piano."

He also foresees living rooms, "built with an eye to acoustic," on the wall of which would be a panel for a television and motion picture screen.

Homes equipped with a "combined radio, phonograph, sound picture projector, fac-simile and television receiver, a sound recorder and an electrical piano or other purely electrical musical instrument."

Great decentralization of cities as a result of the conduct of business affairs by television. Gen. Harbord sketched a picture of a meeting by television of a board of directors whose members were scattered throughout the country, and who sent radio signatures to important papers.

BROADCASTING television images on an experimental basis from New York will be begun by Columbia on June 1. Tentative plans are to have the new transmitter on the air every day in the week for six hours daily. The television transmitter will be located in the CBS Building, at 485 Madison avenue, New York, and will operate on a frequency band of from 2,750 to 2,850 kilocycles, utilizing 500 watts power, under the call letters W2XAB.

A precentenary day in anticipation of Haverford College's centenary two years hence will be observed at the Pennsylvania institution today (WMAL, 12:30 p. m.). The Haverford educational program will be discussed by President W. W. Comfort, President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, and President Thomas S. Gates, of the University of Pennsylvania, also will give their ideas of what is wrong with the American College today and how it can be made to contribute to the development of effective education.

Another self-taught pianist, Newman Levy, also a lawyer and playwright, will be heard during the "Keys to Happiness" program this morning (WRC, 11:30 a. m.).

The brightest of the new music and a number of hits of the last year or so are combined adeptly in the program which Harold Veo and his Wilkins Coffee Orchestra will present tonight (WRC, 8:30 p. m.).

THE twenty-fifth anniversary of the rebirth of San Francisco after the disastrous fire of 1906 will be commemorated in a one-hour broadcast over the Columbia chain tonight (WMAL, 9 o'clock).

WMAL is up to its old tricks again. No announcement or apology of any sort was forthcoming when the station cut off Nino Martini, tenor, in the middle of an operatic aria to put on a local dance orchestra the other night. The tenor was located again on WABC's wave length, but it would not have taken WMAL a half minute to tell its audience that.

Fordham University's Glee Club will give a half hour recital this afternoon (WRC, 2:30 o'clock), under the direction of Dr. Frederic Joslyn.

Improved reception here of WEAF's signals has been noticed since the installation of the new transmitter. There have been complaints that the tuning is a little broad, but on the whole the signal is much stronger and fading lessened.

A seldom played selection by Moszkowsky, "Malaguena," will be interpreted during the Washington Gas Light Ensemble program (WRC, 6:15 p. m.). Rudolf Schramm, its director, will play "Drifting," by Friml, as a piano solo.

"YOUR Swedish accent is a fake and you should not be allowed to broadcast," a radio listener recently wrote Wamp Carlson, who tells the stories in Swedish dialect in the Jesters' program.

"Well, I don't know," Wamp replied, "but my mother didn't know a word of English when she came to America and never did learn much. I do nothing more than imitate her dialect."

$50 Awarded in $10,000 Suit.

A jury in Justice Frederick L. Siddons' court yesterday awarded Daniel L. Leahy, of 1800 Brentwood road northeast, a verdict of $50 against the Liberal Clothing Co. Leahy charged that the company wrote a letter to the commandant of the Navy Yard, where he was employed, setting forth that he owed the company $59.40. He sued for $10,000, charging that he had been libeled.

Dare INTERPRETS the MODE

Aboard S. S. Ile de France, April 17.

A LOVELY lady always searches for the things that will save her time and worry, and give her more leisure for loveliness and the cultivation of loveliness. Wisely she does this, not, as the comic strips and cartoons show us, finding herself time and labor saving gadgets that take more time to operate, but adopting this and that little idea into her life that she knows will save her fuss and bother.

Once adopted, accepted and forgotten, they become a part of the furniture or things, and one gives them no further thought. Hanger covers, hat boxes with hinged sides that can set one on the other in the closet, a handy way to keep cut out recipes in place where they can easily be found, these and other little things are already known to the lovely lady of today. And if she is really lovely in heart as well as body, from whence all true loveliness springs, she is going to help her sister to know her secrets of time and worry saving.

No better way to do this than to send your suggestion, with a little illustration, if you can make it, however roughly, to Dare, and let her write about it here for other lovely ladies who need to know all that they can know about ways to save time and strain.

* * * *

And in the meantime, Dare has made you an illustrated leaflet with six or eight real time and worry saving "gadgets" in it that every lovely lady on earth will want to make in a spare half hour, and use in her home. One for the kitchen, one for the business woman especially, some for all women—well, you can so easily see for yourselves by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department, Washington Post, for the illustrated leaflet, that I guess I won't try to tell you any more about it. Maybe some of the half hints in today's very modernistic drawing will tell you more!

* * * *

Now just what is a "fregolia?" You could go on guessing from here to doomsday, and never figure out that it was a new kind of a little jacket chez Jane Regny, which makes it possible to alter the appearance of dresses unless you had your nice Dah-ray to tell you, now couldn't you? Well, that's it.

* * * *

I forgot to tell you that at the Gala aboard this ship the other night the captain had to start the dancing all alone, with a ravishing lady in his arms of course! Because people were too timid to start dancing. Oh, it wasn't lack of stunning costumes that held them back, but many huge waves that gave the ship entirely too much of a V—or so they thought. Elegance was rampant, and your Dah-ray wasn't hard to look at for all her 100-odd years, all in that white peau d'ange dress, long white gloves, white moire slippers, and the soft white "perruque" which looks so natural and is so flattering.

* * * *

But to get back to facts. There are some of those house dress leaflets left, and if you aren't interested in house dresses, you should send your envelope for one just the same, since they are such smart summer dresses in their own right.

* * * *

Tomorrow, again, you'll have Dare's weekly fashion letter. Of course you'll want to look for it in the big Sunday Post.

Au revoir!

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

"TWO weeks ago I was given a primrose plant ,which was then in full bloom. Now all the flowers are dead and the leaves becoming yellow. I have kept the plant in a semisunny place and watered it every day. What do you suggest?" MISS NELLIE D.

You must keep the primrose in a place where it will have sun all day. Remove all leaves and flowers as soon as they begin to show signs of wilting and water the plant every day. It is only by removing the flowers that you prevent the plant from going to seed. Once it begins to develop seed you have no more flowers. When the weather permits, plant the primrose in a sunny place in your garden.

"Please tell me the name of the plant from which I am inclosing a leaf, also the care required to keep it in a state of health." MRS. R. L.

Your plant is a flowering maple (abutilon). Keep it in a warm, sunny, well-ventilated place and water it every day. It has no insect enemies and is a most desirable house plant. Better give it some liquid manure or bonemeal at this time.

"Please tell me how to care for my pandanus. I have had it six months; should I now transplant it? If so, what kind of soil does it require?" F. G.

Keep pandanus in a warm, sunny, well-ventilated place and water it three times a week. Spray the foliage once a week, being careful to see that the water reaches both sides of the leaves. A pandanus must only be transplanted when it has become potbound. When this is necessary, use a soil composed of good loam, sand and well-rotted manure, equal parts.

"Please tell me what to do to overdome rust on my ivy plant? You can see upon examining the inclosed leaf how objectionable the fungus has become. Can you also tell me how to induce a growth of leaves on the middle of the branches? The terminal ends of the shoots are green and well covered with small but healthy foliage, but, for about 18 inches on all long or old branches there are no leaves. About once a month I give the plant some bone meal."

Mrs. A. E. C.

Better spray your ivy with Bordeaux mixture. Cutting back the plant would induce new shoots to start from the root. These would be well covered with leaves and you would have a more pleasing plant. There is no way to cause leaves to grow on old branches where they have fallen off, though they will grow on the ends of the shoots.

"Please tell me how to care for a pandanus." READER.

By reading the answer to F. G. in this column, you will receive the desired information.

"Please tell me how to slip a rubber plant." Mrs. K. L. M.

Make a diagonal incision two-thirds through the main stem of the plant, far enough from the top so that when cut off it will make a shapely plant. Place a small piece of match stick in the wound to keep the sides from adhering. Bind, with soft string, some damp sphagnum moss about the wound. Keep this damp. In a few weeks roots will be seen protruding through the moss. When a mass of roots have been produced, cut the stem off below the moss and pot the plant, moss and all, in good potting soil. Put it in a shaded place for a few days until the roots have taken hold of the soil.

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is supplied.

What Today Means to You

"ARIES."

IF April 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:30 a. m. to 8 a. m., from 1 p. m. to 2:15 p. m. and from 6 p. m. to 7:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 11:30 a. m. to noon and from 8 p. m. to 9:10 p. m.

Astrological influences on April 18 will quicken your spirits, clarify your vision, lighten your heart, and energize your physical make-up. Problems will shrink underneath the weight of your optimism and enthusiasm, and you will tackle things with a "do or die" spirit which is bound to bring you success.

The child born on this April 18 will have energy and pride for its best qualities. It will be a good student, very ambitious, and capable of excelling in most of its studies. There will be much jealousy in its nature, which will cause useless worries for it all through life.

You have a very restless nature and are driven by a superabundance of nervous energy to constant activity. Your hands or your mind are seldom relaxed, and you are a very unhappy loafer. If you had more continuity of purpose, you would accomplish more, but you flit blindly from one thing to another, with no set goal in mind. Nothing holds your interest for long, and you are a person who very easily becomes bored, and you are a determined hunter for new enjoyments. If you think life has disappointed you, you must realize that you have disappointed life, for you have not made the most of your talents or opportunities. By needlessly using up your strength you are squandering your natural reserves, and you are headed for a breakdown of some kind unless you give your human engine that care that you would give to any valuable machine.

You have much vivacity, a clever tongue, a generous and forgiving spirit, and are a born entertainer. You make friends easily, and because of your desire for change you will frequently change your "bosom pals." People stick to you better than you stick to them, for you have a fascinating personality and you know how to give others a good time. You are very fond of children, and you will never be too grown up to be one of them. You would be happier as a rover than settled down in a home. A marriage late in life, perhaps a second marriage, promises you happiness.

Stuffed Tomato Salads.

1 cup diced celery.
2 tablespoons chopped onions.
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers.
2 tablespoons pimientos.
1 teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon paprika.
1 cup stiff mayonnaise.

Peel tomatoes, cut out the blossom ends and scoop out part of the seeds and pulp. Sprinkle with half the salt. Invert on a pan and chill. Mix one-third of the mayonnaise with remaining ingredients. Chill. When ready to serve, stuff the tomatoes with the celery mixture. Place in cups of lettuce and top with rest of mayonnaise.

Banana Cream Pudding.

2 tablespoons lemon juice.
¼ teaspoon salt.
1 cup sugar.
1½ cups mashed bananas.
1 cup whipped cream.
1 egg white, beaten.

Soak gelatin and cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve over pan of hot water. Add orange juice and sugar and stir until sugar has dissolved. Add lemon juice, salt and bananas. Mix well and cool. Fold in rest of ingredients. Pour into a glass mold and chill until stiff. Unmold and serve with cream.

Nut Bread.

3½ teaspoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup dark brown sugar.
1 egg.
1 2-3 cups milk.
1 cup broken nuts.
2 tablespoons butter, melted.

Mix ingredients and pour into a buttered loaf pan. Let rise for 20 minutes. Bake 50 minutes in slow oven.

Children's Party Refreshments.

FRANCES M'DONALD

Ancestry.

DEAR FRANCES McDONALD: I notice quite a few men are breaking into your column, so will try to get a hearing there myself. Here is my story I am a university man, educated abroad and married to an American girl. I met and loved her before ever meeting her people or knowing her history. She is extremely attractive and I feel toward her as I never felt toward any other woman. However, I have learned to my disgust that she has a past. This fact seems never to have bothered her people in the slightest.

She has a younger sister, whose behavior is of the very worst. She is permitted to stay out until all hours with all sorts of men, coming in at 2 in the morning, noisy and unmanageable. All this is taken as a matter of course. If they were ignorant I could understand, but the thing that eats me is that they are of revolutionary stock on both the mother's and father's side. I try to tell them that with such ancestry they should be pillars of the best society instead of sitting in the kitchen gossiping about the neighbors and wondering whether their daughter will or will not get in before morning.

I could obtain a divorce if I wished, but would be willing to stick if they would endeavor to live half decently and avoid the well-deserved contempt of their neighbors. Can you account for people of such antecedents being of such a type? SON-IN-LAW.

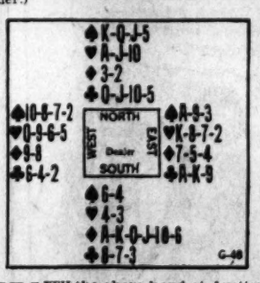
You have not stated anything about their antecedents—except that they were of revolutionary stock. There were good and bad here then as now. In fact a goodly percentage of those who settled in this fair land were rabble shipped here for their country's good. So the mere fact that they are of "revolutionary stock" would mean nothing.

Forget their origin and expect nothing from them but the sort of existence that befits their capacity. Keep as far from them as possible.

As to your wife's past. That, under the conditions you describe, is hardly her fault. If you love her, ignore everything but that fact. Begin to write the story from where the prince came riding by.

WORK ON BRIDGE

(This article is intended for the Auction and Contract Bridge beginner.)



WITH the above hand at Auction South would bid two Diamonds, to indicate a holding of six to the Ace-King-Queen. West would pass. North, with every other suit stopped twice, would bid two No Trumps; he would be almost sure of nine tricks at No Trump, while eleven tricks (a game in Diamonds) would not be so probable. East's strong hand would have no declarable suit, South would wisely refrain from rebidding his Diamonds, and West would pass again.

This hand was played at Contract at a table of comparatively inexperienced players. North became the Declarer, with three No Trumps the contract.

East led the Deuce of Hearts. West played the Queen, and North won with the Ace. Dummy's solid Diamonds were dazzling—blinding, in fact, as it turned out—and Declarer started them immediately, with an idea of weakening his opponents by forcing discards. After North had discarded a Spade on the third round of Diamonds and a Club on the fourth, he realized that his adversaries weren't the only ones who were being weakened; but he realized also that a change of suit would mean the permanent loss of his two remaining Diamonds. Two more Diamond tricks were played, and North parted with another Spade and another Club; Declarer reasoning that one Spade trick and his remaining Heart stopper would give him game.

West's discards, meanwhile, were a Spade and three Clubs; East's first two discards were Spades. When West and North both let Clubs go on the seventh trick, East knew that his three Clubs were good and threw a Heart. South led a Spade to trick 8; East won and played his three Clubs. He then won with his King of Hearts, and the contract was set. Do you see how Declarer should have made game?

The Correct Play.

As soon as the initial lead is made and dummy goes down, seven immediate tricks are in sight—six in Diamonds and one in Hearts. The immediate tricks, however, should not be taken immediately. Declarer should lead a high Spade to trick 2 to make sure of the two additional tricks required for game.

YOUR NAME WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFARRARI, Ph. D.

"David Lloyd-George" means "Beloved Gray Farmer." "Ellen Fitz" means "Sunlight Son."

THE family name "Fitz," as found in English-speaking countries, is generally an Old French form of the Latin "filius," meaning "the son." In most cases it is a shortened form of a longer name made up of "Fitz" and a personal name, such as "Fitzgibbon" (the son of little Gilbert), "Fitz William" (the son of William), &c. It was introduced into Great Britain by the Norman settlers and conquerors. However, especially in Ireland, a name beginning with "Fitz" by no means always indicates Norman ancestry. In that country many families adopted the prefix "Fitz" as a substitute for "Mac," sometimes because of a belief that "Fitz" was more aristocratic. It is not generally known that "Fitz" is also found as a purely German name. It has come down to us from two quite different German sources. It is sometimes a modern diminutive form of the Old High German "Frido." The personal name "Frido" means "peace," "safety" and "protection." In a few cases "Fitz" is a diminutive form of "Wido," another old Germanic personal name. "Wido" means "the forest."

The family name "O'Keefe" (also written "O'Keefe," "Keeffe," &c.) is of Celtic origin. Its source is the Irish "O Caoimh," which means "the descendent of Caomh." The personal name "Caomh" means "beautiful," "noble" and lovable." The O'Keefes derive their name and descent from a certain Art Caomh, who was the son of a tenth century king of Munster. One of the distinguished bearers of this name in more recent times was John O'Keefe (1747-1833), an Irish dramatist.

TEMPER TANTRUMS AT ALL AGES.

ELIZABETH SULLIVAN writes: "Often children grow into maturity with sensitive emotional states that react to even the slightest frustration with these same temper tantrums. Mother may have a tantrum when father brings home guests to dinner unexpectedly. Father may have one when mother is not giving him all the attention he wishes."

We talk a great deal about temper tantrums in children older than 1 year, but we lose sight of the fact that they are but a small part of the picture. Rage, resulting from restraint, is either an inherited trait—an instinct—or pretty near to being one. When we hold the legs of a newborn babe so that he can not throw them around he resents the interference and cries with rage. This is the base picture of the series. The others use the same color scheme or follow the same harmony. The college girl is restrained from doing something that she wants to do. She throws a fit of crying or crying mixed with laughing. Hers takes the form of what is called major hysteria. There are multiple variations of the hysteria theme, just as hymns can be "ragged."

The man who develops a blind rage paints another picture from the same basic pattern. It is a far cry from a new-born babe crying when his arms are pinned to the man who kills with a gun because he is swept by rage, but the difference is in details. The principle is the same.

I am not sure we are handling temper tantrums in older children more wisely than by the old method. At the present time we do not often see a parent, overcome with rage, beating up his child to cure him of temper tantrums. There is a tendency to resume whipping, both in the school and in the home, but not to resume the old-time bull fights between mad adults and mad children.

It is generally agreed that major hysteria is on the decline, and many think it will disappear as epidemic hysteria has. So we are making headway.

We do need to have more people know about the relation of frustration and restraint to hyperemotionalism at both ends of the line. We need to know about it as a quality of infancy. We need to know how to curb the excess of reaction and limit the harm it does. Even more do we need to know how this same thread seen in infancy runs all through childhood, adolescence, and then spreads all out over adult life—running here into one picture, and there into another; causing pleasure in rare instances and pain in many.

Policewomen to Wear Tailored Blue Uniforms

Washington policewomen will all soon be arrayed in blue tailored suits at $35.50 each, but they will bear no insignia that will identify them further.

The District Commissioners yesterday authorized the purchase of 23 uniforms for the members of the Women's Bureau. Heretofore, they have won only civilian clothes.

Land for Manor Park School Is Purchased

Another tract of land needed to complete the site for the proposed Manor Park High School at Fifth and Van Buren streets, northwest, was purchased yesterday by the District Commissioners for $6,750 from H. L. Thornton.

The other portion of the site was bought on March 24. No appropriation is available for erection of the building this year.

NEW INDIAN VICEROY IS WARMLY GREETED

Willingdon Pledges Self in Bombay Speech to Work for Freedom.

Bombay, India, April 17 (A.P.).—Lord Willingdon, new viceroy to India, who arrived today to assume his duties, pledged himself to work for a free India with full dominion status in the British Empire.

Replying to Bombay's greetings, he appealed to the princes and people to help him "lead India rapidly toward the goal of responsible government and a position of absolutely equal partnership with other dominions under the British crown.

"I shall endeavor to carry on the great work initiated by Lord Irwin, whose sympathy, patience, courage and earnestness of purpose secured him the abiding affection, regard and admiration of all classes."

India welcomed Lord Willingdon back to its shores with old-fashioned cordiality and hospitality, remembering that he had been Governor of Bombay and Madras until he left six years ago to be Governor General of Canada.

From the moment the Bombay fortress crashed out a reverberating viceregal salute of 31 guns until the party entered the towering "gateway of India," Lord Willingdon and Countess Willingdon captured the imagination of the crowds by their friendly smiles and unaffected demeanors.

The viceroy recognized scores of princes, government officials and others whose friendship he made during his previous service here, booming out a hearty: "Hello, how are you, my old friends?"

Later he conferred with retiring Viceroy Irwin in regard to the recent renewal of racial antipathy between the Hindus and Moslems and Mahatma Gandhi's inability to settle the communal problem.

U. S. Steel Gets Rights To Krupp Alloy Patents

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—An arrangement has been concluded by United States Steel Corporation with the Krupp interests, of Germany, whereby U. S. Steel will have the American rights for the manufacture of rust-resisting, heat-resisting and other alloy steels under Krupp patents.

James A. Farrell, president of U. S. Steel, said this arrangement, which includes the collaboration of Krupp with respect to technical matters in connection with the corrosion-resisting and heat-resisting steels, will apply to the products of the Illinois Steel Co., Carnegie Steel Co., American Steel & Wire Co., American Sheet & Tin Plate Co., National Tube Co., and Lorain Steel Co.

Long Credits Abroad Must Wait, Banks Say

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—Wall street bankers, interviewed today, expressed the belief that the extension of long term credits to countries needing funds, as desirable as it is from the standpoint of world-wide economic recovery, must await developments that will loosen the purse-strings of investors.

It is believed quite probable that the subject will have a prominent place on the agenda for the annual meeting of the bank for international settlements at Basle, Switzerland, May 19.

Brokers' Offer to Pay Is Accepted by Court

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—A composition offer by the stock exchange brokerage firm of Bauer, Pogue, Pond & Vivian, which provides for eventual payment to creditors of 100 cents on the dollar, was approved today by Federal Judge Patterson.

The firm filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy November 19, 1930. The offer provides for payment of 40 per cent in cash and the issuance to creditors of liquidating corporation certificates for the balance. Creditors' claims amount to more than $2,000,000.

Union Pacific Railway Buys 20 New Tenders

Omaha, April 17 (A.P.).—The purchase of twenty 18,000-gallon locomotive tenders at a total cost of $300,000 was announced today by E. E. Adams, vice president of the Union Pacific Railroad.

The new tenders will be used to replace smaller tenders on existing locomotives, to supply a greater capacity for water and fuel.

It would cost $2,250 to send postcards to all the readers that can be reached any morning by Post Classified Ads.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT INTEREST IS GAINING

Visitor Laments Inability to Enter The Post's Contest; Suburbs Are Eager.

Such was the lament of Roy Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star, in attendance upon the three days' conference of the Society of American Newspaper Editors. Mr. Roberts was for many years the Washington correspondent of the paper he now edits, and in addition to his literary abilities achieved some reputation here as a bridge player. The Kansas City fans gained a worthy recruit when he transferred his activities to the Missouri town.

"I am glad to see that The Post is putting the Capital on the bridge map a little differently than fell to the lot of my home town," said Mr. Roberts. "We had an unfortunate incident resulting from the famous 'four-spade bid,' and everybody in the country read about it. Still, it does not seem to have impaired interest in the game in any respect. In fact, it doubtless had a salutary effect, for husbands and wives are playing amicably together and no more shots have been fired. Kansas City is a great bridge town. We have tournaments and contests and match plays, and have developed some excellent players. That's what a tournament will do. Wish I could be here to take part in the one which The Post is sponsoring."

Interest Is Widespread.

Interest in the local tournament has spread to Baltimore, although under the provisions of the original announcement entries will not be accepted from the Monumental City, inasmuch as participants must reside within a radius of 25 miles of Washington. At the invitation of Mrs. James Lee Shelton, one of the backers of the event, and who as a teacher will have a prominent part in arranging the program, Mrs. J. Ralph Emery, of Baltimore, will come to Washington tomorrow to look the situation over and offer suggestions and advice with respect to working out the details for the various matches. Mrs. Emery has the reputation of being one of the most successful bridge tournament managers in the country, with an experience covering many years. She is recognized as an authority on the game and on the method of conducting competitions. Her Baltimore classes have produced some of the experts of which the city boasts.

For several days entries in goodly numbers have been coming in from nearby Virginia, from Arlington and Fairfax. One entrant comments that it would be a joke on the Washington players if one of the major trophies signalizing championship in the National Capital should be captured by a Virginia team.

In Realm of Possibility.

That, of course, is within the realm of possibilities for the commuters from across the Potomac play bridge just like the city folk and some of them play exceedingly well. Bridge parties are nightly occurrences in these suburbs and the villagers may put something over on the local talent. They hope to do so at any rate and are training for the event. Mrs. Laura Summers Boldin, of East Falls Church, is one of the out-of-town teachers who has entered for the competition.

Many of those who have entered either as pairs or as individuals have expressed a desire to have teammates and partners assigned to them so that they may begin practicing together at the earliest opportunity. The committee on arrangements at its meeting at the New Shoreham tomorrow will take up this matter, and it is expected that it will soon thereafter be able to make some announcements which will accommodate these entrants.

The time for filing entries is becoming shorter each day, so if you have not already filled out the necessary blank, do so at once and send it to the bridge editor of The Post. The tournament dates are May 14, 15 and 16 and the place is the New Shoreham Hotel.

torium will be filled to overflowing for the excercises this morning. High ranking Army, Navy and Marine Corps officers, in addition to members of the Congressional and governmental sets and other persons prominent in Washington social circles, are expected to attend.

The two winners will be members of a party of 63 boys and girls, forming a "living flag," who will go to Europe in June. Preceding this European trip, they will be received by President Hoover and taken on a patriotic pilgrimage to Fort McHenry, Valley Forge and Philadelphia.

Royalty Will Receive Party.

In England the "envoys," carrying a message of goodwill to the children of England, will be received by king George or the Prince of Wales and will participate in a goodwill mass meeting with the children of London, when messages of goodwill will be exchanged.

Crossing to France they will be received by the French president and will take part in a goodwill mass meeting with the children of Paris, probably in front of the replica of Mt. Vernon, erected as part of the American exhibit at the International Colonial and overseas exposition which will be in full swing at that time.

The object of the trip, as explained by officials of the United States Flag Association, is to build up friendship among the future rulers of these countries, with a view to settling differences around the conference table rather than upon the battlefield.

Policeman's Ousting Changed to Suspension

The District Commissioners yesterday changed a dismissal sentence of the Police Trial Board to ten days' suspension without pay after an appeal had been granted. The policeman involved is R. W. Hopkins, of the Third Precinct.

Charges against the policeman were that he failed to report at the proper time by patrol box call and then told his commanding officer an untrue story to excuse his negligence.

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO N. B. STEWART, 60

Well-Known Foreign Service Man and Diplomat Dies at Friend's Home.

After an illness of several months, Nathaniel Bacon Stewart, former American consul general at Barcelona, Spain, and well known foreign service man and diplomat, died yesterday at the home of a friend, Charles S. Pierce, of 1506 Newton street northwest, where he and his wife, Mrs. Lucy Taylor Stewart, had been making their home for some time.

He returned to this country last November, when his health became impaired. He was 60 years old.

Mr. Stewart was born in Taylor County, Ga., and came to Washington after having ben graduated by the University of Georgia in 1893. He entered the George Washington University here at that time, and while a student in its law school was also in civil service, serving first as clerk in the Navy Department and later being transferred to the War Department, where he served in a similar capacity for two years.

Mr. Stewart was chief of the division of accounts of the engineering department in Havana from 1899 to 1901, and after serving as paymaster was made provincial treasurer of the Philippine Islands, where he remained until 1907. At that time he was appointed consul at Castellamare di Stabia, Italy, later being transferred to Madras, Italy, where he was stationed for two years.

He was also consul at Durban, Natal, and Milan, Italy, and it was while he was consul at Natal that he married Miss Lucy Cobb Taylor, of Americus, Ga. In 1914 he became consul general at large, and was later made consul general at Mexico City. From 1921 to 1923 he was chief of consular personnel in the State Department, and in 1923 was made consul general in Yokohama, Japan, being sent to the Spanish post from that place.

Survivors include his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Howard Bucknell; four brothers, Edgar, Horace, Lester, and W. C. Stewart, and one sister, Mrs. C. S. Baldwin. Mrs. Stewart left Washington last night with the body, which is being taken back to Americus for burial.

Policeman's Marriage Is Formally Annulled

The court found that Mrs. Maust had a former husband from whom she had not been divorced when she went through a ceremony with the policeman. Attorney John D. Fitzgerald represented Mr. Maust.

Mechanic Asks Bankruptcy.

Elmer N. Weldman, a mechanic, of Rhode Island avenue near First street northwest, filed a petition for involuntary bankruptcy yesterday. He listed his liabilities as $815.67 and his assets at $17.

4 POINTS OBSERVED IN PLANNING DIETS

Proteins, Vitamins, Calories and Minerals Have Large Part in Food Values.

The four points of food value, proteins, vitamins, calories and minerals, are to be observed in planning diets and menus, Government experts declare, and in a bulletin issued recently by the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture, it is shown that intelligent food comparisons can only be made by keeping these points in mind. Each one of these four points of food value is essential in making a fair estimate of any one food as well as in judging the value of the diet as a whole, according to this source.

Advantage should be taken of the lower cost of meat at present, according to E. W. Sheets, chief of the animal husbandry division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The need of meat in the ration is pointed out by the Bureau of Home Economics too, both as a pellagra preventive factor and as a means of making a bland diet more palatable.

The bureau suggests that full-flavored food, like meat, tomatoes, and onions should be used as much as possible by persons living on a minimum food supply. Meat brings to limited diets the highly desirable proteins, mineral salts and fat, and the excellent flavor of meat makes it easier to consume the relatively large proportions of cereals which are the basis of the low cost meals outlined by the bureau.

Variety Without End.

"All sorts are here that all the earth yields, variety without end," once sang the poet Milton, and he must have been thinking of spring in Washington and the way it fires the food imagination of the housewife. For she has to choose from fresh vegetables, and fresh fruits and then with meat so plentiful and cheap her task is much lightened.

The average housewife has to wait for spring to indulge her desires freely in the preparation of fresh vegetables and fruits. Then she can give her family all the vitamins, all the iron and other minerals they need.

The spring vegetable salad is very refreshing and can be arranged attractively in individual salads or served in a pottery bowl at the table.

Spring Vegetable Salad.

Use a combination of thinly sliced crisp radishes, green onions and cucumbers and shredded new carrots. Sprinkle with salt and toss lightly together with a sour dressing made of two parts evaporated milk to one part vinegar. Serve on shredded leaf lettuce.

The spring bride must not be forgotten either. Let us give a tea for her. There is a sparkle about a tea that other forms of enetrtainment lack. Maybe it is the breeze of chatter, graceful moving figures about the room, pretty gowns, delicate china, burning tapers and gay flowers that give it an air that is not reproduced at the luncheon or dinner.

One of the floral combinations most idyllic and suggestive of spring for the tea table is a pewter bowl of wood violets and daffodils. Tall, soft lavender tapers in single pewter sticks or arranged in a graduating candelabra on either side of the center piece are effective. A modernistic porcelain fawn would be consistent with the table set-up.

Damasks Are Popular.

The delicately tinted woodblocked damasks introduced a season or so ago are gaining in popularity. However, some hostesses remain loyal to the rich, white patterned damask. Tea always tastes best out of fine English china tea cups, and the style of a variety of patterns has always been popular for the tea table.

There just couldn't be a tea party without tea. So let us have tea. But let us have mocha coffee, too. Mocha will give variety to your tea party. If you are fortunate enough to own two samovars you can use them here to advantage, but if you have only one, it is better to use a tea and coffee service of pewter.

Tea for Spring Brides.

Chopped Spinach Sandwich
Cream Cheese and Olive Sandwich
Mocha Tea
Apricot Mousse
Cookies
Yellow Mints Nuts

Apricot Mousse.

1 Cup dried apricots.
1 cup hot water.
½ cup sugar.
¼ cup water.
2 egg whites.
2-3 cup evaporated milk.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Wash apricots very quickly in cold water. Drain, add hot water and soak two hours. Cook in same water in which fruit is soaked five minutes, then press through potato ricer or coarse sieve. There should be one cup pulp and sirup. Cool, then chill for about 15 minutes in the refrigerator. Boil sugar and water together until mixture threads. Pour hot sirup over stiffly beaten egg whites and beat with a Dover egg beater until smooth.

Chill in refrigerator 10 to 15 minutes. In the meantime, scald milk in top of double boiler. Cool, then chill in bowl surrounded by chipped ice and salt. Whip until stiff, add lemon juice and continue whipping until mixture becomes very stiff. Combine apricot pulp with whipped milk, folding lightly. Add egg white sirup mixture, folding in lightly but thoroughly. Requires 2 to 5 hours to freeze. Yield: Six large servings.

Mocha.

5 tablespoons cocoa.
5 tablespoons sugar.
⅛ teaspoon salt.
½ cup hot water.
1 cup boiling water.
1½ cups evaporated milk.
1½ cups strong coffee.

Blend cocoa, sugar and salt. Add hot water and stir until smooth. Cook slowly over a low flame two or three minutes, or until liquid is thick and creamy. Add boiling water, milk and coffee. Reheat to boiling point. Whisk with a Dover beater. Serve immediately.

Spinach Sandwiches.

Chop clean, crisp tender spinach very fine. Remove crusts from sandwich bread and slice very thin. Spread half of the slices with butter and chopped spinach, and half with eggless mayonnaise. Press together firmly and cut as desired.

Eggless Mayonnaise.

½ cup evaporated milk.
1 teaspoon powdered sugar.
¼ teaspoon dry mustard.
½ teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon paprika.
Dash cayenne.
Dash white pepper.
1 tablespoon vinegar.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Chill oil and milk. Mix dry ingredients in mixing bowl and add cold evaporated milk. Beat vigorously. Add cold oil, one teaspoon at a time, beating each addition thoroughly into the milk before adding the next. When mixture begins to thicken slightly, add vinegar and lemon juice alternately with oil, beating vigorously after each addition.

MOUSSE AN ATTRACTIVE DISH

Bureau of Home Economics.

Stuffed Rib Chops With Apples Appeal

6 rib pork chops, 1½ inches thick
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon savory seasoning
Dash of pepper
⅛ teaspoon celery seed
3 tart red apples.

For the stuffing cook the celery, onion and parsley in the butter for a few minutes, add the bread crumbs and seasoning, and stir until well mixed. Wipe the chops with a damp cloth. Cut a pocket in each chop. Sprinkle the chops with salt and pepper and rub lightly with flour. Sear the chops in a heavy, hot skillet, turning the fat edges down at first and then browning both sides. Then fill each chop with stuffing and skewer the edges together with toothpicks. Lay the stuffed chops on a rack in a baking dish or pan with cover. On the top of each place, cut side down, one-half of an apple which has been cored but not pared. Cover closely and bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees F.) for about 45 minutes, or until the meat is tender. Lift the chops and apples together from the baking dish onto a hot platter and remove the toothpick skewers. Garnish with parsley and serve at once.

Chicken a la Mueller Is Made of Spaghetti

1 Package Mueller's spaghetti.
3 Tablespoons chicken fat.
2 Onions, sliced.
1 Green pepper, cut fine.
6 Large mushrooms, cut up.
2 Cups boiled chicken, cut in small pieces.
½ Teaspoon pepper.
½ Teaspoon salt.
2 Cups chicken stock.
½ Cup buttered breadcrumbs.

Parboil the spaghetti for seven minutes in 4 quarts rapidly boiling water, to which 1 tablespoon salt has been added. Drain. Heat the chicken fat in a skillet, add the onions, green pepper and mushrooms. Cover and let cook twenty minutes, stirring occasionally. In a well-greased casserole place alternate layers of spaghetti, boiled chicken and vegetables. Repeat until all the ingredients are used up. Season with salt and pepper. Pour chicken stock over all and cover with buttered breadcrumbs. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Mueller's macaroni may be substituted for the spaghetti if desired.

Apple-Sauce Cake Has Many Ingredients

2-3 cup butter
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks
¾ cup cold, thick, unsweetened apple sauce
½ cup milk
2½ cups Washington flour
2-3 cup raisins
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
3 tablespoons cocoa
2 teaspoons vanilla
2-3 cup nut meats
4 egg whites

Cream the butter; add the sugar, beat until well blended; add the egg yolks and apple sauce and beat until the mixture is smooth; then add the milk alternately with the flour, which should be sifted four or five times with the baking powder and spices; add raisins, nuts and vanilla; fold in the beaten egg whites; turn into greased layer cake tins, and bake in a moderate oven (325 to 350 degrees Fahrenheit) about 40 minutes. Put the layers together with caramel frosting.

Mueller Macaroni Pie And How to Make It

2 cups left-over meat, cut in cubes.
½ teaspoon salt.
2 cups milk.
½ cup buttred bread crumbs.

Parboil the macaroni for 7 minutes in two quarts rapidly boiling water to which ½ tablespoon salt has been added. Drain.

In a well-greased baking dish place alternate layers of the macaroni and beef. Season with salt and pepper and repeat until all the ingredients are used up. Pour the milk over all and cover with bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 40 mniutes.

Mueller's spaghetti may be substituted for the macaroni.

BETTER HOMES PLAN HAS NATIONAL SCOPE

Washington Will Join 7,000 Other Communities in Celebration.

Washington is joining more than 7,000 other communities in preparation for observance of Better Homes Week, April 26 to May 2, when demonstrations, lectures and other educational programs for stimulating activities for home improvement will be given in cities, towns and villages in every State in the Union, and in Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

President Hoover is taking an active interest in this observance, which is a culmination of the Better Homes campaign carried on throughout the year by Better Homes in America. The President has been actively associated with that organization since its inception in 1922, when he served as chairman of the board of directors. He now continues as honorary chairman, while Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, serves as its president. Headquarters activities in Washington are carried on under direction of Dr. James Ford.

Mrs. Akerson Heads Committee.

Mrs. George Akerson, wife of the former secretary to President Hoover, is chairman of the local Better Homes committee and is in charge of the program for Better Homes Week, when special exercises will be held at the Girl Scout Little House, Eighteenth street and New York avenue.

This house, built in 1923 as a feature of the local demonstration, is a replica of the John Howard Payne home on Long Island, which inspired the writing of "Home, Sweet Home." It is open each year during Better Homes Week and special programs of homemaking activities and demonstrations of methods and equipment are given.

Friday afternoon preceding Better Homes Week special attention will be given to outdoor activities including the rock garden, flower market, model garden and playground equipment. Mrs. R. Bruce Horsfall will be hostess that day. On the following day Mrs. Stanley Collamore Sears will be hostess and activities featuring indoor betterments will be carried on.

Home Library Is Included.

These include a home library with books for parents and children, under direction of Mr. George Bowerman; furnishings and toys for children, Washington Child Research Council; food for children, Mrs. Rowena S. Carpenter, specialist with the United States Bureau of Home Economics; clothing for children, Miss Clarice Scott, also with the United States Bureau of Home Economics.

Sunday afternoon, April 26, a special program will be given, featuring music in the home, handicraft, an exhibit of picture books made for Children's Hospital and an informal program of poetry by Miss Alice Hutchins Drake. Mrs. G. L. Bowman will be hostess that day.

Committees in charge of the local program with their chairmen are: Interior betterment, Miss Alida Henriques, with Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth and Dr. Louise Stanley advising; exterior betterment, Mrs. R. Bruce Horsfall, with Mrs. William Brown Meloney advising; educational projects, Mrs. Stanley Collamore Sears, with Miss Alice Hutchins Drake assisting. Girl Scouts of the District of Columbia will assist with the program under direction of Miss Dorothy Green.

Wholesale Prices Drop During March

(Associated Press.)

A decline of more than one and one-fourth per cent in wholesale prices during March, as compared with the previous month, was announced yesterday by the Labor Department.

The decline from January 1 to February 1 was 2 per cent.

Farm prices increased three-fourths of 1 per cent from the February level, with wheat, hogs, poultry, eggs, apples, oranges, onions, potatoes and foreign wools rising and corn, oats, rye and hay declining.

Foods were one-half of 1 per cent lower than the preceding month with declines for most fresh and cured meats, fish, flour, canned fruits and vegetables, cheese, coffee and sugar. Increases were noted for butter, fresh pork, dressed poultry, lard and corn meal.

Marine Bandsman Wins Liquor Trial

Selbicky, Held in Slaying of Emanuel Thorne, Alleges Illegal Search.

Vincent Selbicky, Marine bandman, who was arrested on liquor charges when Prince Georges County police searched his home in Greater Capitol Heights after finding a dead man on the property, was yesterday freed on the possession accusation.

When Selbicky appeared in police court, his counsel, State Senator Lansdale G. Sasscer, contended that the search was illegal as the policemen had no warrant. Judge J. Chew Sheriff then dismissed the charges. Senator Sasscer cited the case of Robert F. Langdon, in whose home a still was found when Langdon was arrested in the Beulah Limerick case.

Selbicky was first taken into custody after the body of a man identified as Emanuel Thorne was found in a shallow grave back of his house. He was held for investigation at that time in connection with the murder, but later released. At the time of his arrest police found a quantity of beer in the house, which was the basis of the possession charges. At the time of his release on the investigation charges he had posted bond on the other count.

Mr. W. N. Crawford of Washington Wins $50.00 for naming this recipe:

"Honey Apricotora"

1 package Royal Gelatin Dessert, orange flavor.
1 cup boiling water.
1 cup of cold water.
⅓ cup of Crane's Honey-Apricot Spread.

Dissolve Gelatin in boiling water; add cold water and Crane's Honey-Apricot Spread; stir until Honey mixture dissolves. Chill until mixture begins to thicken, then stir up, pour into molds and chill until firm.

Mr. W. N. Crawford,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Crawford:

The entries in the Crane's Honey-Apricot Spread Contest just ended and were taken to New York last week and submitted to a group of food experts for a decision on the name to popularize the dessert used in the Contest. A number of worthy names were included in the list submitted for judgment. After due deliberation the judges announced that their choice had fallen upon your entry, "Honey Apricotora." We take keen enjoyment in congratulating you upon this name, and we shall hope that its use will add to the pleasure of our friends in the use of this recipe.

Very truly yours,
J. E. Crane & Son.

SELLING FEATURE OF STOCK MARKET

2,500,000-Share Day Sees Heaviest Volume of Dealings for Fortnight.

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—The stock market was still troubled by selling today and found the demand considerably smaller than the supply.

A rally in the first hour thinned out as soon as bear traders began to find weak spots among the specialties. By noon the improvement, amounting to a point or so, had disappeared, and by midafternoon the market had become reconciled to the downward trend. Professionals then widened the spread from Thursday's final quotations by hammering holes in a number of industrials, but generally speaking, the net losses were moderate. Activity increased during the late selling, running sales up to 2,600,000 shares, the largest volume in a fortnight.

Auburn Auto took the skids for a 35-point drop, putting it 60 points below the year's high, made on Tuesday. Case, Coca Cola, Industrial Rayon, Electric Autolite, Worthington Pump, International Telephone and DuPont showed declines well above the average. United States Steel was pushed down to 130½, closing at 130½, off 1½ net. General Motors reacted a point.

Utilities Are Weaker.

Bethlehem, Radio, American Can, General Electric, Westinghouse and Allied Chemical offered sufficient resistance to make net changes nominal. Utilities were weaker, but American Telephone reduced a 3-point loss to 1¼ at the close. High grade rails fought off selling, although there were enough losses elsewhere to put the Standard Statistics group average at a new low for the year. Heaviness of the food stocks, especially those of dairy companies, reflected reports of a surplus of such products.

Downward Trend Noted.

Week-end reviews of business reported an irregular downward movement from the peak reached just before Easter. Bradstreet's, which has been heading its comments "fair to quiet," revised its label to "quieter." Dun's impressed by commodity price weakness, asserted with respect to the general situation that "various adjustments" were essential in view of unsatisfactory aspects now current and that the main progress had been in "the rebuilding of the commercial structure." Bank clearings for the week were about 23 per cent under a year ago, and the average for April to date is only slightly below that percentage.

Large export sales and dry weather in the Northwest firmed wheat quotations, which closed about unchanged to nearly a cent higher. Corn eased fractionally on predictions of larger receipts, good weather in the Southwest and large Argentine shipments. Cotton finished steady, up 2 to 5 points.

The two current features of the foreign exchange market, Spanish peseta and Argentine peso, steadied, although the Brazilian milreis made a new 1931 low. Dutch guilders rallied.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 17 (A.P.).—Urgent need of moisture in most of the spring wheat belt Northwest gave impetus to buyers today and tended to lift prices. Sudden rallies in Liverpool wheat quotations, accompanying advances in Argentine exchange rates, had a further bullish effect. Reactions, however, from the day's top levels for wheat were reported by reports of light snowfalls in sections of Canada and by advices that winter wheat condition throughout the entire Southwest was almost perfect, with indications pointing to an earlier harvest than usual.

Closing irregular, ⅛ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher, corn ⅛@¼ cent down, oats unchanged to ⅛ cent off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Surprise over Liverpool wheat price upturns was general, and the more so because of reports the day previous that Argentine wheat offerings had delused European importers. In further contrast was evidence that transatlantic countries were buyers of futures deliveries in Chicago. Liverpool dispatches said the market there was firm and advancing, with demand good, especially from European countries. Another striking feature was announcement that Australian wheat sales for 24 hours totaled 3,750,000 bushels, mainly to Oriental buyers.

After the close, estimates were current that 1,500,000 bushels of North American wheat had been taken for shipment overseas. Something of an offset, though, was a summary by a leading unofficial authority that United States spring wheat acreage would be about as large as last year and that seeding had made more favorable progress despite bad windstorms.

BOND MARKET QUIET AS LIST FLUCTUATES

Foreign Issues Experience Losses From 1 to 2 Points at Close.

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—Trading in bonds was quiet today, and price changes were irregular. Most alien obligations experienced another sinking spell. The two issues of 5s of the Commonwealth Government and the 4½s of 1956 dropped from 1½ to 2 points. The break in these and some of the provincial issues, which were less active, started about the beginning of the second hour following a cable from London to the effect that the Commonwealth Bank of Australia had threatened to cut off the credit supplies of the state and federal governments. Chilean 6s of 1960 jumped sharply but changes of most other foreign liens were of a more usual character.

Public utility issues were irregularly higher on limited trading. Industrial obligations were dull and fractionally lower. Standard Oil of New York 4½s of 1951 were one of the most active of this group. A block of $1,200,000 of this issue and $1,300,000 debenture 5s of Standard Oil of New Jersey were reported sold in the over-the-counter market.

Railroad bonds continued to reflect uncertainty. Dealers were still disinclined to acquire stocks of bonds, especially the rail issues. At any rate this group was unusually quiet but prices were irregularly higher. Southern Railway 4s of 1956 jumped about 1 point on active trading.

United States Government bonds were unusually dull, sales in several of them being limited to single transactions and the turnover of the group being much less than usual.

Price variations in stock privilege issues were unusually narrow. Some of them provided no sales at all.

Curb Review

New York, April 17 (A.P.).—Indecisive price movements appeared in the curb market today. Despite early firmness in the utilities, the undertone seemed heavy and lower quotations resulted from slight pressure in the oil and specialty groups.

Gains of the first hour or so among the power company shares reflected covering, apparently on the theory that a technical recovery was due with the approach of the week-end. The narrow advances, however, indicated that the shorts had yet to be completely convinced and offerings came in at the higher levels. United Light A, yesterday's weak member of the group, rallied well.

Declines by specialties were rather selective. Cord Corporation broke a point in sympathy with the slump in Auburn. Safety Car Heating was off considerably following a recent official statement concerning its business. Driver Harris was still being sold and there were small declines in Mead Johnson, which eased under 100, Aviation Corporation of the Americas and Pilot Radio. Ford of Canada B, which trades infrequently, advanced.

A more pessimistic speculative attitude toward the oils brought small losses in most stocks. Vacuum sagged to a new low and Gulf was also at a minimum for the year. Plymouth, Saxet and Standard of Indiana averaged lower.

Railway light & securities, breaking several points, was a weak spot in the investment holding company division. Shenandoah was soft. Insull Utility firmed and United Founders was steady.

Money markets were firm as the result of loan calling, but the renewal rate on the curb was the familiar 2 per cent.

NATS-MACKS RESUME TODAY, JONES FACES GROVE

Johnson to Send Veteran To Mound in Attempt for Third Straight Over A's

S. Rice, Ailing, May Be Replaced Today by Sam West.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

WEATHER permitting, the Nationals and Athletics will resume activities at Griffith Stadium this afternoon in a game important to both teams. For the Nationals victory means the series edge and a gain of two games over the Mackmen, whom they regard as their only serious pennant rivals, while the Philadelphians crave a triumph in order to give them an even break in the four games.

Manager Walter Johnson plans to pin his hopes on the veteran "Sad Sam" Jones, who has not yet had an opportunity this season to show whether he still maintains his winning touch. In the past he has been most effective against the world's champions, and his boss is confident that he is about ready to go. In view of the importance of this game to the Athletics, it is believed that Connie Mack will use Bob (Lefty) Grove on the hill.

Sammy West, regular centerfielder, who has been idle, due to an influenza attack, showed at Annapolis yesterday, when the Nats beat the Middies in an exhibition game, that he is about ready to start, but in view of the great showing Harry Rice has been making since he got his chance, Johnson is in no hurry to rush West into the line-up.

Sam Rice Complains Of Aching Back.

There is a possibility, however, that both West and Harry Rice will start today, for the veteran Sam Rice quit the game at Annapolis yesterday at the start of the seventh, complaining of an aching back. Trainer Mike Martin could find nothing wrong, but advised Sam to hurry home, and whether or not his ailment is sufficiently serious to keep him inactive today will not be known until this morning.

Otherwise every member of the Washington squad is in top condition except Pitcher Ad Liska, while it also might be mentioned that the team's spirits have been stimulated to a high pitch by the successive victories of Wednesday and Thursday over the Athletics, and already they are talking pennant. While it is a little early to get ideas of this kind, for much water will flow under the bridges and many other things will happen between now and next October, nevertheless Johnson believes that this thought and the will to win may make his team an even better one, and he is not discouraging his charges.

Nats Confident Against Lefty Grove.

In the three games played against the Men of Mack so far, Philadelphia's starting pitcher has been unable to finish, and if Grove goes for the A's today the Nats are confident that they can get to him. As good as Grove is—and no one doubts but that he is just about the best flinger in the majors—for several seasons after he came to the big tent he was never able to go the route against the Nationals, and his record against them last year was only two victories as against one defeat.

Reports from Philadelphia are to the effect that First Baseman Jimmy Foxx may be lost to the Macks for possibly ten days as a result of a knee injury received in Wednesday's game here, and the loss of the slugging infielder weakens the team considerably. Twice in Thursday's game Al Simmons was intentionally walked, filling the bases, and it is hardly likely that Manager Johnson would have ordered actions of this kind had Foxx been next up.

Phil Todt is, perhaps, a better fielder than Foxx, but he is not a good hitter and proved it when he failed to come through on both occasions when Simmons was passed up so as to bring him to the tee in the clinches.

Large Crowd Expected If Rain Is Absent.

President Clark Griffith, of the Nationals, announced last night that the infield was covered and that, unless it is actually raining at game time today, the game will be played. As Government employes have the usual Saturday half-holiday, a large crowd is expected to turn out this afternoon.

Outfielder Harry Rice was excused from playing at Annapolis yesterday because he complained of a slightly stiffened neck received in his circus catch in Thursday's game. He will be back on the job today, however.

Much favorable comment has been heard regarding the manner in which Manager Johnson has been keeping the Athletics up in the air with men on bases. Last season the Nats' policy was the hit-and-run and opponents soon found this out and played accordingly. This year, however, Johnson is mixing this and the sacrifice.

In this connection it might also be mentioned that the Nats have done some exceptionally effective bunting so far, only one having failed to come through when called upon.

NATS DEFEAT ANNAPOLIS NINE, 4-1

Bolton Gets 4 Hits, Including Double and Home Run.

Special to The Washington Post.

ANNAPOLIS, April 17.—Despite the fact that the Nationals had to share patronage with Prince Takamatsu, brother of the Japanese Emperor, and his party here this afternoon, when the midshipmen staged a gigantic review for the royal visitors, a sizable gathering was on hand for the exhibition game against the Navy baseballers. The Washington Club won, of course, the score being 4 to 1.

The Nationals did not take the game seriously, failing to put much effort in their base-running and starting the game with several of their regulars missing. Near the end they inserted "Uncle Nick" Altrock, whose antics during the game made a big hit with the crowd, and Al Schacht.

Altrock's Play Is Featured.

Altrock's work, it might be announced, was the feature of the game. Hardly had he relieved Kuhle at first when Bunce shot a liner to him, the old-timer diving for it and snaring the ball with his gloved hand. Then, in the Nats' ninth, after Burke had two strikes called on him, Altrock rushed to the plate and, after much monkey business, poled a double down the right-field line, this being credited to the Nat pitcher because he was not due to come up when he did.

Burke and Bolton, his battery mate, seemed to be about the only players who took their work seriously. The pitcher fanned eight while granting five scattered hits, while the catcher poled out four hits in as many times up, including a lusty homer and a double.

Middie Outfielders Play Deep.

The Nationals were credited with but nine safeties, but they would have had many more if the Middie outfielders had not played so deep that they looked to be in the next county and, as a result, camped under many a long drive.

Dave Davenport went the route for the Navy nine and he prevented any "big" innings, the Nats getting their markers in as many different frames, with two errors by Third Baseman Keen helping not a little. Fitzgerald was the only Middie getting more than one hit, his first being scratchy and his other one starting what proved to be the making of the Tars' lone marker.

HOMER, 2 ON, DECIDES FOR EPISCOPAL

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 17.—A home run by Charlie Hooff, with two runners on the bases, gave Episcopal High's baseball team a 7-5 victory over Gonzaga here this afternoon in a dramatic ending of a well-played seven-inning ball game. The game was called on account of darkness.

It was a hard game for the plucky Gonzaga team to lose, having gone into the last inning on the longer end of a 5-4 count, but on the other hand it was a great finish on the part of the favored Virginians.

Gonzaga outbatted the home team 8-to-7, but scored four errors to Episcopal's two. Gonzaga's eight blows were all singles. The only extra base blow, besides Hooff's circuit clout, was Mizell's double in the third.

Gar Wood to Attempt New Record in 2 Weeks

Miami Beach, Fla., April 17 (A.P.).—Gar Wood said today he would be ready within two weeks to renew attempts to wrest the world's motorboat speed record of 103.49 miles an hour from Kaye Don, of England.

This announcement was made after the Detroit sportsman said his best two-day average in his attempts yesterday to break Don's record, exceeded by .813 miles an hour his former American record of 102.256.

Wood said he would condition the Miss America IX, improving the bottom and overhauling the two twelve-cylinder engines.

"I will not rest until the Englishman's record, if it is a record, is smashed to smithereens," Wood said, adding he thought contemplated adjustments to the boat would give it a speed of about 105 miles an hour.

The Skinker Eagles will hold their final workout today at 2 p. m. on their home field at Wisconsin avenue and Upton street northwest in preparation for their game tomorrow with the Palisades A. C. Manager Clipper is completing his schedule for the season and would like to arrange games with strong out-of-town teams. Managers interested are requested to call Cleveland 1282-W.

A's Conquered, 5 to 4, By Richmond in Ninth

Richmond, Va., April 17 (A.P.).—Richmond's new Eastern League team rallied brilliantly in the ninth inning with two men down to break a tie and conquer the world's champion Athletics, 5 to 4.

Home runs figured largely in the scoring. Eddie Roetz made circuit hits for Richmond in the sixth and eighth, each time with a man on base, and Williams, Philadelphia's second sacker did the same in the seventh, after dykes already had counted off a single, an error, Monair's one base hit and Sore"s long fly to right.

Roser scored Witner for the winning run after Shannon hit into a double play andit looked as if the ninth would end ina tie.

V. M. I. FROSH SCORE OVER STAUNTON

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 17.—Playing a decidedly improved brand of baseball, the V. M. I. freshmen defeated the Staunton Military Academy here today, 5 to 4. The game was a nip and tuck affair, the winner being uncertain until the ninth inning, when V. M. I. pushed over three runs to win.

Both teams hit for extra bases, Smith of V. M. I. and Griffith of Staunton hitting for the circuit. Miscues on the part of V. M. I. marred their brilliant play. The Academy boys played a mid-seasoned form of ball, making only one error, and outhitting the freshmen. Smith, V. M. I.'s pitcher, struck out eight men, and was responsible for the last inning rally.

HARVARD 8-7 VICTIM OF MARYLAND

Ticknor, on Mound, Yields Winning Run in Seventh.

UNIVERSITY OF MARLAND'S BASEBALL TEAM scored an 8-to-7 triumph over Harvard in a hard-fought game yesterday at College Park.

It was aMryland's first win at home this season and was the fourth defeat for the Crimson in the five games they have played on its Southern trip.

From the outset it was a ding-dong battle. Harvard opened the scoring i nthe first inning by chasing across three runs off Jack Batson, but Maryland came back in its half to tie the score, two of the Old Liners' tallies coming on a home run by "Shorty" Chalmers with one on.

Maryland Forges Ahead With Pair in Third.

Maryland forged ahead in the third, scoring two runs after Harvard had marked up one. The Old Liners added two more tallies in the fifth. The Crimson, however, on five hits, including triples by Pinch-Hitter Kiernan and McGrath, counted three runs in the seventh to knot the score again at 7 to 7.

The Old Liners came back the same inning to tally the run that gave them victory. This run was registered off Ben Ticker, who started the inning on the mound in place of Page, who was taken out to allow Kiernan to bat. The tally came when Derr, the first batter, beat out an infield hit and scored on Gorman's triple to left.

In the ninth Harvard, with two out, had the tying run on third base, but McGrath, who previously had made two hits, was struck out by Milburn to end the game.

Save for the seventh inning Milburn pitched well. Page showed more than any of the Harvard boxmen, though he worked only an inning and a third.

SUTTER BOWS IN 3 SETS TO VAN RYN

PINEHURST, N. C., April 17 (A.P.).—John Van Ryn, crack net man from Philadelphia, played shrewd tennis today to defeat Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, for the North and South championship.

Although the Philadelphian was seeded No. 3, and Sutter No. 2, the former was complete master of the match, taking advantage of his opponent's errors to coast to victory, 7—5, 6—3, 6—1.

Sutter showed a complete reversal of the form which brought him an easy victory over Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, in the semifinals. He failed to solve Van Ryn's volleys, frequently overdriving the base line and on other plays dropping into the net.

G. U. DEFEATS VILLANOVA NINE, 10-3

1,200 See Scalzi and King Hit Homers; 7 Stolen Bases.

By JACK ESPEY.

PLAYING smart, daring baseball throughout, Georgetown University's nine had little trouble defeating Villanova College yesterday by a score of 10 to 3 before 1,200 persons on Hilltop Field. The Hoyas were as active physically as mentally, uncorking a twelve-hit attack and some brilliant base running.

Harry Noznesky, veteran southpaw, started in the box for Georgetown, but failed to last the route, as did his rival, Ed. Kobilis. Noznesky was not hit hard during the five innings he worked, but his generosity in the matter of walks was too great for safety. It was Georgetown's fourth sucessive victory.

Coach Colrick's players ran wild on the bases while slamming Kobilis' offerings to all corners of the field. Seven stolen bases were recorded to the Hoyas' credit, and Capt. Johnny Scalzi and Dick King larruped home runs beyond the confines of the field.

Decide Game in Sixth With Four Runs.

All the competition left the game in the sixth inning when the home team scored four runs to make the score read 8 to 1. Herb Heaney, a newcomer to the Hilltop squad this year, relieved Noznesky and acquitted himself admirably, this despite the fact that Joe Czescik, Villanova second baseman, laced one of his fast balls for a home run in the ninth, accounting for the Wildcats' last two tallies.

The big Georgetown sixth was opened by Johnny Evers, jr., who was struck by a pitched ball. King running for Evers, stole second and went to third as O'Toole grounded out and Heaney squeezed home King with a sacrifice bunt which Kobilis tossed wildly to first.

Then followed the prettiest play of the game. Scalzi laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to count Bozek from third and while the out was being made at first, Morris dashed home from second. The Villanovans became pop-eyed at this and never regained their composure.

ALEXANDRIA HIGH RALLY TIES GAME

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 17.—Three singles, a double, a sacrifice and an error combined to send four Alexandria High School diamonders across the plate here today in the fifth and final inning of a game with Business High, a spurt which tied the score at 7-7. The game was called at the end of the inning because of darkness.

Business was leading by the count of 7-3 in the final sector, and Billy Duryee, Stenog pitcher, had retired one Alexandrian. But at this stage the locals began to find the shoots of the curly-headed District flinger and rapped out the evening runs.

Business garnered one more hit off Hunter than did Alexandria off Garner and Duryee. The batting hero of the game was Giovanetti, diminutive Business fielder, who cracked out two hits in three times at bat in his first high school game.

The Takoma Tigers are seeking a game for Sunday, to be played on their home diamond, with a strong unlimited nine. J. B. Simpson is booking games at Georgia 1200 during the day and at Georgia 0300 after 7 p. m. The Tigers are undaunted by their defeat at the hands of the Everett Waddy Co., of Richmond, at that city last Sunday, and expect to retain their laurels in the coming Capital City League campaign.

Hornsby Wins For Cubs by Homer, 5-4

CHICAGO, April 17 (A.P.).—Held scoreless and with but two hits for five innings by young Charlie Wood, the Chicago Cubs broke out in the sixth and seventh innings today, scored five times and won the final of the series, 5 to 4.

The big blow of the Cubs' attack was Manager Rogers Hornsby's second home run of the year, which came in the seventh inning off Bednar with Cuyler and English on base.

Guy Bush started for the Cubs, and was hit safely thirteen times before giving way to Sweetland in the ninth. Sweetland put the winning run on first with but one out and Bob Smith was called to the rescue. Smith prevented the Bucs from tying the score and the Cubs took the first series, three games to one. Hornsby's home run bat won two of the games by a margin of one run.

24 in Hard Hurdle Test At Baltimore Today

Baltimore, Md., April 17 (A.P.).—Twenty-four thoroughbreds, fourteen of them from other States, have been entered for the grand national Point to Point race to be run tomorrow in the Green Spring valley.

Society folk from many sections are expected to see the thirty-first renewal of the event. The race, over 3 miles with 20 barriers, will start and finish at Brookland Wood, the estate of Mrs. Isaac E. Emerson.

Two of the entries, Philosopher, owned by Mrs. Redmond C. Stewart, of Baltimore, and Ready Wit, owned by Charles S. Cheston, have won in previous years. Philosopher in 1928 and ready wit last year.

The Berwyn Dixie Pigs will play the Washington Railway Electric nine today at 2:30 o'clock at Berwyn. Tomorrow the Berwyn experts will take on the German Bakery Boys at 2:30 o'clock, also at Berwyn.

ESSARE SCORES BY STRETCH RUN IN GRAW FEATURE

Princel Wins, Pays $118 in Opener

Stupendous Winner Over Tewsenelda by Head Margin.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 17.—Essare, fresh from the schooling list, but far from graduating in good behavior, nevertheless won the Beverwyck, feature here today, by a neck, coming from third position in the stretch. Dr. J. F. Adams' Pegg's Pride was second and C. V. Whitney's Hatbroom third. The Seagram Stable's Solace, which loomed dangerously on the backstretch, dropped back to fourth. Berber was the other starter. The time was 1:45 4-5 for the mile and one sixteenth.

Essare, wall ridden by Kurtsinger, and carrying the colors of R. P. Watts, refused for several minutes to enter the stall gate and had to be backed in. When the field was off, Essare was in third position, Pegg's Pride leading and Solace third. Kurtsinger made his run from the eighth pole, and closed fast. The winner was favorite at post time and paid $5.60. Hatbroom showed speed in the stretch, disposing of both Solace and Berber.

Pegg's Pride was unruly for a while at the barrier, and an assistant starter hypnotized him by revolving a switch in front of his nose. The horse forgot his meanness and never turned his gaze from the switch.

58-to-1 Shot Leads From Start.

Mrs. T. H. Somerville's filly Princel won the first race, with J. McTaggart up. The Lanton Farm's Porgie was second and E. K. Bryson's Hasola third. Line of Fire, which delayed the start, was fourth. The race was for maiden 2-year-olds. Porgie, the favorite, was close to the leader all the way.

Princel set a new mark in Maryland for the year in price, paying $118.30 for $2. Peace Dove, the previous holder of the long shot title this year, paid $108.70 at Bowie.

The Princeps II filly, leading all the way, won by a length. The third horse was five lengths back of the leaders. Time, 0:54 2-5.

Allanah Comes Again To Win Second.

Allanah won the second race by a head from the favorite, Princeton. Bocaratone was third. Allanah set the early pace, with Princeton close up, but the favorite took the lead rounding into the stretch and had a margin of a length. Our Sis had moved up to second, but R. Watson came again in the stretch and at the sixteenth caught Princeton and, hard ridden, finally triumphed. Bocaratone saved ground and got the show money from Our Sis. The winner, which now is in the stable of A. Hullcoat, paid $16. The time was 1:13 4-5. Princeton had no excuse.

Stupendous Wins Over Tewsenelda.

Mrs. A. E. Vanree's mare, Stupendous, won the third race, by a head over G. L. Strycker's Tewsenelda, the most stirring finish of the day, running the 6 furlongs in 1:13. H. G. Bedwell's Red Briar, making his first start of the year, was third.

Baboo, after being in front, dropped out of contention, and Royal Mystery also began quitting at the top of the stretch. Calgary Kay, the favorite, was never prominent. The winner paid $24.80 and was well ridden by Meade. Twelve horses started with three in the field.

Thomas Flippen's Luck Piece won the fifth race by a nose from Nealon Kay. Stelvio was third and Spanflow fourth. Guilford and Redcliffe were out in front, running head and head, and both were all in when they came into the stretch. Luck Piece, with Jockey Day whipping, withstood the relentless challenge of Kurtsinger on Nealon Kay from the sixteenth to the finish. The winner paid $11.10. Twelve horses started. The time was 1:47 3-5.

Mrs. W. Helfrich's horse, Back, came from behind in the stretch to win the sixth race by a length and a half, heading off Big Spring, which had led all the way to the eighth mile post. Attamart was third. C. Pegg, who was taken ill during the feature race, was supplanted on Back by R. Watson. Time, 1:48 2-5. Tang showed early speed. She was favorite and the winner second choice, paying $6.50.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PRINCEL, $118.30, $42.60, $23.70; PORGIE, $5.20, $3.60; HASOLA, $5.70.

PRINCEL, quick to begin, sprinted into a commanding lead first furlong, saved ground all the way but was tiring at end and under a hard drive to stall off PORGIE. Latter broke slow but gained steadily and finished going very strong. He was catching the winner at every stride. HASOLA worked her way up on the outside and finished with a bold rush. NATION showed lot of early speed but quit after going half a mile. TORONTO broke slowly. SOCIETY TALK carried wide at stretch turn.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good, from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:05. Off at 3:09. Winner, A. Two-dollar mutuels paid—ALLANAH, $16.00, $4.90, $3.80; PRINCETON, $3.00, $2.50; BOCARATONE, $4.70.

ALLANAH was rated off the pace and Watson had her under slight restraint until straightened out in home stretch; closed gamely under punishment and gradually wore the tiring pacemaker down. PRINCETON drew away rounding far turn and saved ground entering home stretch, looked a certain winner inside the furlong pole but collapsed last sixteenth. He broke from extreme outside and had to be hard ridden to get to the front. BOCARATONE broke very slowly and went wide entire trip. He was going the strongest of lot at finish. OUR SIS showed a flash of early speed. DUNLIN'S ELK eased up when he tired.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200. For 3-year-olds and upward; foaled in Maryland; claiming. Start good, from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:39. Off at 3:43. Winner, Mrs. A. Two-dollar mutuels paid—STUPENDOUS, $24.80, $10.40, $6.90; TEWSENELDA, $8.40, $6.10; RED BRIAR, $6.00.

STUPENDOUS, shuffled back when break came, and raced on the outside entire trip. She closed with a rush when put to a drive in final furlong and outlasted TEWSENELDA at end. Latter broke fast and hugged the rail entire trip. Stalled off challenges from SAND BELL and ROYAL MYSTERY in early stages and drew away entering home stretch. RED BRIAR, slow to break and messed about, finished full of courage when he got clear on home stretch. He was gaining at every stride at end. BABOO raced on the outside of the leaders and was a forward contender to top of home stretch. He was eased up when he tired.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,500; the Beverwyck. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good, from stall gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:14. Off at 4.23. Winner, R. Two-dollar mutuels paid—LUCK PIECE, $11.10, $5.40, $4.10; NEALON KAY, $8.50, $6.60; STELVIO, $8.30.

LUCK PIECE, in close pursuit of the leaders until rounding the far turn where Day took him up on the outside, broke over to the rail after taking the lead at the furlong pole and hung on with great courage when put to a drive. NEALON KAY, outrun in early stages, gradually improved his position rounding the far turn and closed in resolute fashion. He was wearing the winner down and would have beaten him in another stride. STELVIO closed a big gap after being shuffled back at first. He was going the strongest at end. REDCLIFFE and GUILFORD raced each other into submission making the pace. SPANFLOW began very slowly.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good, from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:30. Off at once. Winner, Mrs. W. FOUNDATION STONE slipped through on inside in run to first turn; forced a fast pace and raced STACCATO into submission first six furlongs; weakened last furlong and had to be hard ridden to stall off SHAN TUNG. Latter worked his passage up on outside and went wide at the turns. He closed in resolute fashion and was gradually wearing the winner down. VOWED VENGEANCE, a forward contender all the way, weakened after making his effort at top of home stretch. FAIRDALE quit under a drive.

FOUR HORSES HURT AS VAN UPSETS

Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 17. A message received here said that a van in which four of George D. Widener's horses were being transported from Philadelphia to New York this morning was upset on the way. Finite was the most seriously injured of the lot. Condescend and Red Flare, 3-year-olds, and a 2-year-old filly suffered minor injuries.

Walter M. Jeffords' David, 3-year-old chestnut son of Man o' War—Christmas Star, who is being pointed for the $10,000 Chesapeake, a mile and one-sixteenth race, on April 25, showed a corking three-quarters move this morning in 1:14. He is also an eligible for the Kentucky Derby.

The Nevada Stock Farm's Siskin, candidate for the Chesapeake, Preakness and Derby, went a half in 0:48. The bay son of Epinard—Ruddy Light will very likely be seen under silks in a few days.

Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Beau, favorite for tomorrow's $10,000 feature, received his final prep this morning. He went a handy three-eighths in 0:38.

William Zeigler, jr.'s Preakness and Kentucky Derby candidate Leavante, went three-eighths in 0:35 2-5.

The Greentree Stable's Anchors Aweigh, candidate for the big 3-year-old stakes this spring, including the one on the closing day of this meeting, showed a five-eighths move this morning in 1:06.

H. Guy Bedwell, who operates the Yarrow Brae farm at Savage, will split his stable into two divisions at the conclusion of spring racing in this State. He will take one division to the summer's racing in Canada, the other to Cleveland.

Bedwell was operated upon the past winter in New Orleans, but is able to be back superintending the training of his big string. He is mighty high on Red Briar, chestnut son of Thunderstorm—Briar Path that he bred himself. Red Briar ran today. It was his first start of the year.

R. Robertson, father of Jockey A. Robertson has Domineer, Corposant and Morning Beams in training at Hagerstown for the spring meeting, beginning May 12.

Jockeys F. C. Smith and J. Sero today were suspended for five days by the stewards, the order reading that it was because of rough riding in yesterday's seventh race.

$3,000 Handicap Today Opens Kentucky Season

Lexington, Ky., April 17 (A.P.).—The 1931 Kentucky racing season will open here tomorrow with a card of eight races, topped in interest by the Ben Ali Handicap. Thirteen entries have been made for this race, a $3,000 added stake race for 3-year-olds and upward. Cayuga, Angry, Thistle Ann and Tannery are among the favorites.

Kentucky Derby eligibles are expected to run in races here next Monday and Wednesday, the only one entered for tomorrow being Martha Jones, a filly, one of the favorites in the seventh race. There was a threat of rain today that might make a muddy track for the formal opening.

The meet here will last ten days with seven races daily each on days when stake races are added to make a card of eight. After the close of the meet here turfmen will transfer their activities to Churchill Downs, where the spring race meet opens May 2, followed by the Latonia meeting starting June 27 and ending August 1.

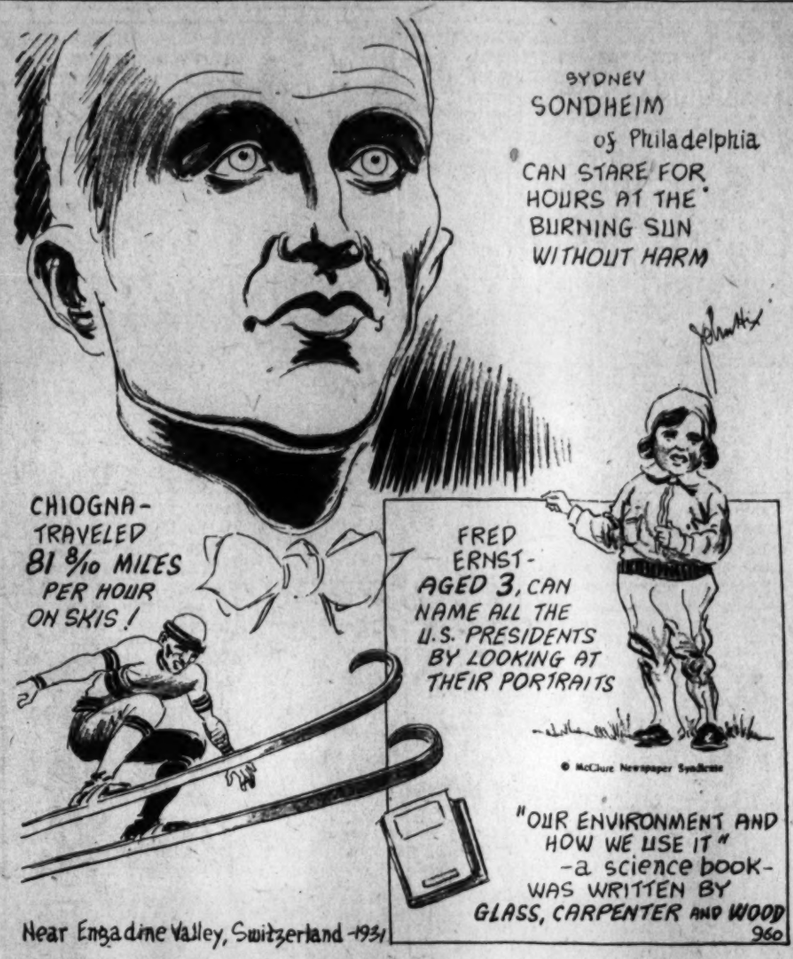
STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix



SIDNEY SONDHEIM says that, contrary to popular belief, sunlight is good for the eyes—not dangerous. For proof of his statements Sondheim furnishes himself as an example, for he practices what he preaches. He can not only stare steadily at the glaring sun for hours, but at any minute can turn aside and instantly read fine print. When he first started defying old Sol, says Sondheim, the strong light blinded him as it does any one else, but this was only temporary. With a little practice he became able to look the sun in the face for any length of time and, instead of hurting his eyes, found that it made them feel better.

Toboggans at St. Moritz reach a speed of 90 miles per hour, but they are loaded with several passengers. Probably no living man has, unassisted, traveled faster on earth than Switzerland's ski champion, Chiogna. The crack skiman, using special skis, shot down the side of a steep Swiss peak faster than any man on skis had ever traveled before and his speed was clocked by five electric control stations.

Any reader wanting further proof of anything depicted here should address the author, care of The Washington Post, and inclose a stamped and self-addressed envelope for reply.

Sun Beau Selected to Win Despite 129-Pound Impost

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

HAVRE DE GRACE RACE TRACK, April 17.—The Philadelphia Handicap, $10,000 added, second of the four major stakes at Havre de Grace, will be run for the nineteenth year tomorrow as the fifth race, at a mile and a sixteenth, and the large crowd expected again to witness its decision will see W. S. Kilmer's SUN BEAU, which electrified a throng Wednesday in winning an overnight race, in action in this renewal.

SUN BEAU will be odds-on favorite. He ran near track-record time in his outing the other day, and while picking up a penalty of three pounds, for that victory, making his weight in this 129, top impost, this additional burden will not be really any burden to the leading handicap horse of the country. Kurtsinger, who rode him so admirably Wednesday, will again have the mount. Handicappers estimate his probable odds at 3 to 5. He ran a mile and 70 yards in 1:42 3-5.

SPINACH should be the contender on class. This Zeigler horse has ten pounds advantage in weight on the favorite, has made one start this year, running in the Harford, Wednesday, a sprint, and closed fast. He since has worked well. BERBER has been training well, is lightly weighted, and may get the show money, with ROCKET GLARE seeming best for fourth money.

FIRST RACE—William Zeigler's LEVANTE should graduate from the maiden division in first race. He is expected to start in the Derby or Preakness. He has been working well and has had conditioning races. TANCRED, a fast colt, should be the contender. FOLLOW ON should cut a figure in the race.

SECOND RACE — CROYDEN was shut out of a race yesterday, as he was on the also eligible list. He will be in the second race and should win. SPECTACULAR is dangerous. CROYDEN'S last races were in Florida, where he won two and was in the money twice. SPECTACULAR ran well here, beaten only by Era GREY GULL can do better than her last race. She was pocketed.

THIRD RACE—Two-year-olds start in the third race, the Tip Top purse. C. V. Whitney's CLOTHO, by St. Germaine, is said to be one of his best juveniles and is selected to win. The Greentree Stable has a colt, JOB BROOM, by Whiskbroom, also highly regarded. Neither ever started, but both are expected to show good performances in this event. DOCTOR HAPPY, which has good winter form, will improve over his recent race here. There are other good ones in the large field.

FOURTH RACE — THE HEATHEN should win the Eclipse Handicap, fourth race, on his performance in the Harford. He kept up with his running mate, Balko, until the latter was safe. He has top weight of 122 pounds and should lead all the way. SUN MEMORY is rated the contender with HOT TODDY. The last named horse holds a track record at Belmont Park, but this is his first start of the year.

SIXTH RACE — MORSNUFF will have TONY JOE to beat in the sixth race. MORSNUFF won two races at Bowie, each by six lengths, and is a front runner. TONY JOE will have to improve to match his speed, but his recent form is good. BILLY COOK was second to Kiang at the United Hunts, and shipped back here with the expectation of winning this event.

SEVENTH RACE—CLEAR SKY is selected to beat the iron horse, NEGODALE, which has won his last six races in Maryland without losing one, but the distance may be too great for the son of Negofol. It is a mile and a quarter. It will be a good race to watch, for the horse that beats NEGODALE in his present form will have some distinction. WORKLESS should go the route and is on edge.

Boots and Saddle's

HAVRE DE GRACE SELECTIONS.

1—Levante, Tancred, Follow On.

3—Clotho, Jobboom, Doctor Happy.

5—Sun Beau, Spinach, Berber.

6—Morsnuff, Tony Joe, Billy Cock.

Best—Sun Beau.

CENTRAL WINS SERIES OPENER

Tech Tossers Bow by 9-4 Count

Nau's Triple, 3 on Accounts for Bulk of Tech Runs.

By BOB CONSIDINE.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL'S baseball team accomplished the two-fold mission of aiding the opening of the high school series yesterday and turning in a 9-4 victory over Tech, the first time since 1926 that the school has come out of a ball game against its perennial rival on the fatter end of the pointage. The game was featured by several other "firsts," chief of which were: It was the first time in recent years that the Eastern diamond has been used for the series, and for the first time in even less recent years the opener was marked by consistently brisk and intelligent play.

Emmett Buscher, a young and loose mountain of a boy, who switched his affiliation from Tech to Central this year, burned them by his former colleagues in a splendid exhibition of control and thumping speed. His one weakness came in the eighth, when Tech scored three runs in a dying effort to even matters.

Nau's Triple Scores Three Mates.

Weltzman foreshadowed this Tech rally by singling briskly to center on the first pitched ball of the eighth. English sent him another notch along the circuit with a clean single to right. Wills was out on a long fly to Mulitz, but Chumbris filled the bases with a scratch hit just over Buscher's head. Into this situation stepped "Snitz" Nau, playing his first high school series game, and his contribution to the occasion was a triple to right center which purged the bases of colleagues. Benner popped to Buscher to end the uprising, a revolt which failed to overthrow the king.

Central was out to win from the start. Batson was nicked for four hits in the first inning, and a brace of walks, which combined to send four Centralites scurrying across the plate. He promised to tighten in the second, after striking out White and Heflin, but he walked Miller, Cook gained first on a safe fielder's choice, and Thompson came through with a home run far over Wills' head in center.

For the next four innings, Batson made a silent picture of the Central bats, but while he and his team improved notably on the defensive, in the vital department of batting it could do nothing against the hurling of Buscher, who, with the exception of the eighth inning uprising, never weakened.

Russell Effective in Relief Role.

Batson retired in favor of Russell with three men on and one out in the eighth. If what Russell accomplished thereafter is a true criterian he would have won the game, 4 to 0, if permitted to pitch the full nine innings. Russell fanned Mulitz and Raub, to retire the side, in six pitched balls, and when it came time to go on the mound in the ninth he used up ten throws to turn back Buscher, Miller and White. He had tremendous speed and a drop that performed something approximating a right angle.

Track and Lacrosse Tests For Maryland Teams Today

MARYLAND UNIVERSITY athletes today will seek to register their third successive lacrosse victory and their first triumph in track and field when they stage a double-header program at College Park. The track team swings into action first in a dual meet with Catholic University, starting at 2 o'clock. The lacrossemen will engage Western Maryland, beginning at 4 o'clock.

The track meet is the first event of its kind on the spring program of Capital colleges, and indications are that it will be closely contested. Catholic University has a stronger team than last year and nurses hopes of taking the decision from one of its warmest rivals. Maryland's track squad is below standard this season, having lost several consistent point scorers through graduation last June. Thus far the Old Line cinder-path artists have lost three meets, all contested on foreign grounds.

Catholic Stronger In Indoor Meet.

During the indoor season Catholic evidenced more strength than Maryland when they took part in the C. U. carnival at Brookland. Catholic easily captured the open events division of the meet. Lyons and McGuigan, sprinters; Farris, Garafalo and Ragusa, distance men, and Fraatz, all-around performer, are expected to carry the burden for the Brookland squad today.

Maryland's strength is distributed mainly among Jesse Krajcovic, field events star; Phil Cooper and Ralph Shure, distance runners, and Bob Havell and Paul Kiernan, sprinters.

Coach Jack Faber, of the lacrosse team, finds a dark outlook for his team but expects to win from Western Maryland. The College Park twelve has lost two of its best players, Skippy Faber and Jack Norris, through injuries. Young Faber was the regular in home while Norris held down third defense.

Game May Decide Future Line-ups.

Today's game may tell just what players will figure in the battles that follow with Syracuse, Penn State, St. John's, Johns Hopkins and Navy, six of the strongest teams in the country, on successive Saturdays beginning next week.

Coach Faber is well settled about his attack but is still very much in doubt as to his defensive array. If the opportunity presents itself, he will do considerable substituting today.

The Old Liners probably will start as follows:

Invernezzi, goal; Deckman, point; Cole or Mitchell, cover point; May, first defense; Loughran, second defense; Williams or Nicholson, third defense; Pugh, center; Hockensmith, third attack; Lee, second attack; Colosimo, first attack; Ronkin, out home, and Stieber, in home.

It would cost $2,250 to send postcards to all the readers that can be reached any morning by Post Classified Ads.

N. Y. U. ROUTS HILLTOP NET TEAM, 6-1

Mangin Alone Scores for G. U.; Mitchell Beaten, 6-4, 6-3.

Special to The Washington Post.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 17.—Despite the presence of Gregory Mangin, sixth ranking tennis player in the country, in the Georgetown line-up, New York University's tennis team defeated the Hoyas, 8 to 1, here today, in the Washingtonian's first match of the season.

Mangin turned in Georgetown's sole victory, defeating Capt. Walter Swaybill, of the Violet, in two hard-fought sets, 6—4, 6—2. Mangin demonstrated his superiority after a hard-fought first set by his uncanny use of "drop" shots which just cleared the net. The Hoyas captain's ground strokes were working very well, while his overhead was unusually severe.

The second feature engagement of the match was the meeting between Dooly Mitchell, of Georgetown, Maryland State doubles champion, and Stanley Harte, in which the Violet star upset Mitchell 6—4, 6—3.

G. U. Doubles Pair Beaten in Upset.

Still another upset occurred as Swaybill and Harte, of the Violet, paired to capture the number one doubles match from Mangin and Mitchell, 6—4, 6—4. This was the hardest fought match of them all and the New York pair took the lead in each set.

Only one of the matches went to a rubber set, Kenneth Underwood, of New York U, defeating Lester Burdett, 6—3, 7—9, 6—2.

SINGLES—Gregory Mangin (Georgetown), defeated Walter Swaybill, 6—2, 6—2; Stanley Harte (N. Y. U.), defeated Dooley Mitchell, 6—4, 6—3; Sidney Berger (N. Y. U.), defeated Walter Berwind, 6—4, 6—3; Sidney Seligson (N. Y. U.), defeated Fred Doyle, 6—3, 6—3; Mitchell Rosenbaum (N. Y. U.), defeated Jack McBride, 6—2, 6—4; Kenneth Underwood (N. Y. U.), defeated Lester Burdett, 6—3, 7—9, 6—2.

DOUBLES—Swaybill and Harte (N. Y. U.), defeated Mangin and Mitchell, 6—4, 6—4; Seligson and Leo Bottari (N. Y. U.), defeated Doyle and Frederich, 6—2, 7—5; Berger and Underwood (N. Y. U.), defeated Bert Ferguson and Burdett, 6—2, 6—1.

Hyattsville High Beats Laurel in County Play

Laurel, Md., April 17.—Hyattsville High School opened defense of its Prince Georges County baseball championship by drubbing Laurel High, 16 to 3, here this afternoon. It was the opening game in the title series for both teams.

Hyattsville hopped to the lead in the third inning when it scored four runs and steadily added to its advantage. Laurel scored two runs in the sixth and its other in the ninth.

NAVY'S CREW TODAY ROWS COLUMBIA

Middies Seek First Victory Since 1920 on Harlem River.

NEW YORK, April 17 (A.P.).—It will be father against son on the Harlem River tomorrow when Richard J. Glendon sends out his Columbia varsity eight to row 1½ miles against the Naval Academy crew, coached by his father, Richard A. (Old Dick) Glendon.

It will be the fourteenth dual contest between the two crews in a rivalry stretching back to 1899. The victory count stands 7 to 6 in favor of the Navy. Columbia, however, has won the last two encounters, the 1929 and 1930 races, and has won five of the last six, the last Navy victory being marked up in 1920 at Annapolis.

Navy on Scene for Practice Rows.

Glendon, the elder, brought his dark-blue sweep swingers into town last night and had them out for two practice rows today over the Harlem course. The Columbia varsity also was out dodging driftwood on the racing course.

The varsity contest will start at 6 p. m., after two intercrew contests among the Columbia second and third varsities and the freshman and lightweight boats. The race will be rowed downstream from the end of the Speedway to near the Polo Grounds.

Buses will carry spectators down the Speedway.

PIN LEAGUE REELECTS ROBERTS

Old Dominion League Plans Erection of Gymnasium.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 17—Dr. N. J. Roberts was reelected as president of the Old Dominion Boat Club bowling league last night after the annual banquet. Jack S. Howard was again selected for vice president and John W. Brookfield jr., was renamed as treasurer of the league.

Over 40 members of the bowling league attended the third annual banquet, which was an elaborate affair. J. Earle Ross presided as toastmaster and his witticisms brought rounds of applause.

Dr. N. J. Roberts, president of the league, made a short talk and congratulated the boys on the excellent showing in the league. Cash prizes were awarded to the following by Dr. Roberts for their efforts on the woodways: William Wimstead, high average, $5 and high set, $5; Jack Howard, high game $5; Gigs, high game and high set, $12 to be divided among players; John W. Brookfield, $5, for high flat game. The championship Sculls team was awarded $5 per man. Those receiving the cash prize were Bill Wimstead, captain; Lindsey Schwarzman, John W. Brookfield, Ike Fones, Benny Minor, Dr. N. J. Roberts and Lionel Beeton.

It was announced that the Boat Club is laying plans for the building of a gymnastum and entering into all divisions of sports. A membership drive is also planned by the club. Others who spoke were Jack Tulloch, Brooke Howard, Jack S. Howard, Dallas Wiley, Russ Nicholson, C. M. Shepperson, jr.; Speed Lambert, Cottony Jamieson, Stan Dreifus, Jack Sampson, Lindsey Schwarzman, Peter Yates and Louis Hoy.

The following players have been signed: Charles Stump, Fletcher Baber, Cliff, Zimmerman, Humphreys, Godfrey, Mumford Boran, Carvey, Newton, Pullman, Lucas Carr, Nugent Genser and John Travers. A captain and manager will be elected at the session.

The Xaverin Brothers School Baseball Team is to hold daily drills on the R. F. & P. diamonds. Over 40 players are seeking regular berths. The schedule for the club will be announced soon.

Billy Schwartz, Alexandria star bowler, copped the All-Star sweepstakes at the Health Center Alleys. Schwartz rolled 1,744 for fifteen games. He is considered one of the best bowlers in this sector.

Tonight Alexandria will be pitted against Arthur Logan, manager of the King Pin Alleys, in Washington, in a special five-game match. The match will be rolled on the Health Center Alleys and will begin at 8 o'clock.

Remington Bows, 9-4, To Warrenton High

Special to The Washington Post.

Warrenton, Va., April 17.—Warrenton High took a six-inning game from Remington High this afternoon on the former's grounds, 9 to 4, making two wins and no losses for the Warrentonans in the Fauquier County High School League. Bealeton having been their victim last week. Rain caused the game to be called in the sixth.

B. Gould Thorpe and Childs pitched for Warrenton, while Carey and Huffman were the visitors' twirlers. Both teams collected six hits, George Grayson, Washington rookie pitcher and former Warrenton High pitching ace, here on a day's leave, umpired the game. John Souders got the only extra base hit of the game, a long double in the fourth.

Pinchot Vetoes Bill For 15-Round Fights

Harrisburg, Pa., April 17 (A.P.).—Gov. Pinchot today vetoed the bill of Representative Nathaniel E. Jaffe, Philadelphia, providing for fifteen-round professional championship boxing bouts in Pennsylvania instead of the ten-round limit now permitted.

"In my judgment," Gov. Pinchot said in his veto announcement, "ten rounds are sufficient to establish superiority in any boxing match. Tunney won the championship of the world from Dempsey in Philadelphia in a ten-round bout. A number of championships in the lighter classes have been decided under our existing law. Moreover, boxing matches prolonged to fifteen rounds may, and often do, result in beating men up to the point of brutality."

BUNT IN 10TH GIVES W. & L. VICTORY

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 17.—Mattox's sacrifice bunt, scoring Routon from third this afternoon, gave Washington and Lee a 6-to-5 victory over William and Mary in an exciting ten-inning struggle. Routon opened up the last inning with a bouncing single to right, which Broderick allowed to get away from him and the Generals' shortstop went around to third.

Except for one or two bad spells, the game resolved into a struggle between two of the finest hurlers in the Old Dominion. Jarrett pitched a headier, steadier game, and worked himself out of holes with graceful ability.

Mattox slammed a long circuit wallop to center in the first frame to score Routon, who had reached first on Engleburt's bobble. A walk, a bounce hit off Burke's glove, and Williams' throw into the stands gave William and Mary two runs in the fifth.

The sixth frame contained the scoring, as both teams came through with three runs. Demerest singled to left, Engleburt walked and Scott drove a homer far to center to score the base runners. In the Generals' half of the inning two were out and Mattox was on second on a base on balls and Williams' sacrifice. Fitzgerald, E. Richardson, J. Richardson and Burke singled in succession to tie the score.

Maryland U. Netmen Defeat American U.

Maryland University Tennis Team handed the court aggregation of American University a 5-4 defeat yesterday at College Park in a match which opened the net season of both teams.

Maryland's two 6 feet 3 netmen, Goubeau and Roberts, turned in decisive wins in their singles matches, Goubeau taking Collison over the jumps at 6—0, 6—0, while Roberts was trimming Fuchs, 6—0, 6—4.

Leading 5 matches to 3, Maryland conceded the final engagement of the day, a doubles encounter. In that final match Collson and Williams, of American, had won the first set, 6—0, from Wilkie and Spencer and the score was tied at 7-7 in the second.

A SAFE PLACE TO BUY USED CARS

The low prices now in good used cars are astounding. There are many big reasons, too numerous to mention, why owners are forced to sell their cars for cash.
Cutting down expenses, meeting unusual obligations, or the so-called depression, has been the cause of thousands of purchasers getting unbelievable bargains.
I am constantly buying used cars for cash, and the low prices I offer in resale are astonishing. It is well worth your while to look over my list and get my prices.

NEWS OF LATEST HAPPENINGS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

SMOKE-SCREEN USE HELD TO BE FELONY

Prince Georges Grand Jury Indicts Three on Assault Charge.

One of the most momentous actions of the present Prince Georges County grand jury was taken yesterday when the body returned indictments charging three men with assault with intent to kill for using a smoke screen. The law provides a maximum fine of $50 for this offense, but the indictments set a precedent by making it a felony.

The three men indicted are John Thomas, Julian Foster and Arthur Morton, all colored. Thomas and Foster were captured several weeks ago, and Thomas was fined nearly $600 at that time for six offenses, as well as being held for action of the grand jury for the smoke screen. Morton was ordered held several months ago, but escaped from the Bladensburg jail, where he was being held. He was later recaptured.

If the three are sentenced, it will mean that all "smoking" on the roads will be rendered extremely hazardous, as the assault charge can be placed in future cases. Police and judges are determined to stamp out the practice, holding it to be dangerous to every car on the road.

E. A. Cole, of K street near North Capitol street, was fined $150 for driving while drunk, $25 for reckless driving and $10 for having no license when he appeared in Police Court in Marlboro yesterday. He was committed in default of fine.

Driving while drunk caused several others to be sentenced, including George Butler, of Marlboro; John S. Tipton and Joseph W. Boswell, of Third street near F street northwest. Each of these paid $100 on the driving while drunk charge and $1 for reckless driving. Butler and Tipton were committed to jail in default of their fines. State Policeman W. A. Rogers arrested the men.

Jessie P. Dove was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 for assault and battery on his wife, Olive B. Dove. He runs an automobile sales agency near Camp Springs and testified that she broke the windows out of several show cars with a hatchet. She claimed that he threw her through a wall of plasterboard.

Thomas Brooks, of Aquasco, was fined $5 on each of three assault and battery charges made against him by two boys. Albert Wilkerson accused him of two assaults, and Winfred, Albert's brother, accused him of another.

A number of persons chose to forfeit their collateral rather than face the court. They were James C. Proctor, of Ainger place near Pearsons place southeast, $5 for reckless driving; Mrs. Fred Lautsch, of Sixteenth street near D street, $2 for having no license; Grafton Brown, of Fifteenth street near T street northwest, $10 for reckless driving; Cecil C. Hays, of Twenty-second street near Jackson street northeast, $10 for reckless driving; Luther Butler, of Defries street near North Capitol street, $10 for reckless driving, and Henry L. Reid, of Wallach street near Thirteenth street northwest, $10 for reckless driving.

Claude L. Miller, of Limekiln, Md., was committeed in default of a fine of $5 imposed for reckless driving. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Frank Prince and pleaded guilty.

George P. McCeney, an attorney, of Laurel, became ill yesterday as he was trying a case before the circuit court in Marlboro. He was treated at the courthouse and later allowed to go home. His ailment was diagnosed as angina pectoris.

Mr. McGeney had just finished cross-examining the first witness in the suit brought by Grace Miles, of Laurel, against Ward Brothers, of the same town. He asked for an indefinite continuance of the case before he collapsed.

The building code for Prince Georges County, authorized by the last Legislature, will probably be drafted by July 1, according to Irving C. Root, chief engineer of the Park and Planning Commission.

The code is being drawn up after a careful study of building regulations in force in various towns in the metropolitan area so that there shall be no conflict with them. The building inspector which the commission is authorized to appoint is not intended to supersede the town building inspectors in these communities.

The county code will be based on that in force in the District, but will be much simpler, according to Mr. Root, as there will be no provisions limiting the height of buildings.

Some of the features of the town codes will probably be embodied in the county regulations, and where the town rules are more stringent than the others, the town rules will be enforced. In this way the towns will have final word as to rules under which buildings will be constructed.

Rum Truck Seized Near Reformatory

Baltimore, Md., April 17 (A.P.).—On the grounds of the Maryland House of Correction at Jessups, near here, prohibition agents seized a large still and quantity of supplies and arrested a truck driver leaving the scene last night.

Another man on the truck escaped. The agents said the truck bore 210 gallons of whisky. The still of 1,500 gallons capacity, was in operation when the agents arrived, they said.

Later the same squad raided a home at Elkridge and seized 457 gallons of alleged whisky found in a garage. Yesterday the agents seized in Baltimore liquor valued at $100,000 or more retail.

Tulip Exhibit Visitors Awaited at Lynchburg

Between 60,000 and 80,000 Dutch tulip bulbs will be in full bloom in the Old-Fashioned Garden in Miller Park, Lynchburg, Va., during the next two weeks. They represent 71 choice varieties, each kind planted in squares and properly named and identified.

George H. Reed, superintendent of the park forestry department, declares that beginning Tuesday these tulips will be viewed by thousands of visitors.

MONTGOMERY COURT NAMES CLERK TODAY

Speculation on Identity of Selection Follows Long Conference.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4206.

Speculation as to identity of the new clerk of the Circuit Court for Montgomery County, selected last night by the three judges of the Sixth Judicial Circuit, was rife in Rockville and the county last night. The judges refused to make known the name of the new clerk until the formla court order is fide today.

Clayton K. Watkins, chief deputy clerk, appeared the favorite among betting men, although the possibility of appointment of Mrs. Preston B. Ray to succeed her husband was conceded. Mortimer O. Stabler, defeated by Mr. Ray in the last election, also was a possibility, inasmuch as two of the three judges are Republicans.

It was considered hardly likely, however, that the judges would disregard the wishse of the electorate, who had elected a Democrat, in the selection of the new clerk.

The three judges, Chief Judge Hammond Urner and Associate Judges Robert B. Peter and Arthur D. Willard, retired to the chambers of Judge Peter immediately after return from the funeral of Preston B. Ray, who had been clerk for sixteen years. They conferred nearly two hours, and when they finally emerged told newspapermen that no announcement would be made until the formal court order is filed today.

Mr. Watkins has been associated with Mr. Ray in the clerk's office for many years and is conceded to have a more intimate knowledge of conduct of the office than any other man in the county. He is well liked and because of the high regard in which he was held by Mr. Ray, it is considered probable that he was chosen by the judges although their refusal to make known their decision was mystifying to residents who were awaiting the outcome of the deliberations. Because of illness of Mr. Ray, Mr. Watkins has had most of the office work in the past year or so.

Mrs. Ray at one time was associated with her husband in his office and is said to be quite capable and the possibility of her appointment was considered good.

Funeral services for Mr. Ray were held yesterday at the residence in Rockville. Burial was in Glenwood Cemetery, Washington. Nearly 400 persons attended the services at the house, representing most of Montgomery County's official and social life. Gov. Albert C. Ritchie was unable to attend because of necessity for signing bills passed by the last legislature.

Honorary pallbearers were the three judges of the Circuit Court; Maj. E. Brooke Lee, State Senator Robert G. Hilton, Lacy Shaw, president of the Montgomery County Commissioners; Dr. Benjamin C. Perry, former president of the board of commissioners; Dr. William T. Pratt, county health officer; Arthur Peter and Andrew J. "Cy" Cummings.

Active pallbearers were Berry E. Clark, clerk to the county commissioners; Alton Bell, clerk in the office of the county commissioners; Clayton K. Watkins, chief deputy clerk of the circuit court; Richard L. Waters, Charles W. Ray, John Ray, Frederick Ray and Enos C. Keyes, the latter five being first cousins to Mr. Ray.

The Rev. Millard F. Minnick, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Rockville, conducted the services, assisted by the Rev. Clifton J. Ray, pastor of the Greene Memorial Methodist Church, Roanoke, Va., a cousin of Mr. Ray.

William T. Griffith, 75 years old, retired farmer of Beallsville, Md., died yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. Charles T. Pyles, at Hancock, Md. He had been a resident of Montgomery County since his birth.

Mr. Griffith is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Griffith; a son, C. Dade Griffith, both of Beallsville, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles T. Pyles, of Hancock, Md. He was a farmer and cattle raiser until his retirement several years ago because of ill health.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at Poolesville Methodist Episcopal Church South. Burial will be in Monocacy Cemetery, Beallsville.

Safe driver's certificates and badges were awarded fifteen county school bus drivers yesterday at the office of the Montgomery County Board of Education by representatives of the insurance company which carries the bus insurance protection. Those receiving awards had been in the service of the county for at least a year without having had an accident.

Those receiving medals were: Wilmer Roach, G. W. Nairn, J. J. Snyder, J. W. Barnsley, Mrs. Margaret E. Day, James E. Thompson, Campbell Myers, Hugh Poole, Henry Lindig, J. Spencer Fisher, Gorman Butler, Samuel Mobley, Raymond Fisher, Francis Fraley and William Ricketts.

Former Officer Held On Liquor Law Charge

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., April 17.—L. M. Guthridge, former Winchester, Va., policeman, is being held in Jefferson County Jail for arraignment before a United States commissioner here on a charge of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. When arrested in Charles Town yesterday on a liquor violation charge, officers said he had liquor in the car he was driving.

Courthouse Is Hit By $1,000 Blaze

Campbell County Building Suffers; Prosecutor Is Heavy Loser.

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., April 17.—Fire this morning about 3:30 o'clock manaced the courthouse of Campbell County, at Rustburg, but effective work by a bucket brigade of 100 men held it in check until a fire truck from here made the twelve mile run in 15 minutes. Chemical and hand pumps of water then extinguished the blaze. The fire started in the office of R. A. Russell, commonwealth's attorney, and burned around the porch. The courtroom was not involved and court was held as usual today by Judge Don P. Halsey.

Damage to the courthouse will not exceed $1,000 but Mr. Russell's loss was several thousand dollars, which included records which can not be replaced. Records of the clerk's office are kept in another building somewhat removed from the courthouse.

Martinsburg Host At School Meeting

200 West Virginia Principals Gathered From All Parts of State.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., April 17.—Nearly 200 high school principals, from all points in the State, were here today for the opening meeting of the two-day annual session of West Virginia Association of secondary schools.

President Frank E. Arnett, Elkins, was in charge of the opening sessions. L. W. Burns, this city, superintendent of schools here and also president of the West Virginia Education Association, extended official welcome.

Emphasis upon the benefits of college work, even though the student may not be able to pursue the work through to a degree, was given by Dean Earl Huddleston, College of Education, West Virginia University. William Cassius Cook, State superintendent of schools, of Charleston, gave on address on the "Ultimate Service of Education in the Life of a State."

This evening the educators had a banquet and later resumed their discussions. The business session will be tomorrow morning.

Front Royal Man Dies at Age of 67

Masons to Conduct Funeral Services for Dentist Today.

Special to The Washington Post.

Front Royal, Va., April 17.—Dr. Arthur Lee Jones, prominent dentist, died last night following several weeks' illness of heart trouble. He was 67 years of age and was born in Loudoun County, Va., a son of the late John Jones. He had been a resident of this place more than 40 years.

He is survived by one daughter and two sons, Miss Adelle, Francis and Arthur Jones, all of Front Royal; one brother, John Jones, of Springfield, Ohio; three sisters, Miss Lucy Jones, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Wyncoop, of Leesburg, and Mrs. Demory, of Fairfax.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon from the home, conducted by the Rev. T. W. Taylor, pastor of the Episcopal Church. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, and Masons will have charge of the burial.

CONCERT WINDS UP VIRGINIA FESTIVAL

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 17.—Virginia's first State-wide Choral Festival came to a close this afternoon with a jubilee concert, held in McIntire Amphitheater at the University of Virginia.

The William and Mary College Glee Club, winners of the Virginia Federation of Music Club choral contest in 1929, sang three numbers, assisted by the William and Mary choir, and directed by Mrs. Ann Loughin and George M. Small. Under direction of Erich Rath, the Hollins College chorus, winners of the choral contests in 1928 and 1930, rendered Brahms' "Spring Night," and a "Clock Song."

A joint recital was given in Cabell Hall by Arthur Fickenscher, professor of music, and Harry Rogers Pratt, professor of music and dramatic art at the University of Virginia. The program included a quintet for piano and strings by Prof. Fickenscher, introducing his new invention for pure tone, the Polytone. Assisting in the ensemble were: Winston Wilkinson, violin; J. D. Nelowitz, violin; Piet van de Kamp, viola, and Richard Lorleberg, cello.

Mr. Pratt presented his recently completed mimo-drama, "The Miracle of Chartres," in three scenes. It was interpreted by the Virginia Players and associates, under direction of the composer, assisted by Miss Betty Booker, Mrs. Loren Hitchcock and Mrs. Arthur Fickenscher, sopranos; Mrs. William Hempstead, contralto; Dr. Frank Abbot, barytone; J. S. Constantine, organist; Hilton Rufty, pianist; the Morning Music Club of Charlottesville, and Miss Sue Bland Lovejoy, premiere danseuse, and twenty young ladies in a ballet of interpretative dancing.

A choral luncheon was given at 1 o'clock this afternoon by the University of Virginia, at which music was rendered by several college choruses. Addresses were delivered by Richard Crane, of Westover, president of the Virginia State Choral Festival Association, and a patron of the fine arts; Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, educational director of the Community Concert Service, and Dr. Acheson L. Hench.

"Beauty has nourished and sustained the University of Virginia through the generations," said President Edwin A. Alderman, in expressing pleasure that the music clubs had massed their first great effort for a finer organization of music in the life of their home State here at Jefferson's school.

Arthur Kyle Davis, jr., associate professor of English at the University, asked the aid of the two music organizations in session here in collecting Virginia folk music.

Singers from five institutions competed in the college choral contests this morning in Cabell Hall. The silver loving cup donated by the Royal Oak Club, of Marion, was presented by Miss Eleanor Buchanan to the winner, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton. Second place went to the club from the Harrisonburg State Teachers College. Other clubs competing were from the Teachers colleges at Farmville, Radford and Fredericksburg.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE VERNAL URGE.

GENTLE Spring has come once more,
The crocus through the earth comes peeping.
And through the office runs the snore

The office manager now dreams
Of matters not to work pertaining;
The office boy quite clearly seems
From any industry abstaining.

The big executives all strive
To act a little live and snappy,
But you can see they're half alive,
And when they're working aren't happy.

The boss, he aims to be most spry—
The joy of work he's loudly shouting;
But any one with half an eye

Department chieftains all proclaim
They feel aggressively ambitious,
But yearn to see a baseball game
And loudly boo some "ump" officious.

The cute stenographers—all ten—
Pretend to pound the keys, sans fretting,
But obviously they've got a yen
To neck and do some big-time peting.

* * * *

THE cashier rattles 'round the cage—
He's busy in a feeble fashion,
But finds it hard to be his age,
And scribbles poems of love and passion.

The bookkeeper (he's fifty-three)
Appears through ledgers big to ramble,
But to some park he'd like to flee
And with the lambkins try to gambol.

The janitor, all dirt and grime,
Attempts to look alert and busy,
But he's just working on a rime
Of love to read a girl named "Lizzie."

The elevator starter tries
To concentrate on what he's doing,
But there's a something in his eyes

The window cleaner on the sill
But he would leap o'er dale and hill,
Pursuing some fair Aphrodite.

And I sit in this busy whirl,
As though to cries of "Faster! Faster!"
But all I want's a lovely girl
To coo a lot and call me master!

GLOOMY PROSPECT.

SENATOR BORAH wants to make oil a public utility and let Congress control the price. How would you like to have to wait in front of a pumping station while the Senate agreed on the price of gasoline per gallon?

It is reported that the movie magnates have been trying to sign up General Pershing to appear in the pictures. But after seeing those Hollywood types, the fans would probably dismiss the general as not the type to be convincing in war pictures.

Add similes: As intelligent as a man who knows what to do with the coupon the conductor gives him when he buys a Pullman chair on the train.

RECEIVERS PROPOSE CERTIFICATE ISSUE

Master in Seaboard Case Favors $8,000,000 for Road Improvement.

Norfolk, Va., April 17 (A.P.).—James E. Heath, named special master in the matter by Federal Judge Luther B. Way, this afternoon filed recommendation in Federal Court here that L. R. Powell, jr., and Ethelbert Smith, receivers for the Seaboard Air Line Railway, be permitted to issue $8,000,000 in receivers certificates.

Pursuant to terms of the petition filed by the receivers several days ago, $4,000,000 of certificates are to be issued at once, awaiting, of course, Judge Way's approval of the recommendation by Mr. Heath.

The purpose of the issue, as explained at the hearing before Mr. Heath, is to raise funds needed immediately to make possible certain improvements in the railway company's facilities.

The remaining $4,000,000 in certificates will be issued as the receivers find necessary.

The certificates constitute a first lien against all the railway property with the exception of approximately $32,000,000. Interest is at 5 per cent. It is understood that Dillon-Read & Co. has contracted to buy the entire issue.

17 Liquor Charges Aired at Danville

Nine Held to Grand Jury, Three Waive Hearings and Five Dismissed.

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., April 17.—How the United States Government is said to have paid $5 a day to agents to aid undercover officers entice suspected liquor venders into violations of the law was revealed today by Fred Mullinax, of Kannapolis, N. C., who, with C. L. Calhoun, Federal prohibition inspector from West Virginia, appeared against seventeen men alleged to have sold liquor.

Hearings were before United States Commissioner C. T. Barksdale, who sent nine to the grand jury. Others waived preliminary hearings and five were dismissed, "pending further investigation." Just before the hearings began Mullinax and Mrs. Stella Anderson, who appear on warrants as Government witnesses, were arrested on State warrants charging cohabitation. They will be arraigned in police court Friday.

Mullinax, who in his testimony said he had a wife and two children at Kannapolis, said his salary was $5 a day. Mrs. Anderson was debarred from testifying on the theory that she was a paid informer.

BAND OF LOVE PLANS PARTY THIS EVENING

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST. P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va. Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The Band of Love, the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. L. H. Crowder, of the Southern Methodist Church at Langley, will give a poverty party this evening in the Masonic Hall at McLean. The invitations have been written in rhyme on scraps of paper and each guest is asked to dress as poorly as possible. A prize will be awarded for the poorest appearing costume.

The class has pledged $100 toward the building fund for a new Sunday school room. The committee in charge of this evening's party includes Louisa Arnold, Florence Grimes, Catherine Cunningham, Eloise Faidley and Merle Crowder.

The Women of the Social League at Burke will present a play entitled "How the Story Grew" this evening in the Community Hall at Burke Station. The music between the acts will be furnished by the Brown Family Orchestra. The cast of tonight's play will include Mrs. J. B. Davis, Mrs. S. Moon, Mrs. Teates, Mrs. J. Merchant, Mrs. E. Dove, Mrs. Merchant, Mrs. D. Kines, Mrs. White and Mrs. Rice. The members of the league have decided to hold a special meeting this month to join in the local better gardens project by improving and cleaning up the school grounds of the Burke School.

The Old Glory Council, Daughters of America, will present a large American flag to the Franklin-Sherman School at McLean tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A special program has been arranged by Ralph Thompson, chairman of the committee in charge of the presentation. The general public has been invited to attend the services. The members of the council will meet in the lodge rooms at McLean and go to the schoolhouse in a body.

The Kings Daughters Circle of Falls Church will hold a food sale today in Falls Church. The sale will be under the direction of a committee consisting of Mrs. Frank H. Eastman, Mrs. E. L. McNair, Mrs. W. G. Johnson and Mrs. Frank Thompson.

The first-aid team of the Annandale Boy Scouts, which is composed of Oliver Besley, Omer Hirst, William Adkins, John Webb, Deming Lewis, and Charles Besley, will go to Clarendon to compete with the Arlington County first-aid teams in an inter-troop contest this evening.

The Pioneer Grange will give a dance this evening in the Pioneer Grange Hall at Masonville, on the Falls Church-Annandale road.

The Great Falls Grange at Forestville will hold a dance this evening in the Grange Hall at Forestville for the benefit of the building fund. The dance will be under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Turner and Marvin Sanders. The dance that was to be held tonight at Colvin Run has been postponed so as not to conflict with the grange dance this evening.

The Fairfax Boy Scouts will hold their meeting this evening in the Fairfax town hall. The Rev. Royal A. Rice, the scout master, has issued a general invitation to the citizens of the town to attend the scout meeting and encourage the boys in their work. The scouts have been given permission to use the town hall as the headquarters for scout activities.

It has been announced that the Sunday services in St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Baileys Cross Roads will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening hereafter, instead of a morning service.

Soviets Building Dirigibles; Graf Visit Awakens Rivalry

Moscow, April 17 (A.P.).—The recent visit to Moscow of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin has helped to create a powerful movement here in favor of Soviet-made dirigibles.

On the initiative of the press, funds are being raised throughout the country to build several airships which will serve as the basis for a whole fleet of dirigibles.

More than 4,000,000 rubles have already been contributed and a small experimental dirigible of 2,500 cubic meters capacity is being built in Moscow. Another semirigid dirigible of a capacity of 7,000 cubic meters is being constructed in Leningrad.

The two dirigibles under construction will be completed this year, and the bigger airship is scheduled to be finished in the spring of 1932.

Special attention is being devoted to the idea of building all-metal dirigibles, suggested by the Russian air expert, Tsiolkovsky. Intensive laboratory work in this direction is being conducted under Tsiolkovsky's supervision. A flying model of an all-metal dirigible will be built this year.

Much attention is devoted also to explorations of helium resources, and to ascertaining the possibilities of the production of helium on an industrial scale.

It has been decided to start explorations for dirigible air lines, particularly in outlying regions. Reconnaissance work will be conducted primarily between Turukhansk, Yakutsk and Sekhalin and between Yakutsk, Bulum and Nijni-Kolymsk.
